

ANTI-TRUST BILLS BEING CONSIDERED

CONGRESS SETTLES DOWN TO LONG DRAWN OUT FIGHT.

INTRODUCE MEASURES

Following Suggestions of President—
Bryan Knew of Capan's Attitude as to California.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, Jan. 23.—Administration leaders in congress settled down today to deliberations in the tentative anti-trust measures designed to supplement the Sherman act in accordance with suggestions of President Wilson.

Measure prohibiting interlocking directorates, defining restraints of trade, included within the meaning of terms of the Sherman act and prohibiting "cartel" competition, were introduced in the house by Representative Clayton in the form agreed upon in conference.

Senator Newlands, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, planned to introduce them with the interstate trade commission bill in the senate as soon as the Alaskan railway bill was in the way.

In the trade relations measure no provision was made for the prohibition of holding companies, as suggested in President Wilson's message, but it was announced that the committee would further consider that phase of the trust regulation program and probably would add a section to the bill.

It was explained that the reason for omitting reference to that subject was because neither the president nor administration leaders had determined just how far the government should go.

Although Secretary Bryan knew in advance the substance of the address of Baron Makino, Japanese minister of foreign affairs, at the annual anti-alien land legislation negotiations, it was said today that the secretary did not know of that portion of the minister's address which dealt with Japan's relations with other powers and the Mexican situation.

Officials said it had not been expected that the government would be consulted as to those features and the fact that it had not been advised was without significance to the government, but it was said to attach any significance to the portion of the baron's address touching on the Mexican situation.

It was said the United States had been fully informed of the steps Japan was taking to protect her nationals there.

After a conference today with Commissioner General Cammiser, Secretary Wilson of the department of labor advised Speaker Clark that the problem of Asiatic immigration could be solved by congress raising the standard of admission so as to include in the list of excluded aliens those persons not able to pass the physical test required of recruits of the United States army.

Still working in the "legislative day" of Thursday, the senate again took up the Alaskan railway bill when it reassembled today with the expectation that the measure would be read and brought to a vote.

Supporters of the bill claimed an almost "democratic majority in its favor."

By executive order President Wilson today promulgated what is practically an anti-slipping law for the Panama canal zone. Aside from prohibiting employees of the canal organization from receiving rebate or commission on business before and after intended to influence any employee on the isthmus without the knowledge of the employer.

It is entitled "an order to prevent the corrupt influence of agents or servants" and provides a year's imprisonment and fines ranging from $10 to $100 for violations.

The order attracted much attention because of the fact that Col. Charles H. Davis, a well-known Panamanian, who has been charged with the murder of John Burke, commissary agent of the Panama railroad, received rebates on contracts.

FOUR ARMED BANDITS ROBBED TRAIN EARLY
TODAY NEAR JACKSON

Michigan Central Train of Sleepers
Looted in True Western Style.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 23.—Michigan Central passenger train No. 7, bound from Detroit to Chicago, was held up early this morning near Jackson by four armed highwaymen according to a report received here. The bandits boarded the train at Jackson and when a short distance from that place entered the Pullman car covering the passengers with pistols. Several persons stopped when someone pulled the bell cord signal. The bandits made their escape.

Losses Small.
Marshall Mich., Jan. 23.—When Michigan Central train No. 7, which was held up near Jackson early today, arrived here, the passengers took inventories and it was estimated that the bandits got $237. Two of the robbers who went without masks caused the conductor, brakemen and porters to stand with their hands in the air while the other pair went through the coaches and took the valuables of the sleeping passengers. All of the coaches except one were sleepers.

Handed Out Valuables.
The passengers were not compelled to leave their berths, the robbers reaching in and hauling out clothing and valuables. It is said there were several women on the train but none of them were overcome or frightened. The whole affair was worked so smoothly that the engine crew knew nothing of the hold up.

Although the robbers wore no masks, a very poor description of them was obtained.

State May Not Pay
RESERVE LAND TAX

Attorney General to Give Opinion Regarding Assessment on State Forest Reserve.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—Whether the state will be compelled to pay $15,619.05 as its local share on lands within the forestry reserve under a law passed at the last session of the legislature is a question Attorney General Owen is attempting to solve today. The legality of the payments has been questioned by the attorney general and an opinion has been asked of the attorney general. Mr. Owen said today that the question necessitated considerable study and an opinion would not be rendered for several days.

In a letter to Attorney General Owen, Secretary of State John S. Donald says that in view of the controversy concerning the state and the forestry problem, the legality of the act has been challenged. Under the provisions of the Stevens' law passed at the last session the state directed the state tax commission to value all the state forest lands in the counties of Vilas, Forest, Oneida, and Price. The tax commission found that these lands should pay $15,619.05 in local taxes due before Feb. 1. Of this amount over half would go to towns in Forest and Vilas counties.

HARRY DORROW MUST SERVE A LIFE TERM

Milwaukee Youth Convicted of Murdering Mrs. Emily Will, Gets Sentence Today.

Milwaukee, Jan. 23.—Harry Dorrow was today sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary by Municipal Judge A. C. Backus, after a new trial had been refused. Dorrow was convicted of murdering William Will, a sister of Lieut. William Maas of the police department on the night of Oct. 29, with a piece of lead pipe.

GIRL WINS SUIT FOR BREACH OF PROMISE

Milwaukee Court Awards Chicago Stenographer $1,475 Damages in Case Against Eder.

Milwaukee, Jan. 23.—Miss Sophia Robinson, Chicago stenographer, who sued Henry Eder of Milwaukee for $2,000 for alleged breach of promise, was today awarded $1,475 in Judge Cumming's branch of the circuit court.

FINDS FLOUR MILL MAKING
PROFIT OF $7,500 A YEAR
BY SHORT WEIGHT SYSTEM

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—Evidence of short weight in the sale of flour from mills found by Chief Inspector Fred P. Downing of weights and measures department on a trip to Northern Wisconsin the past week. In a flouring mill having a capacity of 600 bushels per day he discovered that the weight of flour was given at an estimated rate of three-fourths of a pound to one pound on every sack. By his directions the whole carload, which was nearly ready for shipment, was held up until the sacks were opened and the full weight given. It is estimated that this mill was able to save $7,500 a year through this method of filling the sacks.

COMMISSION PUTS VALUE ON STREET CAR SYSTEMS

Madison, Wis., Jan. 2.—The state tax commission has started the work of valuing the street car systems of the state. This investigation will not be completed before the latter part of March or early in April. Under the law compelling the commission to make the valuation, a portion of the tax collected must be distributed among towns or cities through which the roads operate.

Under the directions of the commission the ore fields of Wisconsin are also being valued, but no report is expected from the staff conducting the work until later in the year. The ore fields are principally in northern and southwestern Wisconsin.

SEEKING COURT LAW TO COMPEL WITNESS TO GIVE TESTIMONY

Commission Attorney To Petition Federal Court For Ruling To Require Testimony in Trial.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Edward W. Hines, special attorney for the interstate commerce commission, left here today for Washington to prepare a petition to the federal court that will establish one of the most important precedents ever put in effect to fix the powers of the commission to force answers from unwilling witnesses.

The commission's petition to Federal Judge Landis to compel F. V. Ellis, vice president of the Armour Refrigerator car line, to answer questions in the late hearing here, will be expected immediately action on it.

"Ruling on our petition will establish how far witnesses may go in refusing to testify," said Mr. Hines. This application is new. In a previous case Mr. Hines was allowed to testify, but the ground taken then was that the commission did not contemplate making a complaint, but merely was seeking information, which is an entirely different case.

"This is an entirely different case. There is no question that a complaint may be made on the basis of this hearing," Hines stated. The rebate question was involved in the inquiry into rates and icing charges of the refrigerator car lines.

"If these refrigerator cars are privately owned and are not common carriers," he said, "the commission will inquire into the rate of transportation to see if they are reasonable and to ascertain if through icing charges or otherwise rebates may not be accorded."

Of the Armour car line, vice president of the Armour car line, refused to answer questions regarding his company's private business asked by members of the interstate commerce commission in relations of the railroad with private car-lines and shippers.

Supreme Court Will HEAR DYNAMITE CASE

Decision Expected of Application to Have Federal Court Review Case of Convicted Dynamiters.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The initial move for a review by the supreme court of the conviction of officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers in the "dynamite conspiracy" case was taken today when the record of the proceedings in the lower federal court at Indianapolis and Chicago was forwarded to the court.

A decision may be announced within a week after the application is made formally to the court.

PENNSYLVANIA GROCERS ORGANIZE NEW SYSTEM TO ELIMINATE MIDDLEMAN

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 23.—Grocery men in selected counties of western Pennsylvania five counties in eastern Ohio and four in West Virginia are perfecting plans for a huge profit sharing organization today. With a capital of $100,000 and a buying capacity of $10,000,000 more than 600 of them have banded together for the purpose of eliminating the middlemen by sending their own expert buyers to deal directly with producers in the United States and abroad.

The association will be a reduction for the ultimate consumer of from 10 to 20 per cent on practically all articles carried by the retailers. The association planned to institute the new system about February 1.

RUSH FOR AUTO LICENSES
RESULT OF MILD WEATHER

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—Good weather and excellent roads have caused a rush for 1914 automobile licenses from all parts of Wisconsin, and the automobile division of the secretary of state's office continues to be swamped with applications. Letters with applications at the rate of 2,500 a day are being received and the shipments are being delayed. Over 11,000 of the 40,000-old motor vehicles in the state have been licensed since the first of January.

Many owners have written to ask whether they must not use their cars until they have received their new licenses. The law requires that the old license may be used until the application for the new tag has been received, irrespective of whether the license has been received by the applicant. The license cards are being made out rapidly.

TO EXTRACT NITROGEN FROM ATMOSPHERE FOR FERTILIZING SOILS

St. John's Newfoundland, Jan. 23.—The extraction of nitrogen from the atmosphere on a large scale for use as fertilizer is the purpose of a concession just granted by the colonial government for the employment of Grand Falls in Labrador. The plans call for the development of one million horse power from the falls to generate electricity.

READY TO CONSIDER BIDS ON NORTH CAPITOL WING

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—The capitol building commission will hold a meeting the week of Feb. 11 to consider bids for the structural work of the north wing. This announcement was made by Lewis E. Porter, secretary of the commission. He said that bids had already been asked for and as soon as awarded the work on the last wing would be pushed.

DECATUR MAN STABBED TO DEATH IN QUARREL;
MURDERER SURRENDERS

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 23.—After having been fatally stabbed by Fred Putnam last night, Louis Foster, staggered out into the back yard of his home and died. The body was discovered today. A family quarrel was the cause for the murder. Putnam gave himself up.

FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO MURDER PRINCE

Deranged Man Held at Berlin for Attempt on Life of Crown Prince Frederick William.

Berlin, Germany, Jan. 23.—An unsuccessful attempt to attack Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany was made this afternoon as he was entering from his automobile at his palace.

A man ran into the carriage way and reached the door of the motor car. The sentry on duty in front of the palace dashed forward and seized the would-be assailant of the prince and overpowered him. The man appeared to be suffering from mental derangement.

When taken to the police station the crown prince's assailant gave his name as Leopold Salomon and his age as 26. He declared confusedly that he was a brother of the crown prince and wished to ask him for assistance. Inquiry showed he was a tailor.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS SCORED BY HOLLWEG

Chancellor Upbraids Deputies Who Criticize Acquittal of Army Officers in Alsace Affair.

Berlin, Jan. 23.—The socialist deputies in the German imperial parliament were bitterly rebuked today by the imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, when they put questions to him in connection with the acquittal by court martial of the German army officers concerned in the recent incident between military and civilians at Zabern, Alsace.

The chancellor told the socialist representatives they were "underminers of the throne and preachers of republicanism." At the same time he praised the glories of the German army, "under whose protection Germany has become great and prosperous."

EXPECT A CRUCIAL BATTLE AT TORREON

General Villa Prepares to Push His Victorious Army into Southern States.

Chihuahua, Jan. 23.—Rebels and federalists today were concentrating their forces for a decisive battle at Torreón. The battle is expected to decide whether or not Gen. Villa can push on into the central and southern states with his victorious army from the north. Villa sent several more troops south today. He thus prepared to advance in the face of the bulk of his army to within half way to Torreón, without resistance.

TWO AUTO BANDITS ARE TAKEN IN RAID

Squad of New York Detectives Takes Active Steps to Break Up Gang of Thieves.

New York, Jan. 23.—Fifteen detectives disguised as mechanics started out in three autos early today expecting to round up members of a band of auto thieves suspected of operating here and in other cities, and with several machines valued at $100,000 in New York alone.

Two prisoners were taken. They described themselves as John Underwood, an adjuster for Pennsylvania Insurance company, with office here, and Charles Rudy, a chauffeur. Both were held on charges of grand larceny.

NATIONS WILL ERECT PERMANENT BUILDINGS FOR ART EXHIBITION

Rome, Jan. 23.—The success of the project for the erection of a home of an international world-center of art is now fully assured. The "art city," which will consist of permanent schools and art galleries, erected by the leading nations of the world, will be on the site of the art exhibition held at Rome three years ago. Both Italy and England have now completed their permanent structures, while Germany, Russia and Argentina Republic have just closed negotiations for theirs. The building which the United States erected at the time of the exhibition was later presented by the United States government to the city of Rome.

The building which the United States erected at the time of the exhibition was later presented by the United States government to the city of Rome. The building which the United States erected at the time of the exhibition was later presented by the United States government to the city of Rome.

SHIP'S CREW ARRESTED
FOR MUTINY ON SEAS

Liverpool, Jan. 23.—Mutiny broke out on board the steamship Devonian shortly after she left Liverpool for London yesterday, and she was compelled to put back to port, where nineteen of her crew were arrested. The outbreak was caused by trouble between the union and non-union seamen.

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES
FINDING FAVOR IN STATE

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—According to Secretary Robert A. Campbell the state board of public affairs has calls for aid in forming co-operative societies in such number that many must be started this winter.

Members of the staff are engaged for weeks ahead for consultations and speeches in communities where the organization of these associations are contemplated.

HEIR TO NAPOLÉONIC
THRONE BORN TODAY

Brussels, Belgium, Jan. 23.—An heir to Prince Napoleon, the official pretender to the imperial throne of France, was born here today.

Prince Victor Napoleon, who is in his 52nd year, was married in 1910 to Princess Clémentine of Belgium. A daughter was born on March 20, 1912.

SHIPPING SUFFERED DURING PAST YEAR

Most Disastrous Year in History of the Great Lakes Is Reported Made Today.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 23.—The year 1913 was the most disastrous in the history of the Great Lakes Protective Association, according to Secretary Geo. M. Marr of Cleveland, who submitted his annual report here today.

After November 1 there was every indication that the year would prove more profitable to the underwriters than 1912. But the terrific storms of November so changed the previous showing that it was necessary to make a special assessment of 50 per cent of the original contributions or premiums on all numbers.

Six of the eighteen vessels totally lost and eight of those damaged during the storms were owned by members of the association. The losses paid up to Jan. 10, the report estimated, amounted to $133,568, while losses reported but not yet adjusted were estimated at $154,804.

The association last year increased its line of insurance to 25 per cent of the total amount carried by the various vessels; 213 certificates were written on the 211 boats insured. On Jan. 1, 1913, the association assumed $1,234,383.

Two important recommendations, Mr. Marr says in the report, were made by the advisory committee of the association. These were that the insurance values on steel hulls for insurance purposes be reduced from $51 to $48.50, and that no further wooden tonnage be received into the association.

RAILROAD AT WAR OVER BOARD FENCE

State Commissioner To Settle Wrangle Over Railroad Fence Across County Highway.

Antigo, Wis., Jan. 23.—An early decision on the controversy between the Northwestern railroad and the Antigo township, Elcho, Langlade county is expected following the report here early this week by Commissioner Halowe of the railroad commission who investigated conditions and the conflicting parties.

Last summer the town built a new road. It crosses the North-western road at a point between Elcho and Summit distasteful to the corporation and section men built a fence across the road. District Attorney Le Selie was appealed to for advice and he advocated the cutting down of the fence. Neither the town chairman nor the county road commissioner would throw down the gauntlet to the railroad and cut down the fence so the district attorney got himself into his old clothing and cut it down himself. It was promptly rebuilt and the district attorney was posted to the county jail.

While the vigilance of the county guards relaxed, railroad gangs rebuilt it and mounted guards over it. Then the county guards cut the fence. The struggle grew to such a point that the fence on one side of the track was being rebuilt while the other was being torn down and then the railroad commission was appealed to and a temporary restraining order issued by the commission against the railroad.

REVENUE CUTTER SERVICE SAVES 327 LIVES IN YEAR.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Three hundred and twenty seven lives, and property amounting to 10,607,710 were saved in storms at sea in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913 by the Revenue Cutter Service, according to a new annual report made public today, while the total expenditure for keeping up the service amounted to $2,471,532.

While who saving of life and property was the most important performance of this arm of the navy, not by any means all that was done. For instance, a tremendous danger to shipping, in the form of derelicts, and other obstructions to navigation, was removed by the cutter service. Derelicts were removed to their owners were valued at $18,900.

BRITISH LINE REFUSES TO ENTER SHIPPING WAR AGAINST AMERICAN LINES

London, Jan. 23.—The British transatlantic steamship lines announced today that they are not parties to the newly formed North Atlantic Steamship Association organized at the shipping conference in Paris.

There have been widespread misapprehensions on the subject here and dispatches from Paris have been taken to mean that all lines had combined against the Hamburg-American-Germania company. Today, however, a statement declaring the new association consists solely of the North German Lloyd, the Red Star and the Cunard companies, and that the British lines have nothing to do with it.

SHIP'S CREW ARRESTED FOR MUTINY ON SEAS

Liverpool, Jan. 23.—Mutiny broke out on board the steamship Devonian shortly after she left Liverpool for London yesterday, and she was compelled to put back to port, where nineteen of her crew were arrested. The outbreak was caused by trouble between the union and non-union seamen.

CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES
FINDING FAVOR IN STATE

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—According to Secretary Robert A. Campbell the state board of public affairs has calls for aid in forming co-operative societies in such number that many must be started this winter.

Members of the staff are engaged for weeks ahead for consultations and speeches in communities where the organization of these associations are contemplated.

HEIR TO NAPOLÉONIC
THRONE BORN TODAY

Brussels, Belgium, Jan. 23.—An heir to Prince Napoleon, the official pretender to the imperial throne of France, was born here today.

Prince Victor Napoleon, who is in his 52nd year, was married in 1910 to Princess Clémentine of Belgium. A daughter was born on March 20, 1912.

RUMORS OF BRIBERY SAID TO BE FALSE;
MONEY JUST LOANED

Sol Lewinsohn Checks in Favor of Federal Officers Lead to Charges Before Chicago Grand Jury.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Vague intimations of bribery of officials of the federal government in this city were brought to the attention of the federal grand jury today at the instance of James H. Wilkerson, United States district attorney.

The rumors were characterized by Wilkerson as attempted blackmails against which he was determined to protect the officials.

According to rumor, cancelled checks left behind by Sol Lewinsohn, a professional bondsman, bore the names of certain federal officials. The sums are small and those involved said the checks were loaned from Lewinsohn and had been repaid. Lewinsohn, whose private bank failed, and who had been barred from the city of Chicago, fled the city and had figured in putting up the $25,000 bond for Jack Johnson, the prize fighter who forfeited it by fleeing to France.

Johnson's brother, Charles, and Martin Lind, were the first witnesses. In a statement given out for publication today, United States Commissioner Mark A. Foote says that he borrowed money from checks were loaned from Lewinsohn and had been repaid. Lewinsohn was a professional money lender. It was necessary to obtain these loans, he said, because his "meager" pay was delayed for months by real tax at Washington. He was practically restricted to negotiating with professional lenders because he feared merely friendly loans might come from men who might come before him as competitors.

According to District Attorney Wilkerson, Foote's difficulty in getting his pay derived from fees was because he decided to file a suit for the amount prescribed by the department of justice. Foote says he resisted these forms as a matter of principle.

CHICAGO MURDERER DIED IN THE JAIL

Man Facing Death Sentence If He Was Tried, Passes Away Following Operation.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Andrew Olson, who for four months has faced almost hopeless lunacy and almost sure death for a prison term for life murder, died early today at the county jail, thereby concluding one of the most difficult cases ever before Cook county authorities.

Olson was alleged to have murdered his wife last September. Olson fired a bullet into his brain. Since that time he has been in a comatose condition with a portion of the bullet embedded in his brain.

Physicians said he would remain a hopeless lunatic if the bullet was not removed. Other doctors said the removal of the bullet would mean almost sure death. If the bullet had been removed and he had recovered, Olson would have faced trial for murder.

Yesterday jail physicians believed the prisoner's condition was such that he could withstand an operation and the piece of lead was removed.

URGES PRACTICAL COURSE IN HIGH SCHOOL TRAINING;
IOWA STATE CONVENTION

Creston, Iowa, Jan. 23.—A more practical system of education in high schools, that will give graduates a basis for entering business immediately without the necessity for a college training or special study after leaving the high school, was urged here today by Governor Clarke at the Iowa state convention of the local high school building. Governor Clarke declared that the old system of training the high school graduate in the form of a college or university was not the way to go, and that what was wanted in the present day was a course that will fit high school graduates for immediate entrance into business life.

SUGGEST ARMY COOKING SCHOOL AT FT. SAN HOUSTON

Washington, Jan. 23.—Uncle Sam had to pay $5,255.25 for food for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913. This and many other unique features are contained in the first report of the chief of the quartermaster's corps of the army, announced today, which is being sent to the report, monthly will save Uncle Sam just $25,000 in 1914. If the estimates do not go astray, since it is estimated that all electric lights at the army posts shall be supplied when the moon is shining. So that the militia will not starve should it be called out for war and no cooks be available, the army is planning a school for cooks is suggested at Fort San Houston with a capacity of 36 pupils at a time. The quartermaster corps supplies the offices of the quartermaster general, commissary general and paymaster general, effecting a saving of 40 officers and 823 men.

RAILROAD COMMISSION HEARS COMPLAINT ON SUBURB CAR SERVICE

La Crosse, Wis., Jan. 23.—Members of the Wisconsin Railroad commission were here today for the second hearing on a complaint of the residents of Hill View, a suburb on the street car service. The residents insist that they need regular car service and the street car company officials allege that Hill View would not pay operating expenses.

LAND MORTGAGE COMPANY ORGANIZED AT EAU CLAIRE

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—A certificate of authority was issued by the state banking department yesterday to the First Land Mortgage Association of Eau Claire. This is the first land mortgage bank chartered under the new law authorizing the operation of such associations, and this fact has been recognized in conferring a name upon the Eau Claire organization. The capital stock is $10,000. The officers are: President, Ben F. Faust; vice president, J. A. Platter; secretary, John Bauman; trustees, J. B. Keith, W. K. Coffin, C. W. Dinger, John Bauman, Frank Corrahn, B. F. Faust and J. A. Platter.

ASHLAND FIRE DESTROYS VALUABLE HIGHWAY PLANS

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—Through the destruction of the offices of the Wisconsin Highway Division at Ashland by fire, the commission has lost several miles of field notes and plans for road and bridge work for several northern Wisconsin counties. This work will suffer a delay of several months. It had been planned to start early in the spring.

ST. PAUL MUST REFUND TO HARVESTER COMPANY

Madison, Wis., Jan. 23.—By order of the railroad commission the St. Paul, Milwaukee & St. Paul Road must refund $208.55 to the International Harvester Company, the amount representing overcharges on shipments of slag from Milwaukee to Chicago.

NEBRASKA MAN IS GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER DEGREE FOR MURDER OF SISTER

Pender, Neb., Jan. 23.—The jury in the third trial of William Fiege, accused of murdering his sister, Louise, returned a verdict today finding him guilty of manslaughter.

NEW BALKAN RULER TO UNITE NATIONS WITH KAISER'S AID

Sol Lewinsohn Checks in Favor of Federal Officers Lead to Charges Before Chicago Grand Jury.

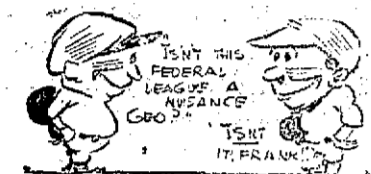

Berlin, Jan. 20.—From simple Lieutenant in the Kaiser's Guard at Potsdam to King of Albania, is the jump that Prince Wilhelm is expected to make late this month. It is the third ruler that Germany will furnish the troublesome Balkans. Germans soon will govern the greater part of the Balkan country. Slowly but surely the Kaiser's influence in the form of a chain of German rulers, is extending from Berlin to Constantinople.

At Bucharest is King Karl of Roumania. He is a Hohenzollern Prince, a branch of the Kaiser's house. His Queen—Queen Marie—is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German principality of Rome. The Queen of Greece is a sister of the Kaiser. And, now Albania, the new nation born out of throes of the Balkan wars, is to be given to Prince Wilhelm of Wied. That leaves but two Balkan principalities, a Princess of the German princip

Sport Snap Shots

Dusting off the old bromides is a pleasant distraction. Let's haul out the one about the ill wind and how it's sure to bring someone a little good. The Federal league affair brings this to mind. While it may be that there are big league clubs, that are decidedly annoyed at the actions of the new organization, it must not be forgotten that there are others who benefit mightily. Frank Chance and George Stallings, for example, are not scowling at the news of the Fed's raid of the larger clubs. Far from such. Every time the Fed's grab a high priced player from one of the faster clubs Chance and Stallings chuckle inordinately. They are both doing their damndest to build up clubs that will stand a chance with their speedier competitors and the weakening of these latter doesn't anger them in the least. Every time the Federal league steps in and tries to put a little Chance or Stallings up a team a little Chance or Stallings find that their chances are just that much better. Perhaps there are big league managers who are good and sore at the Fed's, but Frank Chance and George Stallings are not among them.

The Fed's should be more than willing to offer Ty Cobb a nice fat salary. When it is seen that had it not been for Ty there would never have been a Federal league—perhaps should feel grateful toward him. It's like this. Way back in May of 1912 Ty Cobb climbed into the Yankee stand down in New York and slammed a fan on the beeper who had said something unkind to him. Ty was suspended as a result of the thing. The rest of the Tigers got real huffy about it and walked out on a strike. As a result of this a little later the ball players' fraternity began to be talked about among players and was subsequently formed and started in as real active organization. Well, the formation of a players' fraternity showed that there was something akin to discontent among big league players. The Fed's began to start out upon the scale it has said and it can be said that after all's said and done, Ty Cobb is to be blamed for it all. Yes sir, if anyone's real sore at this Federal league situation they can cuss Cobb and his hasty temper.

Players and baseball experts throughout the country are beginning to protest against the action of catchers blocking the home plate against runners. The play has largely been the result of the introduction of heavy shin guards into the catcher's costume, making them practically proof against spike injuries in the legs. The catcher is practically safe in a close play at the plate and doesn't hesitate to step into the path and interfere with the runner's progress. And the runner has little choice between crashing into the catcher or being run out of line. Baseball rules are supposed to warrant the runner a fair chance at the plate in a play of this sort. The rapid increase of blocking is not a very great improvement to the game and its present popularity may be regarded as a menace. It will probably be brought to the attention of rule makers and an effort will be made to frame rules that will provide against such unpleasant features.

Connie Mack has brought to light another redskin plying wonder named Joe Graves from Brainerd, Minn. It is this same town that started Joe Bush and Chief Bender on their professional ways. Graves is a tribesman of Chief Bender and has been touted as a worthy one. He is eighteen years old and a right-hander, and as Connie Mack has his eye on him we may be sure that Graves will be heard from in days to come.

before the Madison contest, which takes place two weeks from tonight on the local floor. It is probable that a game will be arranged during the middle of next week with some outside eye. The Normal School from Whitewater or Milton College could furnish Curtis with a good game. The local players will go to Beloit tonight to witness the Madison-Beloit contest, which is attracting a good deal of interest in this city. Janesville play Madison two weeks from tonight, and possibly Beloit later in the season. Madison play La Crosse twice this season, and from scores, the locals should be able to tell quite accurately within a month, just how they will stand in the title race.

Refuge in Philosophy.
What misfortune in your pleasures has sent you to philosophy for relief.
—Franklin.

AD WOLGAST FIGHTS JOE RIVERS TONIGHT

Former Champion in Come Back Role in Battle With Mexican at Milwaukee Tonight.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 23.—If Mexican Joe Rivers succeeds in beating former lightweight champion Ad Wolgast tonight he will be matched with Freddie Welsh, the English title holder, Young Shugrue, Johnny Dundee or Sapper O'Neil, in a ten round bout at Madison Square Garden next month. Rivers today appeared to be in fine shape. He expressed confidence of victory. Wolgast, realizing that tonight's fight will decide whether he can "come back" has trained conscientiously for the bout. He declared today he will win over Rivers by the knockout route. Rivers will demand a twenty-round fight with Champion Ritchie on the coast, if he puts Wolgast to sleep tonight.

HERZOG WILL TAKE REDS SOUTH EARLY

Charlie Herzog, ex-Giant, new manager of the hoodooed Cincinnati Reds, will take the Reds south this spring earlier than ever before. Spring training will begin at Alexandria, La., about February 20. Herzog will work the life out of his bunch, hoping to wake them up and get them in readiness to play real baseball in April.

TO LEAD YANKEE POLOISTS IN 1914

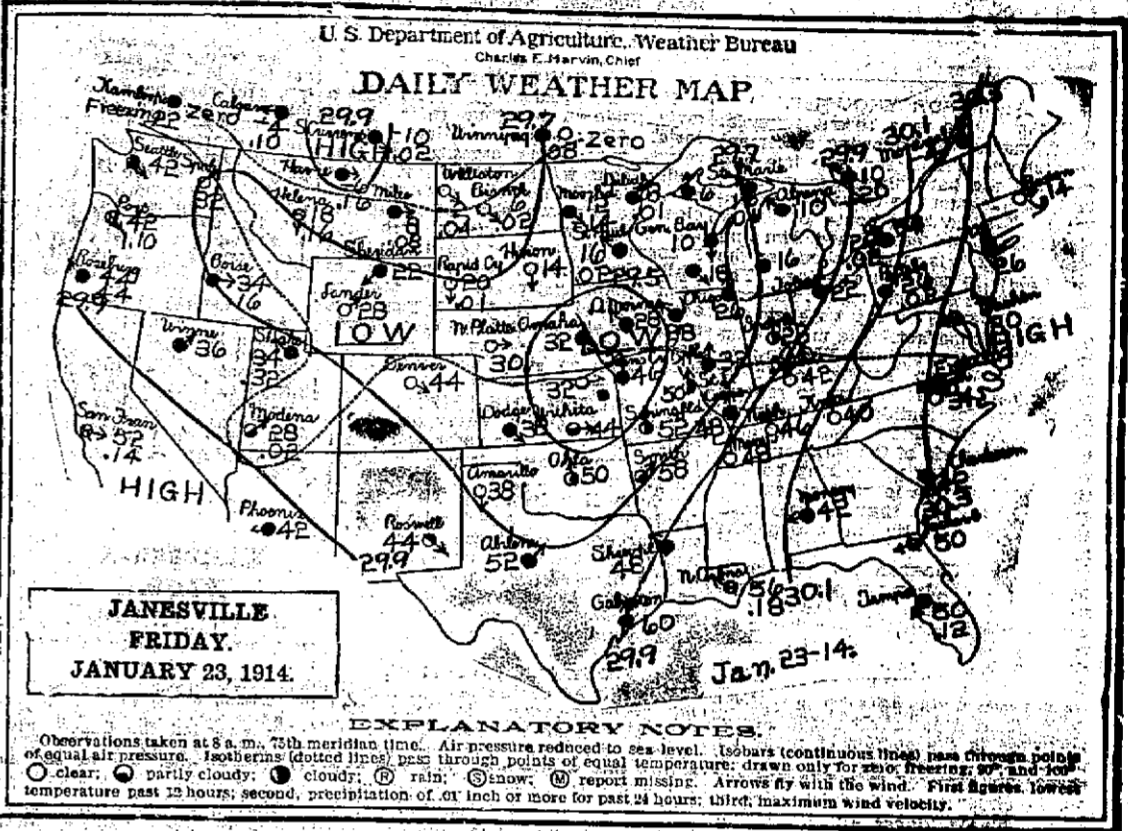

J. M. Waterbury, Jr.
At the recent annual meeting of the executive committee of the American Polo association J. M. Waterbury, Jr., who did more than any other player to defeat the English aggregation at the last international polo match, was elected captain to succeed Henry Payne Whitney, retired. Mr. Waterbury is a veteran at the international game, having played in four different matches since 1902.

HE'S ADVERTISING PANAMA EXPOSITION

George Hugh Perry
John Ruskin
The Best and BIGGEST CIGAR
Your never smoked a cigar as good as John Ruskin's for less than 10c.
That's why you want to invest 5c. you get a John Ruskin Cigar. They are loved by the best and save you money.
J. LEWIS CIGAR MFG. CO.
Newark, N. J. Makers of the famous Warner & Co. Distrib. Chicago

Low atmospheric pressure prevails in the central states and in the Rocky mountain region. High pressures occur off the Atlantic coast, where the anti-cyclone that was in the southeastern states yesterday now is, and in the Canadian northwest, where a marked drop in temperature indicates the approach of a cold wave.
Cloudy weather prevails in central and northern districts, with scattered light rain and snow. Precipitation continues over the Pacific slopes. Southerly winds, blowing into the depression that is central over the lower Missouri valley, are bringing much warm, moist air into the Gulf states, and rain has set in at east Gulf states.
Probably would. That sentence is not incorrect, said the professor, but it sounds odd to the English-speaking ear.—Harvard Lampoon.

ELKHORN MEN SICK; GAME IS CANCELLED

Three of Giants Are Taken Ill Yesterday and Contest Is Called Off Until Later Date.
There will be no basketball contest between the Janesville and Elkhorn high school fives at Elkhorn tonight. Coach Curtis received a telephone message late last evening from the Elkhorn management to the effect that three of their players were taken sick Friday, and that he would have to postpone the contest until a later date. He offered Curtis Saturday, February 21st, as a good date for the conflict.
The players are greatly disappointed because they expected a hard game. They need some good, stiff struggles

ATWOOD WILL ATTEMPT FLIGHT ACROSS THE ATLANTIC; BUYS HYDROPLANE FROM WRIGHT, HOPES TO MAKE OCEAN TRIP SOON

Harry N. Atwood, the Toledo aviator, has placed an order for a Wright hydro-aeroplane with which he hopes soon to fly across the Atlantic ocean. As soon as his machine is completed he will begin making trial flights over Lake Erie, and if these are successful he will attempt the ocean voyage. Wright and Atwood are now studying the routes that have been proposed as the best over which to make the

T. P. BURNS
DRY GOODS & CARPETS
SUITS • COATS • MILLINERY

Greatest Values Ever Offered In Any HALF PRICE SUIT SALE

THE reason for the above statement is plain: these suits we are now offering at half price are much higher priced than the suits sold at average half price suit sales, and to us represent more of a cut in profit than if we gave away cheaper suits. You get all this extra value.

There are suits here for misses and women; latest patterns and fabrics; on each of which there is a very distinct saving. Come in and see them.

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS.

WAITING ROOM AT GAZETTE OFFICE.

For the convenience of the public the Gazette office can be used as a waiting room for the street cars. Seats are provided and you are welcome to make use of the office as you please.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Cloudy and unsettled with probably snow. Colder Saturday.

FOUR FOR THOUGHT.

Henry Clews in a recent financial letter makes the following statement that should set at rest the hue and cry that the hard times are upon us and retrenchment is to be the watchword. The banking house of Henry Clews is an old established firm and knows what it is talking about, so the result is most interesting. The following are excerpts on the subject: "Good news is having its effect upon the stock market. The most cheering advice comes from Washington, President Wilson having evidently determined that it is time to redeem his pledge for 'building up business' on constructive lines. The president having gotten rid of the tariff and currency problems is now taking hold of the trust question in earnest, and he evidently believes that its true solution does not lie in destructive methods.

"That the Sherman law will be retained as protection against monopoly is beyond question. That the supreme court of the United States has read reason into the law is well known by those willing to understand. That in the past it has been frequently enforced with unduly severity is self-evident. That it positively needs clearer definition is the opinion of many unprejudiced authorities; and that it should be enforced in a friendly and not in an antagonistic spirit appears to be the conclusion arrived at by President Wilson and his associates. The president is expected to make an important announcement of his policy next week; and it is understood that this embodying his ideas will be presented for legislation as rapidly as may seem prudent. The idea that this legislation shall include a government bureau of information which shall aid manufacturers in interpreting the Sherman law is well received in business circles. Manufacturers and others under such a bureau would be able to secure an authoritative opinion as to whether they were obeying the law or not. This would relieve much of the existing uncertainty in business which has for months past tended to paralyze initiative.

"There is another factor in the anti-trust situation which is favorable; and that is the almost universal disposition among business leaders amounting to in many cases a positive anxiety to obey the law. This disposition has been tremendously increased by the friendly attitude toward business shown by the administration; and the present attorney general also, who wears the velvet glove in preference to wielding the big stick. In all directions business leaders are making sincere efforts to comply with the law, and thus will gradually disappear the wearisome friction between big business and the government, which has been the basis of so much popular hatred to large corporations. The policy of centralization which began with the creation of the sugar trust more than twenty-five years ago came to an end with the Standard Oil and American Tobacco decisions in 1911. That was the turning point against the monopoly movement, and since then the process of de-centralization has been steadily growing. It is now under full swing. While this tendency may cause temporary uncertainties, and while dissolution requirements may often prove harsh and difficult to meet, this change in business policy will in the long run have important and beneficial results from both the political and industrial standpoints."

APPROVES OF MESSAGE.

It is most interesting to note how a paper like the Wall Street Journal takes the last message of President Wilson. In comparing various messages of former presidents, the Journal says:

"A significant comparison could be drawn between President Wilson's message to congress and those of his surviving predecessors. Mr. Roosevelt said nothing, with great emphasis and many words. Mr. Taft was safe and conciliatory, with a possible lack of the note of authority. Mr. Wilson says more than either, with fewer words. His incomparable handling of English enables him to submit radical propositions, with all the true strength moderation of state-gives.

"When the first expression of public opinion is practically all one way, the experienced observer is inclined, in the light of history, to assume that it is probably wrong, or, if it is right, it is right for the wrong reason. Mr. Wilson's message has been deservedly admired. Its tone is sane and statesmanlike. But the tremendous force of his peaceful words should not be underestimated. If congress accepts his outline of remedial legislation as the maximum, the business of the country may well feel reassured. If, however, congress grafts its own crudities upon his considered recommendations, there is cause for grave anxiety.

"Mr. Wilson is so incomparably bigger than any mind at present in congress, or in his cabinet, that he may be able to dominate through sheer force of character, as he has in the past. He has had a wonderful run of luck, which even the undoubted contraction in trade following the advent of his party to power has failed to break. It is here that the danger lies. Bills already introduced into congress go far beyond anything the president recommends. Senator Owen's bill to regulate exchanges, for instance, is the crudely destructive measure of the Pujo committee, word for word. And other legislation already projected is like unto it.

"What is to be feared is a trial of strength between congress and the president. The greater the ignorance of congress, the more dangerous it is likely to be. The president's recommendations include some which, in regulating corporate business, gravely involve the liberty of the private citizen. It is these measures which congress may be expected to emphasize; and the effect upon the business of the country is still to be seen.

"Mr. Wilson enjoys the confidence of the country in a degree to which congress cannot pretend. Can he, with all his statesmanship, maintain that balance of power which the constitution implies? Or will he find himself the lonely defender of legitimate business, against a congress anxious to make capital for the elections in November?"

CIVIC PRIDE.

Citizens of Janesville should take a civic pride in boosting their home town. They should affiliate themselves with some organization that really looks to the betterment of the city. The Commercial club is the older of the two city organizations, the Twenty-five Thousand club the younger. Both are wide awake and while their results thus far have not been demonstrative of what may be accomplished in the future, they have saved the city several bad investments by careful inspection. Boost your home town on every opportunity.

HERE'S THE SPIRIT.

Tasker L. Oddie, governor of Nevada, has shown the right spirit in a recent proclamation issued in which he advises residents of Nevada to purchase Nevada-grown beet sugar. Oddie is evidently a man who believes in making the home products at home just the same as every other good citizen should, and what is true of Nevada is true of Wisconsin, is true of Janesville so start in and boost your home community.

SIDEWALK QUESTION.

There is an ordinance that requires all property-owners to keep their sidewalks clear of snow or ice. Of course we have not had but two snows this winter and may not have more, but it would be a wise provision if the street commissioner, or whoever has this in charge, saw that delinquent property-owners obey the law.

EARNEST WORKERS.

Earnest men and women are working for the interests of the hospital, seeking to raise funds to pay off the indebtedness and put it upon a firm financial footing. It is a worthy object and their earnestness is to be commended. May they be successful in their efforts.

Now the Wisconsin postoffices are being handed out to the faithful democrats. Rumor has it that Janesville is soon to have a new official and it is with regret that the statement is received as Postmaster Charles Valentine has been a most efficient and capable official and has friends everywhere regardless of political affiliations. However, he is cursed with the tag of republicanism which in the eyes of the greedy democrats means worse than heathenism.

There are more gardens planted in January than ever grow in June, but just the same it is lots of fun to plan what you will do when you do not actually have to do it. These dream castles help pass away the cold, frosty evenings.

President Wilson is not having everything his own way down in Washington. There are a few democrats yet who think that they are bigger than the president, but just the same they jump when the ring-master snaps his long whip.

Talking about the hospital. Why would it not be a good thing for every church, every lodge and every organization in the city to endow a bed at the city hospital? It has been done elsewhere and the cost is not so great and the results wonderful.

So Davies is to have a ten thousand dollar a year job for the next seven years and consequently he will not need to become United States senator after all. What a relief for his friends in Wisconsin.

As soon as that Milwaukee street bridge is opened there will be no east, no west side of the river any more, it will all be one big city just as it should be.

AMONG WISCONSIN NEWSPAPERS

Commission Versus Saloons.

South Milwaukee yesterday voted on the question of adopting the commission form of municipal government. The proposal being defeated by 500 opposed to 293 in favor. It is charged that saloon and brewery influence was responsible for this defeat, and that the trick was turned by inducing the Polish and other ignorant voters to vote against the proposal. The better element of the citizens was almost unanimous in favor of the change, and they are said to feel very bitter over the activities of the liquor interests. The really significant thing about this situation is the fact that invariably when this question comes up in a city, the liquor interests are ready to fight and throttle the movement, if possible. By assuming this attitude, however, the liquor interests serve to emphasize the fact that they are opposed to any form of government that threatens their own control over municipal affairs.

Commission government is not detrimental to the interests of decent, law-abiding saloon men, but when it results in the election of honest, representative officials, it probably does mean a more strict and impartial enforcement of laws regulating the saloon business. If the saloon men cannot stand this, it simply shows that they are conducting their business in violation of the laws and in defiance of public sentiment, and are thereby encouraging the propaganda of prohibition.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

The Landed Aristocracy.
The alarmists are worrying at the rapid increase in farm land values all over the country, and declare that this means that there will come an era when land will be out of the reach of people of moderate means and that it will be owned in large blocks and operated as factories are now operated. Doubtless such will largely be the case—how largely remains to be determined. But what of it? The farms of the future will be operated in the manner that will produce the largest returns—food is what is wanted.

Notwithstanding the vast amount that is being said about the advantages of small farms, the fact remains that in any community the larger farms are the ones that pay the best from the standpoint of production. But there is nothing to worry about. The food will be produced and that is what the public wants. The small farmer—if he be efficient—will find that his avenue of activity has been increased through increased demand for his products, and that as a specialist, and that is what he must become, he will do better on a small acreage than he does now on a larger one.—Green Bay Gazette.

Deserve a New Trial.
All of the socialists, and many persons who are not socialists, are glad that the Milwaukee Leader has been granted a new trial in the best case in which a verdict was found against it and the damages fixed at $17,500. The Leader is a socialist daily newspaper trying to establish itself without the aid of powerful financial backers, and this heavy verdict raised a financial problem of such a serious character for the Leader as to threaten its continued existence. One fact was that although about 40 per cent of the voters of Milwaukee vote the socialist ticket, the paper was made up entirely of persons opposed to socialism, which gave ground for the suspicion that there might have been something wrong with the selection of the jury.—Superior Telegram.

Courts to the Rescue.
And now a Milwaukee court has taken a hand in the eugenic law matter and has decided that the law is not constitutional, thus putting two courts to rest as one without the necessity of a physical examination of the groom. Who says that the courts do not give "aid and comfort" to many a waiting individual.—Milwaukee News.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

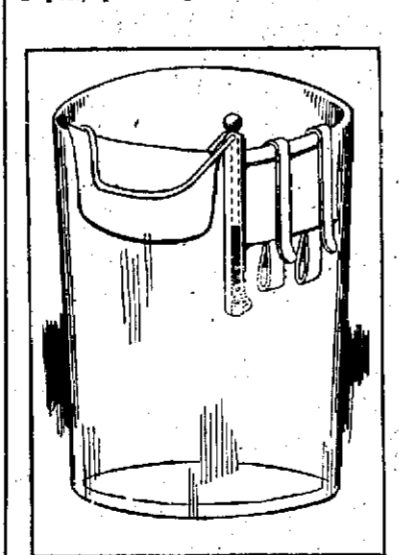

Congregational Church: Dr. J. F. Crawford of Beloit College will preach in the morning. Sunday school will be held at the usual hour. There will be a service in the evening.
Royal Arch Masons: C. S. Stockwell, Grand Lecturer, will be at the Masonic Temple this afternoon and evening. All companions should be present.
H. Olson, E. H. Pace: Over eighty couples attended the dance given last night by the Bower City band. A. F. O. M., number 328 at the Assembly hall. Dancing was enjoyed from nine until one o'clock.
Entertaining Club: Miss Ella Jacobson entertained a sewing club at her home on Logan street last evening. After a social evening, refreshments were served and the club enjoyed a pleasant time.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

The Eastern Study Class met on Thursday afternoon at Masonic Hall. A very practical program was carried out—the demonstrating of the fireless cooker. About thirty-one members were present and refreshments were served during the afternoon.
My shop will be open for a few days that I may close out my D. M. Cotton, 2 skeins 3c. Silk and a few remnants. Miss Capelle, 329 Hayes block.
Great Bargain. My 230 A. Productive. Smooth. No waste. 20 timber. Spring. Highest Markets. Only $56. Box 87 Whitewater Wis. Also 130. 1 mi. from Janesville only $135.00.

A CLEAN PLACE FOR LIP

Attachment for Drinking Glasses Which Prevents Contamination.
Next to having individual glasses for drinking purposes, a clean glass is the best thing, and this is provided by a recent invention shown herewith. The device consists of an attachment made preferably of spring metal, with a wire loop of such design that it fits snugly over the edge of a drinking glass. The device referred to is secured to the top of a post, permitting of the loop being raised while a piece of clean paper or some other material is placed along the edge of the glass. The loop is then depressed into its place over the edge of the glass, thereby holding the shield in its place. After making use of the glass it is intended that the shield shall be destroyed and substituted by another for subsequent use. This a clean place is always available for the lip contact of those desiring to make use of the glass.

SANITARY LIP CONTACT FOR DRINKING GLASSES.

Operators Held to Account.

In France the operators of aeroplanes are held responsible for damage done to persons or property when coming to the earth. In two cases such operators have been found guilty of homicide and punished, although the punishment was not as great as that for other forms of the same crime.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR RENT—160-acre farm. 220 Oakland Ave. 25-123-61.

DISMISSED HEARING BEFORE IT STARTED

Attorneys for Marcus Fee Arrange for Hearing in Proposed Slander Action, Then Dismiss It.

Before Court Commissioner Edwin P. Carpenter this morning attorneys representing Marcus Fee of Footville, who had had several citizens of Janesville and Footville subpoenaed to perpetrate their testimony with reference for a slander suit, he expected to be asked for a dismissal of the action even before the hearing had commenced. Mr. Fee was represented by J. J. McManany of Madison and Daniel H. Grady of Portage and it was Mr. Grady who asked for the dismissal of the hearing. Thos. S. Nolan and the firm of Jeffris, Mout, Avery & Oestreich had been retained by the witnesses summoned. Those for whom subpoenaed were R. E. Acheson, E. S. Farnely, Frank Kina, Orin Day and Harry Walton of Footville and George M. Decker and Grant U. Fisher of Janesville. It is not known against who Mr. Fee expected to file his suit, but no papers had been made out in the case as yet.

FARMER LAD ONCE, NOW CONGRESSMAN

Simeon D. Fess.

Simeon D. Fess, who is serving his first term in congress as the representative of Ohio's first district, started out in life as a farmer boy. After graduating from college he was retained by his alma mater, Ohio Northern university, as its professor of American history. After this he held several college positions and finally became president of Antioch college. Later he was editor of a magazine and last November was elected to congress. He is a Republican and is fifty-two years old.

EARL OF KINTORE VISITS THE U. S. A.

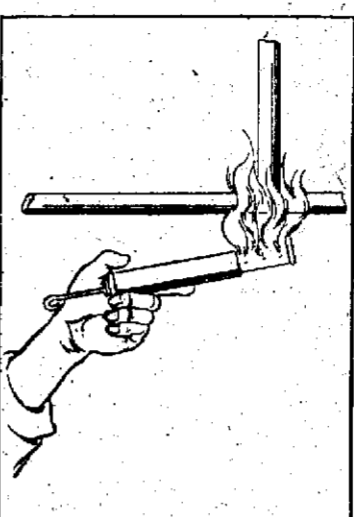

Earl of Kintore.

The Earl of Kintore, chairman of the executive committee of the Anglo-American exposition, which is to be opened in England in the spring, is now in the United States.

If you are looking for help of any kind, read the Want Ads.

USES OF ALCOHOL TORCH

New Household Convenience Which Will Answer Number of Purposes.
The alcohol torch is a new device which has been recently patented for general household uses, and it is said that it will do a number of operations around the house which make it invaluable as a feature of a well-regulated domestic establishment. The torch can be used with perfect safety unless one is flagrantly careless in handling it, for, alcohol being the fuel, the device is capable of giving off a great amount of heat and the danger of a conflagration originating from this kind of a flame is not very great.
A tube is filled with some material for holding the alcohol, but over this there is a sleeve by which the size of the flame and, accordingly, the amount of heat is regulated by sliding this sleeve up and down over the cylinder. By making use of a part of the capacity of the torch it is possible to cook a limited extent or to boil water, heat milk and other necessary operations of this character. The torch makes a splendid means of thawing out a frozen water or gas pipe, as the heat generated is not so great as to cause any damage, such as often happens when a sudden heat is applied to pipes of this character. By hanging it under the grate in the stove or heater it simplifies the task of making a fire.

HOUSEHOLD TORCH THAWING OUT A WATER PIPE.

Lesson of Chivalry.

The lesson of chivalry, quite as important in the lad as in his father, in different degrees of course, may be taught in little attentions to mother and younger sister—helping about the house, making provisions which will save mother many steps during his absence and escorting sister to and from school.

GOOPS

ELVIRA W. JONES

Elvira Waterbury Jones.
She loses everything she owns.
She's lost her handkerchief and rings.
Her books and hats—all sorts of things.
She is a Goop, because, they say,
She never puts her things away!

Don't Be A Goop!

REHBERG COMPANY TO HAVE NEW LOCATION

Rehberg Company To Take Possession of First Floor of Carle Block on Corner of Milwaukee and River Streets March First.

One of the most important business changes in Janesville for the present year will be consummated March 1, when the Amos Rehberg Company move from their present location on South Main street to the Carle block at the corner of West Milwaukee and River streets, now occupied in part by the Hall & Sayles Jewelry Company. The Rehberg Company, which has been in business for a long term of years, calls for the basement and entire first floor of the building, the space occupied by the Hall & Sayles Company and the old Recorder Printing Company, back as far as the alley in the middle of the block. In speaking of the change Mr. Rehberg said today: "Plans have been made for the reconstruction and renovation of the two stores. They will be thrown into one, giving as some forty-eight thousand feet of floor space on the ground floor and an equal amount of storage and salesroom in the basement, which will be utilized later. New big display windows will be put in on the River street side of the building, with the present entrance where the Recorder office is, left as it is, giving us two entrances, one on East Milwaukee street and one on River street. New hardwood floors will be laid throughout the building and it will be entirely re-decorated and refurnished so that I think it will be the finest store of its kind in southern Wisconsin. Mr. Sayles of the Hall & Sayles Company stated that his firm had several locations in view and would decide definitely the first of the coming week. They have had an option on one location, it is reported, for a year past, so the proposed change is not entirely unexpected.

Thermometer Free tomorrow with each purchase of 25c. at Smith's Pharmacy.

Annual dance of Caledonian Society at Assembly Hall Monday night. Hatch's full orchestra.

Lyric and Majestic Theaters

In all the excitement about "The Adventures of Kathlyn," which start tomorrow, do not forget that tonight's program at the Little Theaters is well worth seeing. In fact, it is a double feature program shown at a nickel. It includes "The Antique Brooch," a remarkable Edison production made in England, with a strong cast, and also one of George Kleine's Clines productions in two parts, "The Smuggler's Son." A single-reel Vitagraph too.

A representative of the Tribune tells us that we will have to call the police to handle the crowds trying to get in tomorrow night. Take it as a tip, come in the afternoon if you can. There will be no return date.

$1.50 Water Bottle For $1.00

There is an actual saving of 50c on the purchase of this water bottle. It is the best quality of rubber, guaranteed for one year. There are no better bags made. They were not made to sell at a sale but are our regular stock. An assortment of colors and styles.

Red Cross Pharmacy
Anso Cameras. Photo Supplies. 21 West Milwaukee Street. Both Telephones.

Thermometer Free--Saturday

With every purchase of 25c or over, a nice kitchen or outside thermometer free. One only to a customer.

Take Home a Box of Our Famous 50c Value Saturday Candy

All chocolates. All candies kept absolutely fresh in our new candy refrigerator-show case. Call and see it.

Our Illuminated Crest Initial Stationery is pleasing a great many of our friends and customers. It is beautiful and exclusive, boxes 50c. Initial Correspondence Cards are the correct thing, per box 35c.

Why not smoke a LA MARCA tomorrow? They are a splendid 10c cigar.

Friday and Saturday, 5c Straight

Box of 25 $1.25
Box of 50 $2.50

Smith's Pharmacy
770 Rexall Bldg.
Kodak and Kodak Supplies
14 West Milwaukee St.

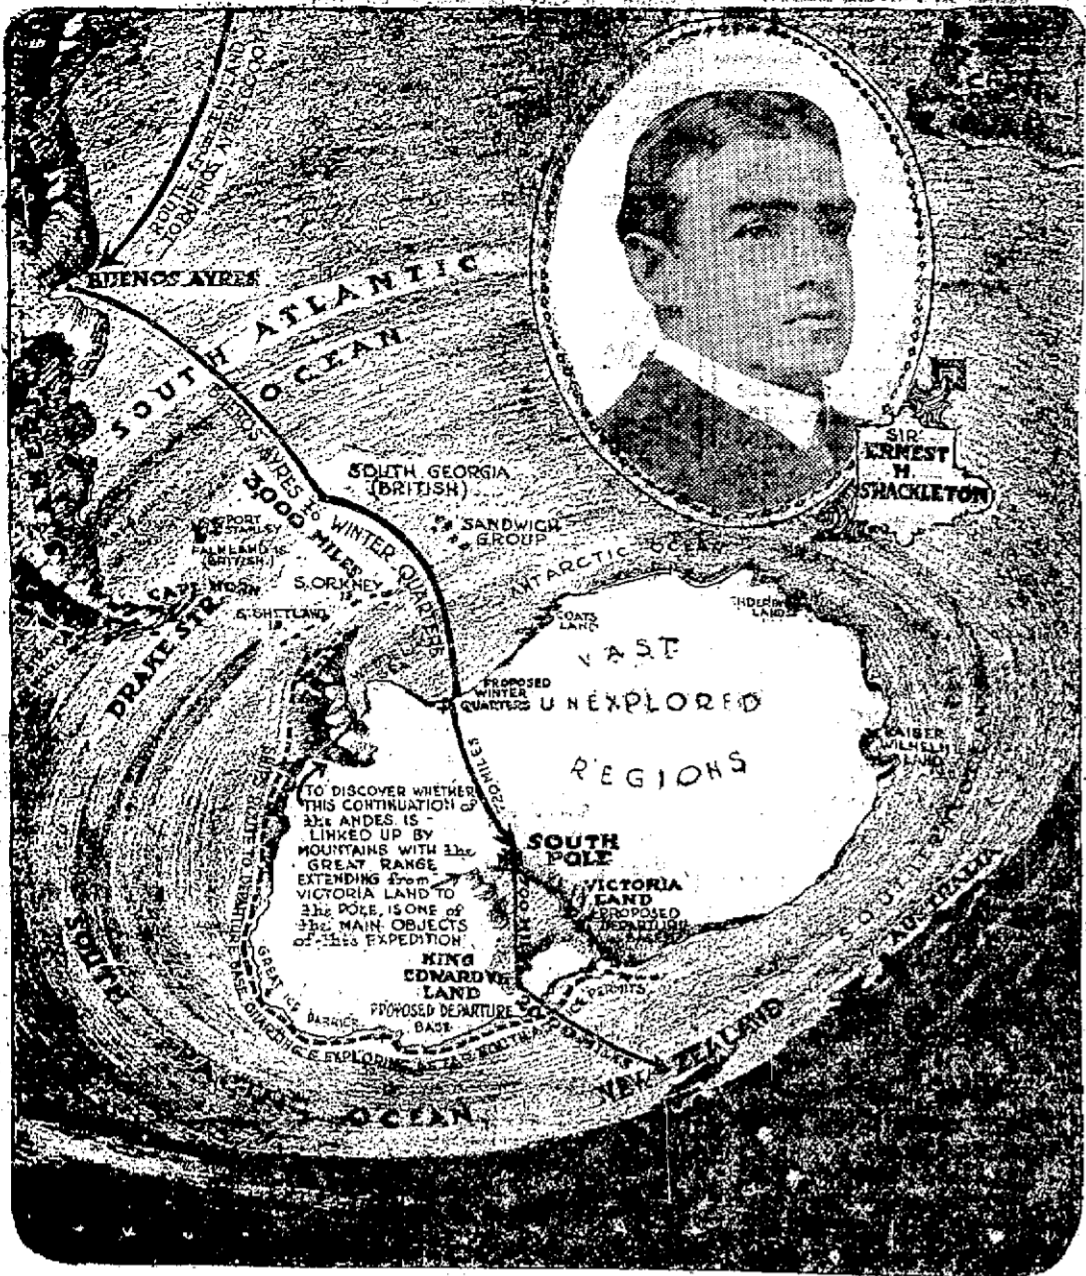

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Low Prices; New Stocks;

Low prices here don't mean cheap goods. Not a bit of it. We use the term "low prices" in the comparative sense only. Some goods are too cheap for us to handle, others too dear—in neither case do you receive proper returns for money expended. You can shop here with the full assurance that you are getting 100 cents worth of value for every dollar spent. We have no old merchandise to unload on the public. We turn stocks over so rapidly that nothing ever grows stale in The Big Store. Of course, there are innumerable bargains that are never hinted at in the newspaper. But they blossom all over the store and those who shop with alert eyes obtain many choice prizes.

LIEUT. SHACKLETON WILL GO TO THE ANTARCTIC WITH MOST PERFECTLY PLANNED POLAR EXPEDITION EVER ORGANIZED

Lieutenant Shackleton and route he will traverse.

Lieutenant Shackleton, the famous South Polar explorer, will go to the antarctic next fall, with the most perfectly planned expedition ever organized for polar work. He will take with him wireless apparatus, an aeroplane and moving picture machines. The accompanying sketch shows the route he will take on his long journey to the south.

ENERGY FROM A SUGAR DIET

Experiments Have Shown That It Has a Wonderful Effect Upon the Human Body.

The physiologist who discovered that your liver and your muscles manufacture sugar while you sleep has been surprised by the German physician who uses sugar dissolved in water as an excellent surgical dressing for all sorts of wounds.

Drs. Jacques Pansot and Piere Mathieu have declared that when animals eat sugar exclusively for long periods their weight at first decreases, soon begins to mend and then fall away again as the diet continues.

Dr. H. Heald of Tacoma Park, D. C., disagrees with the laboratory findings. He says sugar is comparable to gasoline. As the latter is the fuel of the internal combustion engine, so sugar is the fuel of the human machine. Sugar, he says, is the staff of life, and man can produce more energy from sugar than from any other food.

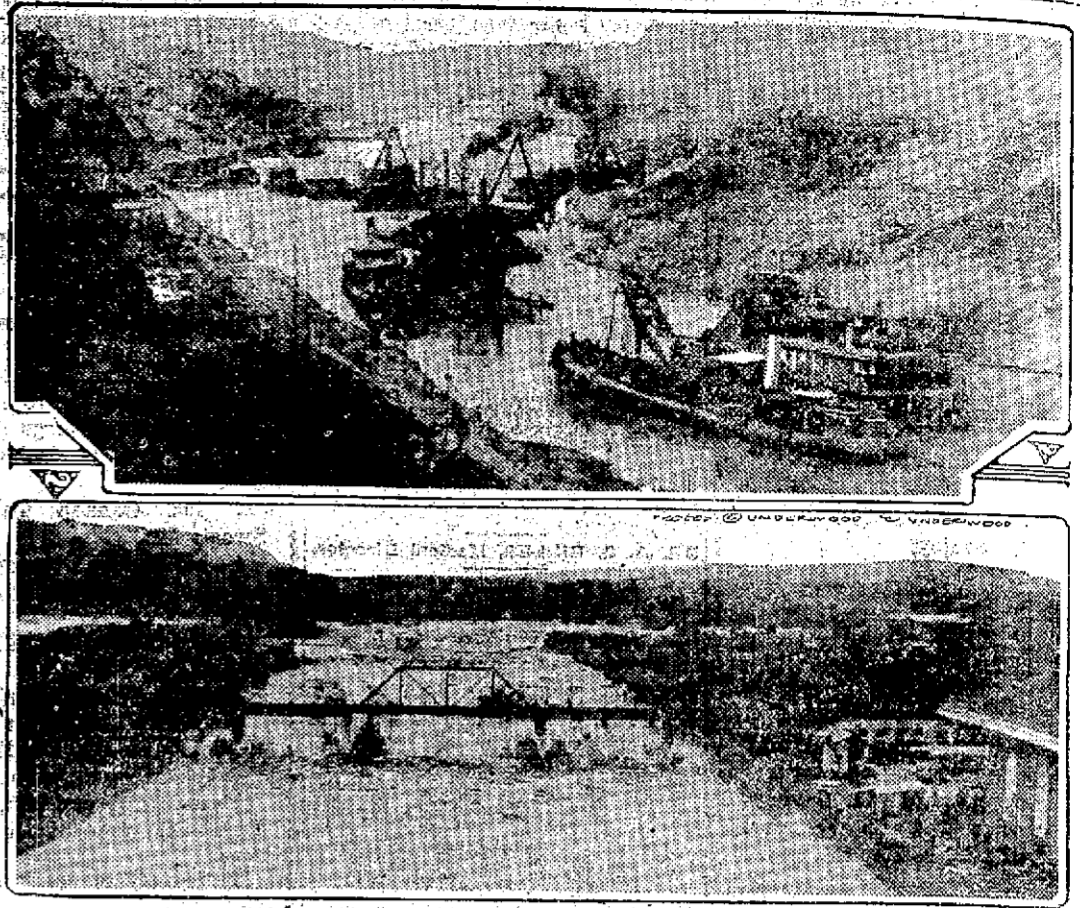

A distinguished British heart specialist has lately proved the efficacy of lump sugar in the treatment of a man nearly eighty years old who was dying with a vicious disease of the heart. After all the usual remedial measures had failed one of the maids asked if there was any objection to feeding the sufferer lump sugar. The physician gave his consent and four lumps were given in a little water. These were repeated every four hours, and in a week he was a well man.

Dr. Berzeller recommends to one of the German medical societies the use of powdered sugar in the treatment of old, ill treated and neglected cancers. He says the application of sugar to the fetid parts lessens the disagreeable odor and discharges. Furthermore, the general condition of the patient improves and all hemorrhages cease. Indeed, unless you have had a long experience with cancer patients you are liable to be deluded into the belief that the cancer has healed.

Rooster Hard to Kill.

A Buff Orpington rooster, missing for three weeks, was found wedged in the wooden foundation of a haystack at Stanford, Kent, England. The bird was as thin as a lath, but now is crowing as lustily as ever. It was twenty days without food.

LATE PICTURES FROM PANAMA SHOW RAPID PROGRESS ON CANAL

Top, fleet of dredges in Panama canal. Bottom, waters rushing through Gatun spillway.

The Charger at the Funeral.

The charger led at the funeral of a cavalry officer is a relic of the custom when a horse was sacrificed at the grave. An officer led the charger behind the bier to the brink of the grave and it was there slain and thrown upon the coffin. The last occurrence of this kind took place at Treves, Germany, in 1781.

Another Man Conspiracy.

A hatter says size of hat is no index of brain under it. Women would have all the best of it if it were.—New York Herald.

Dirt and Disease.

Dirt is the "perfect culture" of all disease and of all that delights in distaste. There the microbes of all plagues live and move and have their being undisturbed by the broom or the mop, unafraid of the smell of soap, and never awakened from their rest by the light from any lamp of knowledge that constitutes the science of modern times.

Peace is Better Than Plenty.

Better is a dry morsel, and quietness therewith, than a house full of feasting with strife.—Proverbs of Solomon, xvii:1.

Important Alaskan Industry.

Alaska's fishing industry, next in importance to mining, gives employment to 12,583 persons, of whom 2,823 are natives. In the last five years the territory has sent us a wealth of $43,000,000 in salmon alone. The total output of fish in 1910 was worth $11,181,388.

Natural Inference.

A New York newspaper chronicles the arrival in that city of an American boy who speaks no English. It is inferred that the little chap converses habitually in the baseball dialect.

Making the Pay Envelope Go Farther

It is a man's duty to make the money and the woman's part to spend it — the woman's part to spend it judiciously and in such a way that it will go as far as possible.

It is in fact a woman's duty to spend the money if possible in such a way that not all will have to be spent at all, but a large or small amount saved each pay period.

This is only what every good woman knows, but how and when and by what means are problems that she has always with her.

In The Gazette today is an assortment of information as to where clothes, food and incidentals of all kinds can be purchased; and the prices in many instances which prevail. All these in large variety make up the advertising columns of today's Gazette.

Let the housewives one and all study these announcements. We believe a saving of fully 25 per cent will accrue to the average purchase made from today's announcements.

Selected at random and merely as eye openers here are just a few of the many dozens of exceptional values to be found in the advertisements of this issue of The Gazette.

From the above a good idea may be gotten of the savings made possible through the reading of Gazette advertisements. Only a few of the many offerings have been listed; go over each page carefully and you're bound to save and make money. Turn through the pages now for additional bargain oppor-

- $550 Player Piano, $450; page 2.
- An excellent blend coffee, 30c per pound; women's page.
- $1.50 Hot Water Bottles, $1.00; page 4.
- Honestly Made Trunks, page 2.
- House Dresses, $1.25; page 2.
- Motion Pictures, 5c; page 4.
- Dollar Does Double Duty; page 2.
- Toilet Soap, 5c values, 3 cakes 10c; page 2.
- Silver Deposit Ware; page 2.
- Men's and Boy's Suits, 25 per cent discount from regular prices; page 14.
- Fancy Patent Flour, $1.25 per sack; page 5.
- A good Blanket, 79c; page 11.
- Mid-winter Clearance Sale, Men's and Boy's Suits, bargains; page 7.
- Great White Sale; page 8.
- Women's New Spring Boots, $4.50 and $5.00; page 2.
- Quality Meats; page 5.
- Men's and Boy's Overcoats, $25 values, $15; page 6.
- 2 dozen Oranges, 25c; page 5.
- Fancy Patent Flour $1.20 per sack; page 5.
- Fancy White Cauliflower, 15c; page 5.
- 22 Pounds Best Granulated Sugar, $1.00; page 2.
- 50 per cent Discount on Dental Work; page 5.
- Blankets at great savings; page 3.
- Thermometer free, with each 25c purchase; page 4.
- 10 Pound Fall Best Home Rendered Lard, $1.25; page 5.
- 20 to 40 per cent Discount on Entire stock; page 10.
- Harness Cleaned and Oiled, $1.50 job for $1.00; Business Directory classification; page 11.
- Leg o' Mutton, 15c per pound; page 5.
- Overhauled Touring Car in good condition, $300; Auto classification; page 11.
- Cow Feed $14 per ton; miscellaneous classification; page 11.
- White Paper for Kitchen Shelves, size 25x38 inches, in packages of 20 sheets, 10c; miscellaneous classification; page 11.
- $1.00 Hot Water Bottle, 59c; page 2.
- Butter, 30c pound; page 5.

Save From
$7.50 to $10.00

A Great
Overcoat
Sale

This is the Overcoat Sale
That You Men and Young Men Should Take Advantage Of.

Janesville's Banner Clothing Event—a sale that knows no competition, because it has no equal either in values, quantities or assortments. It's the one sale men should look forward to with keen interest, because they know from experience that at no other time or no other store values like these are possible.

Men's Overcoats From Our Regular Lines That Have Been Selling All Season at $22.50 and $25.00

Now

Chinchillas in every color,
Kerseys, Melton and fancy Overcoatings.

$15

See them in our window.

Shawl collar, convertible collar and velvet collar, 46, 48 and 50 inches long.

Society Brand, L System,
Stein Bloch and Other Fine $25 and $27.50
Suits, Now For $17.75

Clean-Up Sale of Boys' Clothing.

Sweeping Clearing Price.

$5.00 and $5.50
Suits and Overcoats
$3.95

$7.85 and $8.45
Suits and Overcoats
$5.85

$10 and $12
Suits and Overcoats
$7.85

Manhattan Shirts Reduced

$1.50 values	$2.00 values	$2.50 values
$1.15	$1.38	$1.88

RICH REWARDS AWAIT ALASKA DEVELOPMENT BY FEDERAL CONTROL

Lincoln Wirt Writes of Vast Mineral and Lumber Wealth to Be Had in Northern Territory.

Editor's Note—Lincoln Wirt, F. R. G. S., who has written a series of articles for this paper on Alaska, spent four years in that territory as U. S. commissioner of education and established the public schools that are now nearest the North Pole. He is probably the best posted man in this country on Alaska and her natural resources. He crossed Alaska 1,200 miles, in dead of winter with nothing but a dog team in quest of relief for sick, frozen miners. The trail he blazed is now the route for the U. S. mails. He is known in all English-speaking countries as a lecturer of note.

(By Lincoln Wirt.)
When Secretary of the Interior Fisher returned from his Alaskan trip are now given up to this profitable industry. And what shall we say of the copper and oil and other mineral wealth which calls for brains, brawn and lars in wealth has come out of Alaska in the last twenty years, and we have only scratched the surface. America's Treasure House is hidden for development. She calls for the best men and the best laws. America has waited with shackled hands, until hope deferred has made the heart sick for the government to make it possible for them to come to their own.

Yes, the interior of Alaska is dark and cold and uninviting many months in each year, but our "cheekhausers" are building an empire if we will but have vision. They have faith, they are illuminated by billions of electric lights. They see their glaciers cross the mountains, cities rise above the sea, and the conquering railway. They see their inexhaustible coal measures. If Alaska as it is 50 feet under ground in Pennsylvania. And the greater wealth of Alaska lies under ground. Settlers waited for the backing which England would have given them, had

WIGGAM SAYS THAT PRENATAL CULTURE IS A SUPERSTITION

Eugenic Writes Declares That Mothers Pay Too Little Attention to What Good Books Say

(Editor's Note—Albert E. Wiggam, the well-known journalist and lecturer, has written a series of articles for this newspaper on the general subject of eugenics. Mr. Wiggam has studied the subject many years and is regarded as an authority, although many scientists differ with him on important points. Because space is given to Mr. Wiggam's views in these columns, it does not necessarily follow that this newspaper indorses all the statements contained in his articles.)

(By Albert E. Wiggam.)
Two splendid parents have a defective child. "Oh," cries the mother. "I had only been more careful before he was born. If I had only not gotten angry. If I had only not let myself be worried and frightened! If never proves anything. The only way to prove pre-natal culture would be to have a thousand or ten thousand mothers predict beforehand some particular virtue or defect they expected to produce in the child and then see the result. Science knows beforehand the result. It would be entirely negative.

Fifty years ago Charles Darwin asked hundreds of mothers for their beliefs and fears about their expected babies. In not a single case did any ill or good result as predicted. But we are told of numerous instances where the mother very much desired a musical or artistic child. The mother plays and sings or reads beautiful books or looks at beautiful pictures and sure enough the child is just what she desired. Musical, literary, artistic! Ah, these uncritical mothers failed to remember that the reason they so passionately desired these things in their children was because they themselves possessed them. And science knows the reason. They possessed these qualities because they had been born from a germ cell which carried a "determined" factor, which caused them to have music or art or a passion for literature.

It is just like the prediction of sex. Any theory of sex determination is bound to be right half the time. But give a biologist the family pedigree on both sides for three or four generations and his predictions will be right far more than half of the time.

The writer has a neighbor who is hare-lipped. The neighbors and mother say it was because the mother smoked a "have-lipped" boy in her speech. But I looked up the pedigree and find that hare-lip is quite common in that family. An another fine couple have an imbecile child. This came, the mother tells me, from the father falling down the cellar steps. I find, however, that one grandfather was "very queer" and "nervous." One grandmother was "eccentric," "eccentric" and probably had epilepsy. These two defects carried unknown to the parents in their own germ cells, meet and the child born from that united germ is necessarily defective. No pre-natal culture does not produce virtue or defect. When two defective germ cells or life cells unite to produce a child, this and this alone determines the character of the inborn qualities of the offspring. How to secure the union of the cells that carry virtue and glory and defeat the union of those that breed vice and weakness is the whole problem of the new science of eugenics. The writer, however, urges all mothers in that glorious period before the birth of the babe to sing and read beautiful books, for a cheerful demeanor profoundly influences nutrition and the growth of the unborn child. And while pre-natal culture is 98 per cent nonsense, pre-natal nutrition is all good science.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

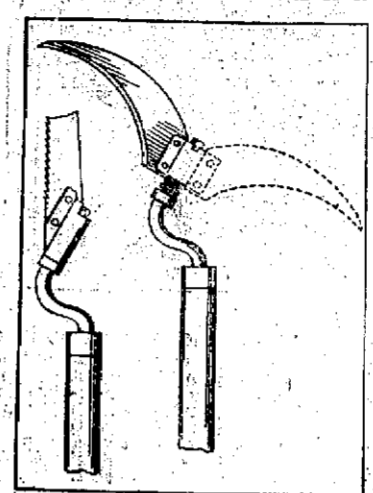

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

SICKLE WITH SAW A FACED

The Blade is Capable of Use in Three Different Positions.

The sickle shown in the accompanying cut has the advantage over the older forms of this implement in that the blade is capable of three different positions, making it for different kinds of garden work; in the extended position it is suitable for the trimming of small trees. At another point it is particularly convenient for cutting down brush and stalky weeds. The third position is just right for cutting grass. The blade may be instantly removed and replaced with a saw for cutting the limbs of trees. The device was recently granted a patent.

ADJUSTABLE SICKLE BLADE AND SAW ATTACHMENT.

WANTED: Everybody to read the Want Ads in tonight's Gazette.

TEXAS BELLES SPEND WINTER IN CAPITAL

Miss Alma Martin (left) and Miss Vera Martin.

The Misses Vera and Alma Martin of Dallas are spending the winter in Washington with Congressman and Mrs. Jack Beall of Texas and are attractive additions to the younger congressional set. Both are already prominent in all the latest dance steps and have plenty of opportunity to practice them at all the gay parties of the nation's capital.

END STOMACH MISERY, INDIGESTION, GAS, HEARTBURN, SOURNESS—PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Time it! In five minutes your sick, nauseated stomach feels fine—Ends Dyspepsia.

Sour, sick, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia, when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable—that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes stomach distress go in five minutes. If your stomach is in a revolt—if you can't get it to please, for your sake, try Pape's Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually. Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless stomach preparation which truly belongs in every home.

Cliff gold mine at Valdez Bay, Alaska; Front street in Nome; Lincoln Wirt.

That Alaska is fabulously rich in timber, in gold and in fisheries is the statement of Lincoln Wirt, former U. S. commissioner of education in that territory. Mr. Wirt spent four years in Alaska and is probably the best posted man in this country on that part of Uncle Sam's domain. "Six hundred millions of dollars in wealth has come out of Alaska in the last twenty years," says Mr. Wirt, "and we have only scratched the surface."

and spoke of the agricultural possibilities of our latest and greatest territory, the world laughed, as it had laughed forty-five years before when Secretary of State Seward rewarded Russia's fidelity to the northern cause by purchasing an "ice-berg" for $7,200,000.

But even the astute Seward builded better than he knew when he named his "ice-berg" Alaska. Alaska is an Eskimo word, signifying "great." Alaska is great. Great in her history, great in the character of her pioneers, great in her undeveloped resources and great in her beckoning future.

We did not want Alaska. Abraham Lincoln and William H. Seward believed it a terra incognita, but Russia needed money. She offered us this territory for ten millions of dollars. The United States congress got a moral debt of gratitude to our "great friend," and this is the secret "motif" of the Alaskan purchase.

The sum of $7,000,000 was the compromise, the $200,000 going to the Russian-American attorneys who negotiated the greatest real estate transaction on record. The rest is familiar history.

The thrilling story of Lieutenant Schwatka's voyage on a raft down the 2,000 miles of the mighty Yukon; the discovery of gold by McQuesten at the confluence of the Klondike and the Yukon; the rush of gold seekers in 1897-98; the hardships, the death, the stories of courage; the transportation of reindeer; the part played by the half-wild wolf dogs in the exploration of the land; the discovery of coal, copper, oil and fish; the greed of the vested interests; the gigantic scheme of Cunningham, who arrived with four hundred prospectors in his vest pocket for coal claims; the swindle which would have been carried out but for Clifford Pinchot and Theodore Roosevelt; the withdrawing of the coal fields from speculation and the conservation of Alaska's great mineral wealth, all this is the later romantic story of "Seward's Folly."

When we have cut all the timber from Maine, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Oregon; our lumbermen will flock to Alaska and find on the coastward flanks of the Aleutian mountains standing timber enough to build our homes for generations to come.

When all the gold has been dug from California, Australia and South Africa, the yellow stream which for years has been flowing from Alaska to the tune of twenty millions per annum will have only begun its flow. A man once told me he had walked from one bank of the Nushagak river to the opposite bank on the backs of the fish without getting his feet wet. When we remember that over one hundred million dollars has come out of that land in its wealth of copper, salmon alone, perhaps you will believe my "fish" story.

When all the coal has been dug from Pennsylvania and West Virginia, then the great Manantouska and Bertha coal fields, plus those yet to be discovered in the same region, will be turning the wheels of the commerce of the world.

Our skins are becoming almost prohibitive in price as the supply diminishes. In price the Alaska men are learning a better way. Fur-bearing animals are being bred for profit, and many small islands along the coast they been British colonists, ten years ago. But all things come to those who wait.

TWIN STREAMS OF PUTTY

Unique Device Designed for Putting Glass in Hot Bed Sash.

A great deal of hot bed sash is made in a few establishments and shipped complete to different parts of the country in quantities and in the assembling of these sashes, the greatest item of expense is the labor of putting the glass into place. In the manufacture of this sash the partitions extend along the length of the sash which is a provision made in order that as little of the sunshine should be excluded as possible.

The putting device shown herewith is

FOR PUTTING HOT BED SASH.

An implement which has been designed for this special purpose although it may be found useful in working on other kinds of sash. The device is composed of the putty being applied to both sides of the sash partition at a single operation which means a great saving of time. The plastic material is forced through the spouts by the pressure on the handles.

I had only read that good book my friend loaned me, telling mothers how to be sure to have children with fine minds and sweet tempers."

"Yes," says the friend, "it was your fault and you will know better next time."

Now science says that friend was a fool. And that lovely book was simply a piece of old granny superstition.

My mother friend, be of good cheer. Whether you prenatally cultivated or did not prenatally cultivate, whether you wanted the child or did not want it has nothing to do with the case. Nature does not do things that way. The discoveries in the new heredity have consigned pre-natal culture to the scrap heap of bygone fallacies. It ranks with the buckeye cure for rheumatism and swinging a dead cat around the head by the tail at midnight, which for ages has been a sure cure for warts. Swinging a live cat in this manner most any time, day or night, would probably remove anything in that vicinity.

Albert E. Wiggam.

It is easy to find thousands of instances of supposed pre-natal influences. But this is citing particular instances to prove general laws. This

COUNT FIFTY! RHEUMATIC PAIN IS GONE RUB OIL IN SORE, STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Get a small trial bottle of old-time, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil."

Rheumatism is "pains only."

Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" conquers pain. It is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and can not burn or blister the skin.

Linger up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil," from any drug store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief and a cure awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, and sprains.

REHBERG'S

AT NO. 10 MAIN STREET SOUTH

Mid-Winter Clearance Sale

RIGHT when winter is beginning to assert itself we offer these goods, all brand new stock; not an old piece of merchandise in the entire store; at prices that you cannot afford to ignore.

HERE ARE THE PRICES THAT WILL SAVE YOU MONEY

SALE PRICES ON ALL CHILDREN'S SUITS AND OVERCOATS

Men's and Young Men's Suits & Overcoats, $25 grades at	$17.50
Men's and Young Men's Suits & Overcoats, $22.50 grades at	$15.50
Men's and Young Men's Suits & Overcoats, $20 grades at	$14.50
Men's and Young Men's Suits & Overcoats, $18 grades at	$13.50
Men's and Young Men's Suits & Overcoats, $15 grades at	$11.50
Men's and Young Men's Suits & Overcoats, $12.50 grades at	$9.50
Boys' Suits and Overcoats, $11.00 grades, at	$7.95
Boys' Suits and Overcoats, $8.50 grades at	$6.45
Boys' Suits and Overcoats, $7.50 grades, at	$5.95
Boys' Suits and Overcoats, $6.00 grades at	$4.50
Boys' Suits and Overcoats, $5.00 grades, at	$3.95
Boys' Suits and Overcoats, $3.50 grades, at	$2.85

GREAT SHOE DEPARTMENT

You'll find us ready to supply you with the shoes you want—the best looking, best fitting shoes you ever put on your feet. You'll find here the largest and best assorted stock in this section. You'll find this store is roomy, comfortable, with large seating capacity at one time. And you'll find a selling force in keeping with our determination to give you the individual personal service you are entitled to.

Women's Footwear $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50. Men's Footwear, $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

Dancing Slippers and Party Pumps, colonial style in Satins, Gun Metal, Kid, Patents with the new Louis heel, buckles set with Rhinestones and brilliants, at $3.00 and $3.50

Black Satin Tango Pumps, the newest thing in slippers for women who want the best. These pumps are beautifully made; low flat heels, ankle strap, rubber insertion, which creates a vacuum effect and prevents slipping, placed in center of sole... $3.00

VARIOUS METHODS IN USE IN WAREHOUSES

Tobacco Dealers Tying Crop in Hands in Many Cases—Deliveries Continue.

Deliveries of tobacco are being received by the various warehouses daily with the crop in fairly good condition. In some cases the stems are very sappy and dealers are resorting to tying the leaves in hands to give it a chance to cure more thoroughly and dry out before packing. The deliveries are steady but not in large quantities as in former years. The grower is spoiled by no early handling and the buyers are keeping close watch of the stems to see that the leaf is just right before being taken down. The 1913 crop is an exceptional one and the dealers want every pound of it and the grower feels just the same so with the two interests working together the result will be most satisfactory. The casing weather of the past week followed by the freeze up has enabled some growers to take down more of their crop but they are not letting it lie in the stacks as they have in the past, taking down just what they can handle at one time so as to be on the safe side.

STEADY AND STRONG IS MARKET REPORT

Cattle Receipts Small, But Prices Did
Not Drop.—Hogs at Thursday's Average.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Jan. 23.—Prices did not change materially on the stock market today. Cattle receipts were small and hogs remained about at Thursday's closing prices. The following are the quotations:
Cattle—Receipts 1,500; market steady, strong; beefs 6.80@9.30; Texas steers 6.90@8.10; western steers 6.40@8.00; stockers and feeders 5.40@8.20; cows and heifers 3.80@5.10; calves 7.50@11.00.
Hogs—Receipts 26,000; market slow and steady at yesterday's average; light 8.25@8.50; mixed 8.10@8.40; heavy 8.00@8.25; rough 8.10@8.15; pigs 6.75@8.00; bulk of sales 8.25@8.35.
Sheep—Receipts 12,000; market slow; native 4.90@6.00; western 5.00@6.10; yearlings 5.00@5.75; lambs native 6.90@7.00; western 7.00@8.00.
Butter—Unchanged.
Eggs—Higher; receipts 3,452 cases; cases at mark cases included 25¢; ordinary firsts 30¢@31¢; prime firsts 32¢.
Cheese—Unchanged; 40 cars.
Poultry—Alive: Unchanged.
Wheat—May: Opening 93½; July: 93½; low 93; closing 93½; July: Opening 88½; high 89; low 88½; closing 88½.
Corn—May: Opening 65½; high 66½; low 65½; closing 65½; July: Opening 65½; high 65½; low 64½; closing 65½.
Oats—May: Opening 35½; high 36½; low 35½; closing 35½; July: Opening 35½; high 35½; low 34½; closing 35½.
Barley—50¢@75¢.

ELGIN BUTTER QUOTED
AT THIRTY-TWO AND HALF

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Elgin, Ill., Jan. 19.—Butter steady, 22¢@24¢.

JANESVILLE WHOLESALE MARKET.

Janesville, Wis., Jan. 21, 1914.
Straw, Corn, Oats—Straw, $6.50@7.00; baled hay, $8.00@8.10; loose small demand; oats, $3.00@4.00; barley, $1.00@1.05 per 100 lbs.; new corn, $1.10@1.14.
Poultry—Dressed hens, 12c; dressed young springers, 13c; geese, live, 11c; dressed, 14c; turkeys, dressed, 16c; live, 16c@17c (very scarce); ducks 11c@12c.
Steers and Cows—$4.70@5.25.
Hogs—$7.60@8.00.
Feeds (Retail) Oat meal, $1.65@1.70 per 100 lbs.; bran, $1.25@1.30; standard middlings, $1.30; four middlings, $1.45.

LOCAL MARKETS.

Janesville, Wis., Jan. 21, 1914.
Vegetables—Potatoes, 90c per bu.; cabbage 7c@10c; head lettuce, 5c; celery, 5c stalk or 15c bunch; carrots, 2c@3c; cranberries, 10¢@12¢ per lb.; beans, 2¢@3¢ per lb.; Texas onions, 7c; Spanish onions, 5c; rutabagas, 2c; parsnips, 2c; turnips, 2c; peppers, green and red, 2 and 3 for 5c; sweet potatoes, 6 and 8 lbs for 25c; Hubbard squash, 15¢@20¢ each.
Fruit—Oranges, 2¢ cents and 30 cents a doz; bananas, 20¢@25¢ a doz; pineapples, 12½ to 15¢ each; lemons, 40¢ dozen; pears, 30¢ cents dozen; apples, eating, from 5¢ per pound to 4 apples for 25c; grapes, cluster red and white, 20¢@25¢ lb.; Malaga, 15¢@20¢ lb.; Tokay 15¢ lb.
Butter—Creamery, 33 cents; dairy case, 32¢@33¢; strictly fresh 35¢@36¢; cheese 20¢@25¢; oleomargarine 18¢@22¢ lb.; pure lard, 16¢@17¢ lb.; lard compound, 15¢ lb.; honey, 20¢ lb.
Nuts—English walnuts, 25¢ lb.; black walnuts, 5c lb.; hickory nuts, 5¢@6¢ lb.; Brazil nuts, 22¢@25¢; pine nuts 10¢@15¢ lb.; popcorn, 5¢@6¢ lb.; almonds 25¢; filberts, 15¢@20¢ lb.
Oysters—45¢ qt.

GET SUGAR FROM SAWDUST

Chemically Prepared Material Found by Scientists to Be Valuable Food for Animals.

In the course of a paper read before the London Royal Society of Arts, A. Zimmerman described a process by which sugar might be manufactured from sawdust.

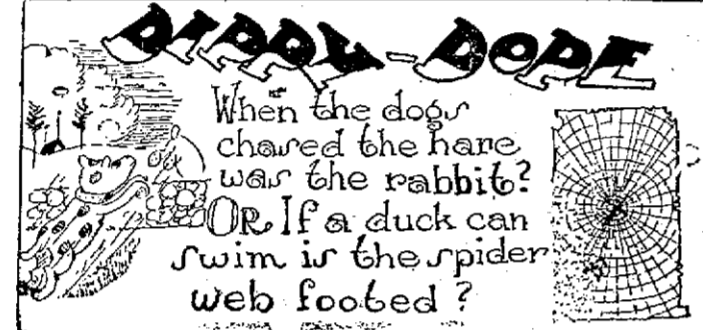

In its natural state, he pointed out, says London Tit-Bits, wood contains no sugar, but when subjected in closed retorts to digestion with a weak sulphurous acid solution under pressure of six to seven atmospheres a very remarkable transmutation takes place, as much as 25 per cent. of the material being converted into sugar. In this Mr. Zimmerman claims that we have a valuable feeding stuff for horses, cattle and sheep.

Draft horses in whose daily ration four pounds of "cacchulose-molasses" were substituted for four pounds of oats were kept under observation for seven months and were all found to have increased in weight, while a colt which was in so weak a condition that veterinary surgeons advised its destruction put on 250 pounds in six months and is now in excellent condition.

FLYING AUTO FOR DESERT SANDS AND FLYING "BOB" FOR NORTHERN SNOWS

Two of the most unique automobile peller. When crossing the sands of the Sahara the propeller is set in motion and the car is capable of attaining a speed of fifty miles an hour over the sandiest roads. The bottom photo shows the "flying bob" or a glider that it differs from the ordinary automobile in that it is a monster propeller attached to the front.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, Jan. 23.—Messrs. and Mesdames E. H. Cole and W. N. Cobb returned Thursday evening from a trip to Chicago.

C. J. Stephenson spent Thursday in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Milks were passengers to Rockford and other points Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Evans left on Thursday for a visit with her son, Ed, and wife in Minneapolis.

John Wieck and family left Thursday with their car of household goods for Beloit, which city will be their future home.

Miss Greenwood and Mr. Mayer of Whitewater were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fuller and returned home Thursday.

There will be quarterly meeting at the M. E. church Saturday evening, conducted by Supt. E. C. Dixon of Madison, who will also preach at the morning service at eleven o'clock.

Married, at the home of the bride's parents in the town of Avon, on Wednesday, Jan. 21st, at high noon, by Rev. H. A. Franke of the Evangelical church of Brodhead, John A. Wendlandt and Miss Verna Meier.

The bridesmaid was Miss Mabel Hawkins and Charles Hawkins was best man. A wedding dinner was served to about forty guests.

To a Finish.

Fighting to a finish could be highly recommended if it were not for the fact that the one who does it is generally finished.

RAISE CHURCH DEBT BY WOMEN'S EFFORTS

Payment of Last $3,500 on Norwegian
Lutheran Church Made Occasion for Celebration.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, Jan. 23.—The thirtieth anniversary of the Ladies' Aid society of the Norwegian Lutheran church and the final payment on the church debt by the Young Ladies' society was celebrated in the church last night and brought a big gathering of members and friends of the church. The amount assumed by the young ladies was about $3,500, which is now paid, and thus wipes out the entire indebtedness of the church. The event was opened by an address by Andrew Jensen and was followed by Christ Hoen, who spoke on "Women's Work in Church." L. A. Anderson spoke on "Business Methods in Church Work," and P. M. Ellingson spoke on "Future Prospects of the Church." Intermingled with several musical selections made the occasion a pleasant and profitable one. At the close tempting refreshments were served. A flashlight picture also was taken of the charter members of the ladies' society.

Hotel Arrivals.
Arrivals at the Carlton hotel yesterday were: John L. Fisher, P. H. Kest, Janesville; James Campbell, Stoughton; A. L. Larson, Walter G. T. Penny, Madison; P. C. Maloney, Green Bay; R. G. Page, F. H. Donahue, F. J. O'Neill, John Stromberg, C. W. Miller, H. E. Fedderly, Milwaukee; P. L. Tucker, Rockford; F. W. Mulich, Sutter, Ill.; F. E. Kepler, Elkhart, Ind.; W. A. Norris, Keokuk, Ill.; C. L. Jordan, F. G. Clark, G. A. Comstock, A. S. Fernandez, Chicago.

Edgerton News Notes.
Treasurer William Wille of Fulton township was at the First National bank in this city yesterday receiving taxes. Today he was at Murwin's store in Fulton for the same purpose.

C. G. Biederman has left for a business trip to Montana, expecting to be gone several weeks.

Mrs. B. L. Cleary has gone to Chicago on a visit of several days with relatives.

Mrs. Thomas Thronson has purchased the residence property of James Whittier on the corner of Main and Rollin streets for the sum of $3,500. Possession will be given on April 1.

Mrs. William Lichtenberger of Minneapolis, Minn., has arrived in the city on a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lund.

Mrs. George Lien, who has been visiting relatives here for the past week, returned to her home in Granite Falls, Minn., yesterday.

C. G. Biederman is spending the week in Montana on business.

L. Puerner is suffering from an attack of blood poisoning which was caused by a sliver in his hand.

Mark Nichols of Stoughton was a business caller here yesterday.

The Ladies' Bridge club met with Mrs. Will McIntosh yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arthur of Janesville spent today with relatives here.

Messrs. D. W. North and P. Grubb were in Chicago yesterday on circuit court business.

D. J. Saunders of Gentry, Ark., is the guest of his niece, Mrs. Oscar Grandall.

At the Congregational church Sunday: Divine worship 10:30. Subject: "The Militant Church." Evening service at 7 o'clock. Subject, "The Foolishness of Atheism."

The annual chicken pie supper of the Men's club was held last evening at the Congregational church basement with a large attendance.

G. W. Nichols was a business caller in Janesville today.

Today's Evansville News

AUTHORIZE ISSUE OF PAVING BONDS

Evansville Council Passes Resolution to Improve Roadbed on Main Street.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Jan. 23.—The regular meeting of the city council was held Wednesday night at 7:30. The meeting was called to order by Mayor Pearsall with Aldermen Axtell, Chaplin, Gabriel, Jones, Miller and Winston present.

A petition signed by C. Polles, J. W. Christman and sixteen others, praying that the tax on dogs be raised to ten dollars on females and eight dollars on males, was received and referred to the license committee.

The mayor and clerk were instructed to draw up and issue orders on the several funds to pay outstanding loans. The street and alley committee reported and recommended that the claims of G. W. Hall, John Lemmel and Antes and Reilly for overcharge on oil assessment, be allowed. An ordinance providing for the issue of three thousand dollars' worth of paving bonds was passed.

A resolution ordering the street and alley committee to prepare plans and specifications for the paving of Main street from the C and N. W. railway right of way to the intersection of Main and Second streets, in accordance with the resolution already passed, was adopted by the following vote: Ayes: Axtell, Gabriel, Jones, Miller, Noes; Chaplin, Winston.

Evansville Local News.

Floyd Peebles was an Albany visitor the middle part of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cleveland of Brooklyn spent yesterday with Evansville friends.

Miss Frances Searies was a Janesville visitor Thursday.

Miss Lulu Austin of Drummond, Okla., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Charles Jenkins, and family.

Miss Nina Park of Beloit spent the fore-part of the week with Miss Eva Bly and other local friends.

Mrs. George Penn of Cainville was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Slater, the fore part of the week.

Mrs. Lizzie Bennett of Cainville was a business caller here yesterday.

Mr. Hoag was a Janesville business caller yesterday.

Miss Nellie Devine of Oregon spent Thursday with local friends.

Mrs. David Andrews and little daughter of Cainville were local shoppers yesterday.

The members of the Tourist club are giving a party at the home of Miss Alma Brunell this evening, given in honor of Miss Maud Gillies. The feature of the evening is three scenes from "Much Ado About Nothing."

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Clark of Magnolia were local shoppers yesterday.

Mrs. Grace Haylett left yesterday to spend the remainder of the week in Waukesha, where her sister, Miss Ruth, is attending Carroll college.

Miss Beniah Hadley is spending the weekend at her home in Brooklyn.

Eldon Eisdell has recovered from his recent illness and is able to be about again, to the pleasure of his many friends.

Miss Sadie Kivlin of Brooklyn was a local visitor the fore part of the week.

The new Review building is progressing nicely and will soon be ready for occupancy.

Frank Hyne was a Footville visitor yesterday.

Frank Eddy left last night for Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gates are spending a few days in Chicago. The Laurean society was held at the high school yesterday afternoon. The following officers were elected: President—Margaret Owen. Vice President—Hazel Moriarity. Secretary and Treasurer—Ruby Agnew.

MAGNOLIA

Magnolia, Jan. 22.—B. Jones, together with several other men in the village, captured a fine fox in the woods belonging to John Needham, on Wednesday. The men were assisted in the hunt by twelve large hounds. Much interest was shown by the men in their sport. Arthur Broughton of Albany was among the men in the hunt and he had with him his fine dogs.

Mr. Myer was a Brodhead caller on Monday.

Miss Sophie Tim spent Sunday at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Redly have rented a farm near Janesville for the coming year.

Her Ideal.

The ideal man, as woman considers him, is one who can trail around for half a day and not get weary while she stops to price things.

Build up a fund for the future, to be prepared for its opportunities and emergencies—possibly for its actual necessities. Deposit this fund in our Savings Department and see how rapidly makes it grow.

4 Per Cent Interest

THE BANK OF EVANSVILLE

Evansville, Wis.
Founded 1870.
GEO. L. PULLEN, Pres.

DRY GOODS HOWARD'S

"THE BEST FOR THE LEAST"

Your Blanket Opportunity is Here. Blankets at Way- Down Prices.

Size 64x76 inches, in Tan, White and Grey, $1.20 value, for $1.05
Size 68x80 inches, in Tan, White and Grey, $1.35 value, for $1.22
Size 64x80 inches, $1.60 value, for $1.39
All our better Blankets Marked DOWN. Nothing over $4.98

GO-CART ROBES

30x40 inches, 50¢ value, 42¢
36x48 inches, 75¢ value, 59¢
In Pink and Light Blue.

WHITE SWAN CRIB BLANKETS

32x42 inches, with Pink and Blue Borders, 59¢ value, per pair for 45¢

REVERSIBLE BATH ROBE BLANKETS

In a variety of colors with Cord and Tassel to match, $2.75 value, $1.75

COMFORTERS

We have reduced prices on all our Comforters to 98¢, $1.15, $1.39, $1.50, $2.00, $2.25, $2.50.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S SWEATERS

All marked at prices to suit your purse.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES

Navy Blue, Garnet and Browns, $1.50 values, for $1.00
$1.75 values for $1.25
$2.75 and $2.98 values, for $2.00
$3.50 and $3.98 values for $2.98
$5.00 values for $3.50
Sizes 4 to 14 years.

Children's and Misses' White and Colored Wash Dresses, in sizes 2 to 14 years, values 75¢ to $3.98; nothing over $2.50

HOUSE DRESSES AND KIMONOS ARE ALL MARKED AT PRICES TO MOVE THEM, TO MAKE ROOM FOR NEW GOODS.

ALL GOODS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES AND ONE PRICE TO ALL

Embroidery
Sale
Second Floor
J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.
Undermuslin
Sale
South Room

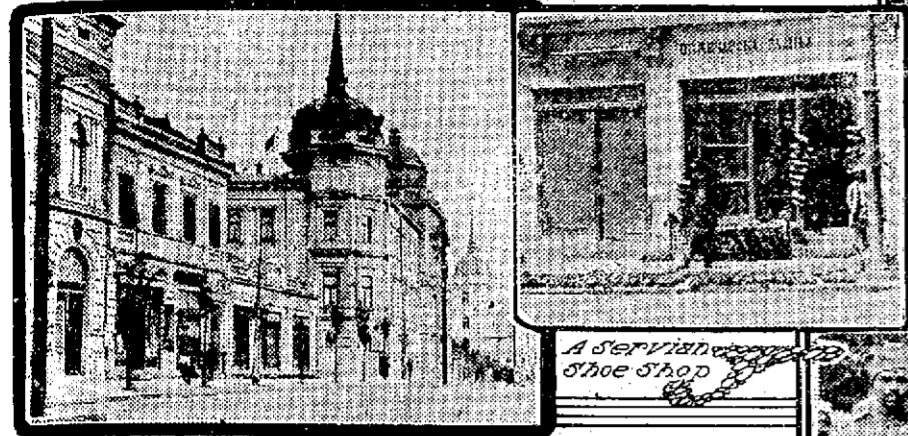

LAST DAY TOMORROW

Of the Gigantic Stock Reduction Sale And January White Sale.

The Banner Bargain Opportunity Of The Year.

If you have not already attended these sales, come tomorrow. None of our past great sales successes have rivalled this one in gratifying results. No matter what you require, tomorrow is to be your day of Great Savings.

Something About SERVIA

King Peter's Palace

A Description of the Manners and Customs of the Little Country Which Played Such An Important Part in the Recent Balkan Wars.

AWAY down in a corner of the Balkan States there is a fertile little country called Serbia. It is one of the pawns in the great game of chess now being played by the European powers, and just what the ultimate outcome of this game will be no one can predict with any degree of certainty.

The treaty at Bucharest changed the map of the Balkans and gave Serbia 1,200,000 more subjects, mostly Albanians. These people proved to be a set of scorpions, for less than two months after this treaty was signed they formed an army and commanded by Bulgarian and Austrian officers they succeeded in regaining a part of the territory and butchering several hundred Serbian soldiers. This forced the little country into a third war while thousands of her soldiers were lying wounded and her land was being ravaged by the cholera. When the first Balkan war occurred Serbia had money in her treasury and was able to furnish everything an army needed. This campaign was hard and long but the smaller countries won out against Turkey. Then came the division of the spoils, and the Serbians who had fought so valiantly were given the short end of the deal and they refused to submit to such injustice. Greece and Roumania felt the same way in the matter, so before the demobilization of the army from the first war, began little Serbia was plunged into one with Bulgaria which was even more horrible than the first. The treasury had been strained to the limit in the war with Turkey, yet Serbia went into the second war with a vim that surprised the world, and just as her victory was nearly won the powers intervened and forbade the further humiliation of the savage Bulgarians. At present Serbia is in the throes of trouble with Albania, and old men and boys are now doing military service, not against their wills, for they have come into the recruiting station begging to be taken. The writer, who has but recently returned from Serbia, has watched these people as they came into the barracks. They know the awful trials they will have to undergo, with many times only bread and water for food, yet they are eager and ready to suffer even unto death for the glory of Serbia.

The fortitude the Serbians have shown in battle is little short of marvelous, and their endurance, their patient suffering and their absolute fidelity to duty under all circumstances have placed the little country in a new light before the world. That they deserve to win out is unquestioned, but whether or not they will receive their just deserts is a matter of conjecture, for unfortunately by some of the larger countries of Europe think little of crushing a smaller nation, especially if that nation has fertile land.

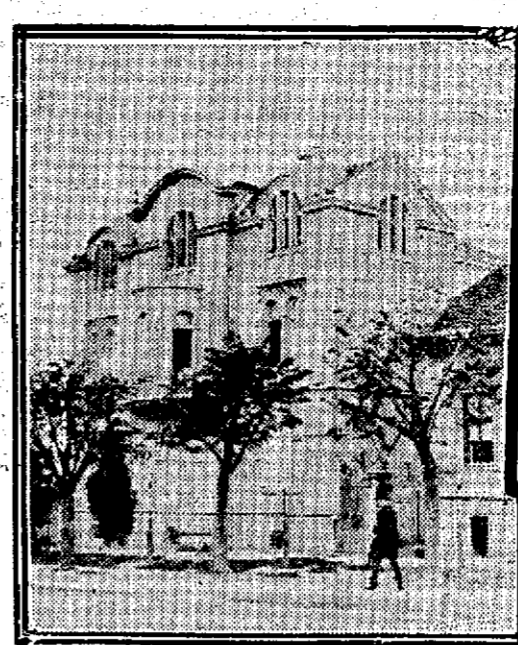

Early History.
No country on the face of the globe has had more trials and tribulations than this little land, and her history reads like a romance. At the beginning of the seventh century the race of Slavs known as Serbians were living on the northern slopes of the Carpathian Mountains and were divided into different States. During the tenth and eleventh centuries attempts were made to unite these provinces into one kingdom, but it was not until the last part of the twelfth century that this was accomplished. The family of Nemanya, the Great Zupan of the Province of Rashka, then became the reigning family and ruled from 1159 until 1371. Stephen Nemanya took for himself the title of king but was never crowned, but this honor came to his son Stephen, who was formally crowned as the first Serbian king in 1222. During the reign of the Nemanyich dynasty the little kingdom was constantly menaced by its neighbors and finally in 1389 it was subdued by the Turks when the flower of the Serbian aristocracy perished in the battle of Kossova in their final struggle against the enemy. The Sultan, however, did not finally take charge of the country until 1459, and from that time until 1867 it was ruled by the Turks. During these centuries of Mohammedan rule the Serbians were oppressed to such an extent that revolution and insurrections were almost yearly occurrences.

After the fortress at Belgrade had been regained from the Turks the Obrenovich dynasty came into power. Internal strife caused the assassination of Prince Michael in a park near Belgrade a year later and King Milan became the ruler. His reign was a troubled one on account of domestic infelicity, and after he divorced Queen Natalie he was forced to abdicate in favor of his son Alexander in 1889. This young man was pampered by the Serbian nobility and ruined by being allowed to do exactly as he pleased. He sowed his wild oats in an open fashion and finally outraged the decency of the people by marrying his mistress, Draga Mashin, and placing her on the Serbian throne. In 1903 King Alexander and Queen Draga were assassinated and their bodies thrown from the window of the old palace at Belgrade.

The present King Peter Kara-georgievich was the next ruler. From that time until the first Balkan war, about eighteen months ago, Serbia lived in comparative peace except for the trivial troubles between the political parties which exist in every country. King Peter has several children, one of whom, Prince Alexander, will shortly be betrothed to one of the daughters of the Czar of Russia—another important move in the game of European chess.

The U.S. Consulate

Street Scene in Belgrade

Religion.

The Greek Church is the religion of Serbia, and while there is some superstition among the peasantry the educated Serbian is singularly free from many of the beliefs of the Slav races.

The women are rather pretty, and the peasant class is fond of bright colors, fancy embroidery and gaudy head dresses. Jewelry is popular especially, and they wear beads of every variety. Their shoes are rather curious, being made of plaited leather and turned up in front like the runner of a sleigh. No heels are used. Heavy stockings are worn, and when long walks are to be taken straps fastened to the shoes are bound about the leg almost to the knee. The people are hard-working and thrifty, for while their farms are not large and their agricultural implements of the crudest kind the crops compare favorably with those of the larger countries. This is all the more to their credit from the fact that their land does not lie together, but is generally composed of parcels which are very often wide apart and much of the farmer's time is taken up in going from one plot to the other.

Laws Prevent Poverty.

No Serbian peasant will suffer from poverty if he will work, except at the present time, when the country is in a state of war. There are three peculiar institutions which guard against poverty. First, there is a law passed in 1878 by virtue of which a minimum of a peasant's property cannot be sold for debt—five acres of land, a pair of oxen, plough, and other agricultural tools; second, an old law by which every peasant having some land was bound to contribute after every harvest some corn or wheat to the Municipal Provident Magazine. This Magazine loans in time of need corn for consumption or sowing at a very moderate interest. The third is a custom known as "Moba"—the whole population of the village going to help a poor peasant, cut his harvest and store it away in good time. This useful custom is attended with picturesque scenes, for after the day's work is done the peasants go to the home of the man whose harvest they have gathered, where, after a prayer, there is a meal—not always elaborate. This is followed by the young people spending the evening in singing and dancing.

The peasant's house consists of a large kitchen, with a square opening for the chimney, and one or two adjoining rooms. The kitchen is the dining room and living room as well. Under the house there is a cellar where the wine, plum whiskey and winter store of vegetables are kept. This usually consists of cabbage, sauerkraut, potatoes, onions and paprika. The winter supply of meat, salted beef and pork, is kept hanging in the open chimney.

That Serbia is an agricultural country is evidenced from the fact that eighty-two per cent. of her entire population (nearly 3,000,000) are peasants.

Belgrade.

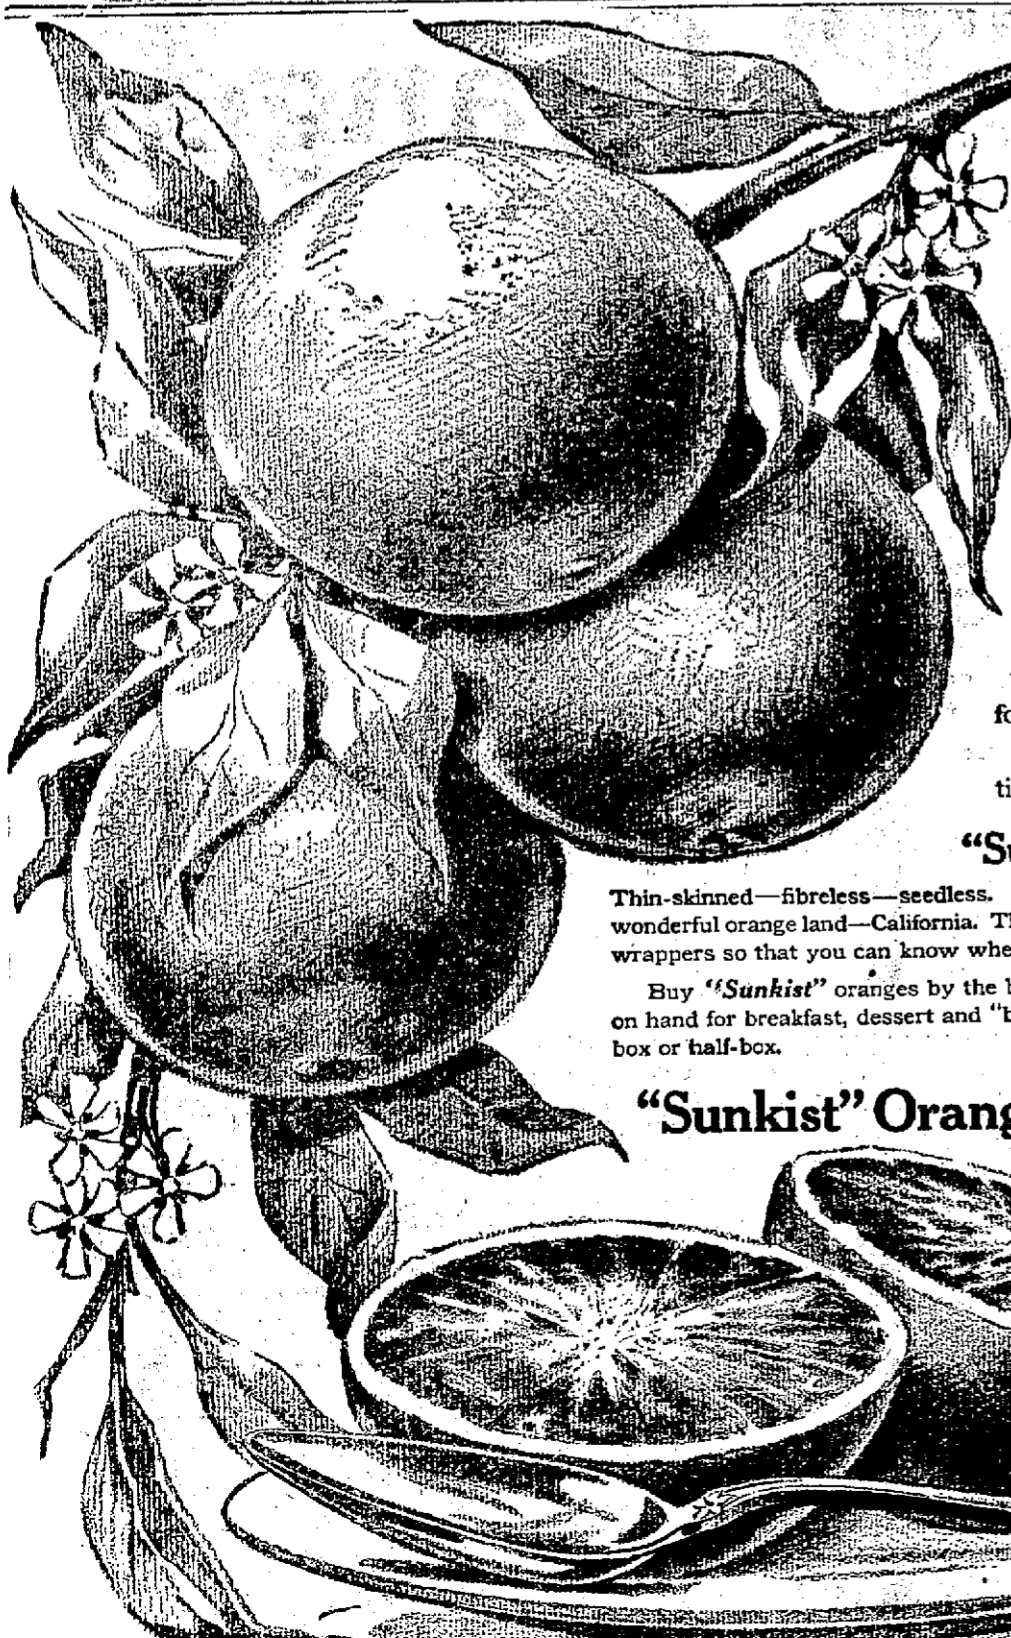

Belgrade, the capital, is the educational and social center of the country. It is a pretty little city of seventy thousand, and is beautifully located at the junction of the Save and Danube Rivers. When war was declared against Turkey the Serbians were busy beautifying their capital; the streets were being paved with concrete, a new palace and a new parliament house were in course of erection—in fact, Belgrade was in the heights of what we Americans call a "boom," but the workmen had to be turned into soldiers and only the older men were left at the work. There is a university in the city, looking banks and a house.

Musical and Literature.
The Serbians love music, both vocal and instrumental. Their principal musical instruments are the gusle and tambura. The former is made of maple, the cavity being covered by a tightly stretched skin and the strings are formed from horsehair. The short but highly arched bow has also horsehair for its strings. The tambura is used to accompany singers and is not unlike a mandolin. Dancing is one of the principal amusements, the favorite one being not unlike a quadrille.

Serbia is rich in literature, both in science and poetry, but unfortunately very little of it has been translated into English, except the works of Doctor Cvijlich, whose geographical researches in the Balkan States have been translated into several languages. One of the great electrical men of the age, Nikola Tesla, now a citizen of the United States is a Serbian. Few Serbian women have been writers of any note. Zmaj, Jovan Vovachovich, who died in 1904, was successful as a writer of verse and translator, and one is surprised to find such poems as Enoch Arden in the Serbian language in Belgrade bookstores. During the last years of his life Vovachovich wrote poems of child life which are highly regarded by his countrymen. We owe some of our best known proverbs to Serbia, among them the following:

"It is better to serve a good man than to give orders to a bad man."
"It is better to be poor and honest than rich and dishonest."
"Who judges hastily will repeat quickly."
"The fools build the houses; the wise men buy them when they are ready."
"Where the devil cannot cause mischief there he sends an old woman and she does it."

"SUNKIST" Oranges Seedless—Tree Ripened

They have that delicious tang or smack that makes you want more. Their juice is richer than wine. Their sweetness has the delicate, zestful flavor which only comes to an orange that ripens slowly on its sunny bough, during warm, golden days. They are the finest oranges grown in all the world.

Special Sale All Next Week

Let the babies have all they want of "Sunkist" seedless oranges—the safe and healthful treat for children. The little codgers cry for these sweet, juicy oranges. No seeds or fibre to hurt them.

"Sunkist" fruit is the cleanest of all fruits—never touched by bare hands. Every "Sunkist" orange and lemon is picked, wrapped in tissue paper, and packed for shipping by experts who wear clean, white, cotton gloves. "Sunkist" packing houses are clean, airy, sanitary.

"Sunkist" Oranges

Thin-skinned—fibreless—seedless. The finest fruit selected from the orange groves of the wonderful orange land—California. This high-quality fruit is wrapped in "Sunkist" tissue paper wrappers so that you can know when you are getting the finest oranges grown.

Buy "Sunkist" oranges by the box. They keep for weeks solid and firm. Have them on hand for breakfast, dessert and "between meals." Cheap by the dozen—cheaper by the box or half-box.

Do You Know How "Sunkist" Lemons Improve Fish and Meats and Salads?

See the plentiful juice that bursts from a fine "Sunkist" lemon! It gives a tempting, piquant flavor to steaks, and roasts, and poultry—it makes a delicious dainty of the plainest salad. When squeezed into drinking water, lemon juice is a wonderful safeguard against impurities and adds a hundredfold to the refreshing taste. Send for our free booklet on uses of lemons and oranges.

"Sunkist" lemons are the finest selected fruit from the groves of California—the world's most famous lemon groves. Thin-skinned—mostly seedless. Picked and packed by gloved hands.

"Sunkist" Oranges and Lemons Furnish Your Table with Handsome Rogers Silverware

Every "Sunkist" orange and lemon is protected by a wrapper of tissue paper.

Cut the trademarks from these wrappers. Send them to us. We offer as premiums, handsome, rich pieces of Rogers A-1 Standard Guaranteed Silverware. 27 different premiums, all "Sunkist" design. Everything to furnish your table luxuriously for a lifetime.

In ordering more than one piece of silverware, send all amounts of 24 cents and over by registered mail, postoffice or express order, or bank draft. Do not send silver or paper money through the mails.

Trademarks from "Red Ball" orange and lemon wrappers count same as "Sunkist."

Tell Your Dealer You Want

"Sunkist" Oranges and Lemons in "Sunkist" Wrappers

SEND FOR THIS ORANGE SPOON

For each orange spoon desired, send 12 "Sunkist" or "Red Ball" orange or lemon wrappers and six 2-cent stamps.

Send your name and full address for our complete free premium sheet and "Sunkist" Premium Club Plan. Address all orders for premiums, and all inquiries to

"Sunkist" Premiums

Orange Spoons	Soup or Cereal Spoons
Dessert Spoons	Children's Knives
Fruit Knives	Children's Forks
Table Knives	Baby Spoons
Table Forks	Sugar Shells
Table Spoons	Orange or Sherbet Cups
Ten Spoons	Pie Servers
Oyster Forks	Butter Serving Knives
Salad Forks	Edible Butter Spreaders
Cold Meat Forks	Napkin Rings
Coffee Spoons	Salt Shakers
Bouillon Spoons	Pepper Shakers
Berry Spoons	Gravy or Soup Ladles
Ice Cream Forks

California Fruit Growers Exchange, 139 North Clark Street, Chicago

SERIOUS HEART DISEASE OFTEN CURED

By The Great Specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., Who Will Send His New Heart Book And a Two Pound Treatment Free to The Sick.

Sick people whose hearts are weak, deranged or diseased, who have short breath, palpitation, irregular heartbeat, pain in left side, shoulder and arm, or dropsy, should by all means send for the Doctor's new Book and Free Treatment. He cures many cases called incurable. Bad cases usually relieved in a day or two.

So remarkable are the results that he wishes every sick person to test this great treatment at his expense. His book will show that he is recommended by Professors, Physicians, Bishops, Statesmen, Bankers, Editors, Prominent Citizens and others.

These treatments are the result of thirty years' extensive research and remarkable success in treating the various ailments of the heart, stomach, liver, kidneys and nerves, which so often complicate each case. So astonishing are the cures effected, in most cases, that he is led to make this very liberal and unusual offer.

Certainly nothing could be more generous. Few physicians have such confidence in their treatments. You may never have such an opportunity again. No death, no cure more sudden than that from heart disease.

Mr. Gilbert Ball, Alton, Ill., cured after several physicians failed. Mrs. Elvira Sanders, Decatur, Neb., after 16 failed. Mr. Austin J. Sanderson, Lyndon, Kans., after 3 failed. Mr. J. W. Sweeney, Swanton, after 3 failed. Mrs. Lizzie Ewing, No. 1, Charleston, O., after two pronounced her incurable. Many others have been cured after 5 to 15 physicians had failed.

Send at once to Dr. Franklin Miles, Dept. HC, 718 to 728 Main St., Elkhart, Indiana, for Book and $2.50 Free Treatment before it is too late.

ORFORDVILLE

Orfordville, Jan. 22.—Miss Gena Stuvengen, librarian at the public library, and Mrs. J. N. Well, a member of the library board, were in Janesville on Thursday selecting some new books.

John C. Eggen's stock of harness and shoe repairing goods arrived on Thursday and are being gotten in place. They expect to be ready for business in a day or two.

Dan Mowe was a passenger to Milwaukee on Wednesday afternoon. He returned on Thursday. John Shaffer was in charge of the depot during his absence.

Otis Lofthus of Broadhead was in the village in Thursday. It is reported that he is negotiating for a farm near the village limits.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Rime returned home on Thursday morning after spending some time at the home of Mrs. Rime's parents, near Koshkonong.

A party of young people went from the village on Friday evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ashby, where they held an oyster supper and a general good time. The gathering was in honor of Miss Grace, who is to leave for Idaho on Saturday.

ROCK

Rock, Jan. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. Luther of Richmond, Wisconsin, are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Fred Uehling.

Guy Ainsworth has moved his family to Racine, where he has rented a farm for the coming season.

Mrs. M. A. Baker, who was operated on last Monday in Chicago, is doing nicely and her many friends hope to see her home soon.

Mrs. Chas. Cleveland was called to Madison last Wednesday by the sudden death of her mother.

This week is market week. Farmers are hauling tobacco and hogs to Janesville.

The many friends of F. J. Beilharz are glad to hear he is regaining his health after his operation.

PATENTS TO INVENTORS.

Morsell & Caldwell, solicitors of patents, 412 Madison Bldg., Milwaukee, and Robinson Bldg., Racine, report patents issued to Wisconsin inventors on January 20, 1914, as follows:

Francis M. Baker, Viroqua, harvester reel; Chas. F. Burgess, Madison, lamp; Wm. J. Crumpton, Superior, accounting device; Bartholomew Dorney, Marshfield, door check; John W. Hartley, Nashotah, spring draft attachment; James W. Hubbard, Eau Claire, railway switch; Wm. G. MacKie, Green Bay, weighing sand scow; John E. Mollie, Wausau, paper holder for typewriters; John B. Olson, Ft. Atkinson, stanchion; Walter B. Pearson, Chicago, Ill., and E. R. Seward, Madison, M., transmission mechanism; Hans Sany, Stoughton, bolster spring; Adolph R. Wieser, Milwaukee, feed mechanism for strands; Joseph H. Zeis, Milwaukee, needle controlling transfer means for knitting machines.

Self Realization.

There is a time in every man's education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that imitation is suicide; that he must take himself for better or for worse, as his portion; that, though the wide universe is full of good, no kernel of nourishing corn can come to him but through his toil bestowed on that plot of ground which is given him to till.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

WEST INDIES and the PANAMA CANAL CRUISES

Including SIDE TRIP ON THE CANAL By Postal Cruising Steamer "VICTORIA LUISE"

From NEW YORK Feb. 7 March 11 April 11 16 to 27 Days, $145-$175 AND UP

Also Cruises Around the World through the Panama Canal, Mediterranean trips, etc.

Send For Booklet, Sailing Circular

HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINE

150 West Randolph St. Chicago, Ill., or Local Agents

NATIONAL BALLAD IS BEING SEARCHED FOR

Seek to Discover Something That is Entirely Original in America.

A national search for old ballads has been inaugurated by the United States bureau of education. Convinced that many of the English and Scottish popular ballads of olden times still survive in the United States, and that immediate steps are necessary to rescue them from oblivion, the bureau has commissioned Prof. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of Virginia, a prominent folk-song investigator, to institute a nationwide search for versions of these old ballads that once helped to mold the character of the men and women who made up the larger part of the Colonial population of this country.

For the purpose of this search, no collected immediately they can never be collected at all. Prof. Smith asserts. "Many influences are tending to obliterate them. Caught but empty with the decadence of communal singing, the growing diversity of interests, the appeal to what is divisive and separatist in our national life, the presence of the artificial and self-conscious in modern writing, are depriving our homes and school-rooms of a kind of literature which, for community of feeling, for vigor of narrative, for vividness of portraiture, and for utter simplicity of style and content, is not surpassed in the whole history of English or American song."

A list of 305 of the ballads, all that are known to exist, has been distributed to teachers and others by the bureau of education. Those who receive the lists are asked to indicate whether they or their friends know any of the ballads. The plan is to collect, as far as possible, for each state, so that state folklore societies may be encouraged to take up the work and preserve a body of valuable popular literature that threatens to become extinct.

Among the ballads for which survivors are sought are: Robin Hood; The Beggar Laddies; Bonny Barbara Allan; The Crafty Farmer; Duithum; The Earl of Mar's Daughter; Fair Annie; Johnnie Armstrong's Last Goodnight; Lady Isabel and the Elf Knight; Child Maurice; The Lass of Roch Royal; The Mermaid; Rob Roy; The Three Ravens; Trooper and Maid; and the Wife of Usher's Well.

SYBIL RICHARDSON IS LAUREAN HEAD

Girls' Literary Society Hold Election of Officers at Delightful Banquet Last Evening.

Miss Sybil Richardson was chosen president of the Laurean Literary Society, late yesterday afternoon, at a delightful banquet, held by the members of the club in honor of the new officers. The election took place during the banquet, and the following were chosen to hold office for the remainder of the year: President, Sybil Richardson; vice president, Phyllis Kelly; secretary, Frances Granger; treasurer, Hilda Woolf; sergeant at arms, Eleanor Burdick; standing committee, Bessie Voltz, chairman; Ruth Granger and Marion Matheson.

The menu for the spread consisted of: waffles, potato chips, chocolate, chocolate sauce, sandwiches, pickles, olives, apples, candy and ice cream. The party broke up at seven thirty.

Tip to Linen Buyers.

In buying table linen be careful to get a piece that is not full of knots as it is very apt to wear into holes at those places.

Heart to Heart Talks

By CHARLES N. LURIE

ALL THAT HE HAD LEFT.

"Naked man comes into the world; naked of worldly goods he passes out." Not said for the first time, of course, and destined to be repeated until the last man takes his leave.

But true nevertheless.

Constantly we hear testimony to that effect in some form or other. One of the latest stories concerns Jay Cooke, the famous financier of the northern cause in the civil war. He was very wealthy for years, but the hard times of the seventies came, and his fortune vanished.

He had built himself a fine house at Ogouitz, Pa. It was his pride and pleasure to have his friends visit the beautiful mansion, surrounded by gardens and fertile acres. But the panic was ruthless and demanded from him the house and estate.

"Cooke was anxious to dispose of that splendid property," said John Wanamaker recently. "We went to the roof. Looking at the 200 acres he had, he said: 'Isn't it beautiful? I have enjoyed it a little while, and now it has to be sold.'"

"AND NOW I HAVE NOTHING—NOTHING EXCEPT WHAT I GAVE AWAY."

"All was gone except the hospitals, schools and Christian work he had done. He had given all away."

"Nothing except what I gave away!" Splendid thought!

Money, land, house and goods were gone, perhaps forever; for Cooke was no longer a young man, with the recuperative power of youth. The world called him "ruined." Never again could he climb to the pinnacle of place, power and wealth he had held.

But with him remained the memory of good deeds, the savor of kindly activities in the service of others. Nothing could take them away.

They were intangible assets of the sort upon which no law officer could levy. But they were not the less real and valuable.

Value is a relative term. What one person deems precious is accounted of little or no worth by others. But all thinking persons unite in holding that the memory of good accomplished in one's lifetime is a priceless possession when the time comes for leaving gold and land and gear.

Somewhat it must be true, since men and women in all ages have affirmed its truth.

Pleasant Fields of Holy Writ

Save for my daily range

Among the pleasant fields of Holy Writ, I might despair.

—Tennyson.

The International Sunday School Lesson.

Motto for this week: "There is no field of labor—no field of Christian benevolence which has yielded a greater harvest to our National interests and National character than the great institution of the Sunday School."—John Bright, Statesman.

First Quarter, Lesson IV. Luke 8: 1-3; 10: 38-42.

January 25, 1914.

SERVING JESUS.

(The Story.)

Jesus was a distinct social. He loved people. He adorned and beautified with his presence and miracles all domestic events and amenities. He smiled and indulged in humor. With him the customs of the Orient, in general, or of Palestine in particular, he allowed himself to be ministered to by a group of devoted women, who in public wore their veils and stood apart when he worked his miracle or preached his sermons. St. Luke has a narrative which follows his inimitable description of Jesus' compassionate attitude toward the repentant woman in Simon's house with a roll of the pious women who were devoted to the Master: Mary of Magdala; Joanna, wife of Chusa; Herod's steward; and Susanna. Such a life, such associations, is a flat denial of asceticism as an element in religion. Jesus was no hermit. This social disposition of Jesus had its counterpart in his attitude toward the favored family in Bethany among the olives and vines of the hillside was a white-walled villa, which sheltered three choice spirits—a brother and two sisters, all devotedly attached to him. Here he found comradeship, shelter from the criticism of military affairs, having passed the senate increased the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress.

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hy-

Tooth Talks

With reference to the dental inspection which is now being conducted among the Janesville school children, the following extracts from an address by Dr. H. O. Brown of Columbus, Ohio, read before a conference of city health officers, and later published in a bulletin by the Ohio state board of health, will be of interest. The subject of the paper was "Oral Hygiene and Its Relation to Public Health." Parts of the address are given below:

"I would respectfully call attention to the close relation which should exist between the health board, the school board, the physician, and specialist and the dentist, and particularly to the influence of carious and diseased teeth, as well as other pathological conditions of the mouth upon general systemic disturbances. Never before has there been such an organized effort to impress upon the public the importance of sanitation, and today prevention is the watchword of all those having an interest in the welfare of not only the present, but the future generations. We recognize that it will require time and patience to thoroughly educate the public in this particular, and that it will be necessary for those in authority, such as yourselves, to assume an aggressive attitude. But through the observance of general hygienic precautions we can hope to eliminate many of the most common and contagious and infectious diseases. The oral cavity, the teeth and the contagious tissues assume an exceedingly important role in the great play of nature."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.

"As an evidence of the recent and increasing consideration of the teeth as they relate to general physical conditions, I submit the following: Dentists are now, and have been for a few years, attached to the medical corps in the army and a bill is now pending before the house committee on military affairs, having passed the senate, increasing the number and giving them rank. A similar bill, with reference to the navy, has just recently passed the house, and as a member of the legislative committee of our National Dental Association, I will say that we hope for the enactment of both measures at the present session of congress."

"The question of teaching oral hygiene in the public schools has not been so generally agitated, but like medical and dental inspection, it is certain to come. Educating the public in hygienic precaution is a question of much importance, and requires a concerted effort on the part of many, to accomplish the desired result."

"American dentistry stands today, as it has always stood, foremost in the eyes of the world. However, we must admit that Germany, or at least some parts of it, has been more aggressive, or has taken the initiative to establishing a system of dental inspection in their public schools, and the results of their work have attracted the attention of the whole world."

"This question has been agitated in various parts of the United States, at different times, and its needs were never greater than at present. The importance of such inspection is of great moment, but like all other advanced ideas, it may meet with objections from some unexpected sources. Be that as it may, the importance of this work, and the benefit to be derived therefrom, demand that it be established, and no organization, individually or collectively, is in a position to exert as powerful an influence in this movement as your association. One of the most decided benefits to be derived from such an inspection will be the moral effect upon not only the children, but the parents as well, for this will impress upon all the close relation that the mouth and teeth bear to the general health, and this alone would be sufficient benefit to cause such a course to be adopted."

Through the mouth we receive our nourishment, and herein, by mastication, and insalivation, begins the first and most important step in the process of digestion. Therefore, to make the best possible, good teeth are essential.</

Gazette Want Ads bring a message to you each day. Do you read and profit by it?

THE RATE FOR ADVERTISEMENTS—In these classified columns is 1/2-cent a word each insertion. No order for less than 25 cents. The charge rate is 1 cent per word. Address can be given care of Gazette if so desired.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

WHEN YOU THINK of insurance, think of C. P. Beers. 1-28-11.

IF IT IS GOOD HARDWARE, McNamara has it.

RAZORS HONED—Premo Bros. 27-11.

QUALITY CANDIES AT RAZOOK'S 27-11.

FOR GOOD GOODS Talk to Lowell. 1-16-30-11.

ELECTRICAL WIRING and repairing of all kinds. Fixtures and electrical supplies. M. A. Jorsch, 422 Lincoln street. New phone 747. White, Old phone 746. 1-12-23-11.

LICENSED PLUMBER—Get my prices and save money on your plumbing, heating, etc. W. H. Smith, 58 So. River street, Both phones. 1-18-26-11.

HARNESS WASHED AND OILED—A perfect job, harness taken apart and each separate piece washed and oiled. To keep my men busy during the dull season I will do this work for $1.00, regular price is $1.50. Here's your chance to save. 2 bars. 26-11. Frank Sadler, Court street Bridge. 1-1-30-11.

DRY CLEANING AND DYEING—Badger Laundry and Dye Works do all kinds of dyeing and cleaning by most up-to-date methods. Also laundrying by experts. We guarantee perfect results with the most delicate fabrics. 4-10-4-eod.

SITUATION WANTED, MALE

STEADY WORK WANTED—By strictly sober man. Address "Work" care Gazette. 3-1-21-11.

WANTED—Work of any kind by a good man. 327 Western Ave. New phone Black 727. 2-1-15-11.

SITUATION WANTED, FEMALE

STEADY WIDOW with son, age 11, wishes position as housekeeper for bachelor or in widower's home, where honesty and neatness would be appreciated. City or country. Moderate wages. Please Hefele, Route 1, Whitewater, Wis. 3-1-13-11.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

WANTED—Reliable woman for general housework where woman is invalid. Apply 508 So. Main street or Rock county phone 532 White. 4-1-23-11.

WANTED—An experienced dining room girl, good wages. Inquire at 401 W. Milwaukee. 4-1-22-11.

WANTED—An experienced dining room girl, Flynn's Restaurant. 4-1-21-11.

WANTED—Immediately, dining room girl. Girls for private houses and hotels. Mrs. E. McCarthy, 522 West Milwaukee street. Both phones. 4-1-14-11.

MALE HELP WANTED

WANTED—A good all around miller at Doty's Mill. 5-1-22-11.

BOY WANTED—10 to 12 years old, of good habits; good home and education to one approved. Adoption considered. Address "Z" care Gazette. 5-1-20-11.

WANTED—Many men get $12 to $20 a week who might make over $2,000 annually. If you are one of these, call on Chas. Box 633, Oakshosh, Wis. We have an opening. No capital required. 5-1-19-11.

WANTED—Men to learn the barber trade. Thousands have become successful shop owners by our system and send to us for barbers' complete new men's weeks' complements. Tools given. Wages while learning. Particulars mailed free. Write—Moler Barber College, Milwaukee, Wis. 5-1-17-11.

WANTED MISCELLANEOUS

WANTED—Washings to do at home, work called for and delivered. Address 335 Western avenue. Old phone 1021. New, Black 181. 5-1-23-11.

WANTED TO BUY—Green cord wood. Old phone 1675. 5-1-23-11.

WANTED—Furnished rooms and board for man and wife in private family. West Side preferred. Call Old phone 1762. 5-1-23-11.

INSTRUCTION

WANTED—A telegraphy student. Will pay either sex 10 cents per hour while they learn. 35-1-21-11. 922.

REAL ESTATE WANTED

WANTED TO BUY—For cash the best $2,000 house we can get in Second ward. See J. H. Burns, White House. 3-1-22-11.

WANTED TO BUY—6 or 7 room house in Second or Third ward. Owner to take three vacant lots as part payment. Address "H" care Gazette. 3-1-22-11.

WANTED—We have several cash buyers for small houses in this city. Priced from $2,000 to $4,000. Tell us about your house—quick! Bauer & Co., Bell phone 1013. 421 Hayes Block, Rock County phone 411 Red. 3-1-21-11.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET—FOR RENT—Furnished rooms, 121 S. Academy street. 5-1-23-11.

FOR RENT—Four furnished rooms. Inquire 431 Terrace. Old phone 1632. 5-1-22-11.

FOR RENT—Warm room with bath. Close in. Address "Z. Y." care Gazette. 5-1-21-11.

FOR RENT—To gentlemen one heated furnished room. Convenient to railroad men. 509 W. Milwaukee street. 5-1-21-11.

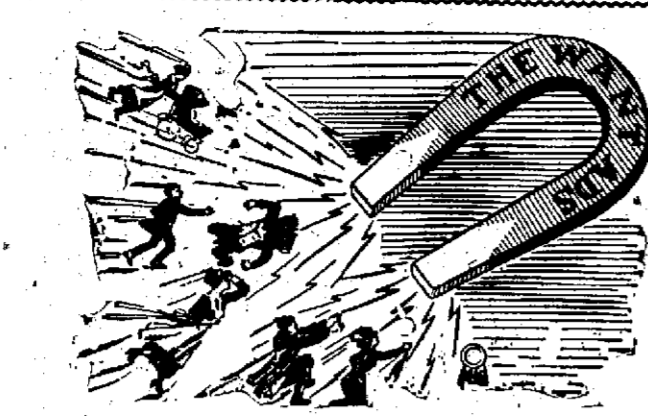

FOR RENT—Modern steam-heated furnished room, 423 So. Bluff St. 5-1-20-11.

FOR RENT—Room, large light steam heated room, hot and cold water, almost opposite the best boarding house in the city. Bell phone 1975. 3-1-20-11.

CARD AND ROOM TO LET

WANTED—Boarders and roomers, all modern conveniences, $5.00 per week. 15 No. Jackson St. 10-1-23-11.

WANTED—Two boarders at 302 So. Academy. 10-1-21-11.

They Pull Like a Magnet

The Gazette little WANT ADS have a pulling power all out of proportion to their size and apparent importance.

They attract men and women, seeking help and work; buyers seeking sellers; sellers seeking buyers; landlords to tenants; tenants to landlords—just as a magnet attracts and pulls to it particles of iron and steel lying within a certain radius.

The Gazette, read in over 6,600 homes in Janesville and vicinity every night, is the most powerful WANT AD MAGNET in Rock County.

FLATS FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Four room flat, 21 No. Pearl street. Mrs. W. S. Sutton. 45-1-23-11.

FOR RENT—Five-room flat, 21 No. Main street. F. E. Pierson. 45-1-23-11.

FOR RENT—Six rooms and bath, ground floor apartment, steam heat, hot water in bath and kitchen, janitor service. H. J. Cunningham Agency. 45-1-22-11.

FOR RENT—Steam heated flat, 3 D. Grubb. 45-1-20-11.

FOR RENT—Heated flat, T. Mackin. 45-1-21-11.

FOR RENT—Modern flat, 217 Dodge street. Old phone 791. 45-10-14-11.

HOUSES TO RENT

HOUSES TO RENT—Both phones. H. H. Blanchard. 11-1-23-11.

FOR RENT—Six-room house Fifth ward. Phone Red 206. 11-1-20-11.

FOR SALE OR RENT

FOR SALE OR RENT—10-room house, 453 No. Washington street. New phone 910. White. 50-1-23-11.

FARMS TO LET

FOR RENT—On shares, 140 acres of land, 5 miles northwest of Janesville. Possession given March 1. Inquire 326 Linn street. 23-1-23-11.

BUSINESS PROPERTY

FOR RENT—Second floor, 4x16 feet new building, 301 N. St. back of Myers Theatre, suitable for light manufacturing business. Rent reasonable. Apply Geo. Decker at the Janesville Motor Co. 33-1-17-11.

AUTOMOBILES

AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING—Carriage work and general body smithing. Dusk Bros. in Globe Shop, North Main and Fourth ave. R. C. phone Red 349. B. F. Blanchard in same old stand. 13-12-26-13-11-eod.

FOR SALE—One "E. M. F. 30" touring car. Recently overhauled. All car times, price $300. Alderman & Drummond. 13-1-21-11.

ATTENTION 1913 FORD OWNERS—We have plans for several 1913 Ford cars. We will make exchange proposition with anyone having one of these cars in good condition, who is desirous of an up-to-date car. Alderman & Drummond. 13-1-20-11.

MOTORCYCLES

MOTORCYCLES AND BICYCLE REPAIRS—Knives and scissors sharpened. Saws filed. Skates sharpened. C. H. Cox, Corn Exchange. 37-11-20-eod-11.

FOR SALE MISCELLANEOUS

FOR SALE—First class cow feed, $14 per ton. Doty's Mill. 13-1-22-11.

FOR SALE—Dry cord wood. Bell phone. D. J. McJury. 13-1-19-11.

FOR SALE—At St. Joseph's convent, a new set of St. Joseph's Golden Candles, Statues, Crucifixes and Prayer Books at reasonable prices. 13-1-23-11.

FOR SALE—Heavy wrapping paper for laying under carpets. Gazette office. 9-27-11.

FOR SALE—Engraved cards, Wedding invitations and Announcements engraved and embossed. Stationery produced in the very best and newest letter design. We have maps and all information. Printed on strong bond paper, handy size, price 25c, or free with a year's advance subscription to the Daily Gazette. 3-1-22-11.

FOR SALE—Complete map of Rock County, showing all roads, school houses, churches, towns, villages of acres and all information. Printed on strong bond paper, handy size, price 25c, or free with a year's advance subscription to the Daily Gazette. 3-1-22-11.

BICYCLE SUPPLIES—Premo Brothers. 13-1-23-11.

FOR SALE—Scratch tablets. Big size 5 cents. Gazette office. 2-18-11.

THE NEW GAZETTE PARCELS—POST MAPS of the United States giving all units of land zones from our unit No. 2263, the most correct map published, are ready for delivery at the Gazette. By paying up back subscriptions and paying for one year in advance for the Daily Gazette, the map will be sent free. The map is regularly sold at $1.00. Gazette patrons may have it at 25 cents or by mail at 35 cents. 2-13-11.

PAPER TOWELS AND FIXTURES—Sanitary and economical for schools and public buildings, factories, work rooms, etc., indispensable for the kitchen. 25c per roll. $9 case of 50 rolls. Gazette Printing Dept., Phone 77-4 rings Bell, 27 Rock County. 13-12-11.

WHITE PAPER FOR KITCHEN—shelves, size 26x38 inches. Put up in packages of 20 sheets. 10 cents each. Gazette Printing Dept. 3-10-11.

LIVESTOCK

FOR SALE—One 3/4 Guernsey Bull calf. Three weeks old. Well marked. F. S. Flagler, Rte. 8, Box 30, Janesville. 21-1-23-11.

FOR SALE—Two graded Holstein cows. One due to freshen soon. Other with calf at side. Wm. Conway, Rte. No. 2 Janesville. 21-1-23-11.

FOR SALE—One advance registry Holstein bull, 1 year old, 3/4 white, nicely marked and large. W. C. Hagaman, New phone. 21-1-16-11.

FOR SALE—Durham bull calves, 3 months old. These are first class stock. E. H. Parker & Son, 2 miles East of Janesville. 21-12-20-11.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

FOR SALE—A flourishing grocery business; or would consider taking in a good partner. Address "Opportunity," Care of Gazette. 17-1-22-11.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES

FOR SALE—Horse, harness and dray, for light work. New phone Red 576. Old phone 913. 26-1-23-11.

WANTED—200 horses for drainage work. Will exchange fine farm for same. Will be at the Heller House, 421 West Milwaukee street, Janesville, every Sunday and Monday during January and February. Ask for Henry J. Jackson, or address 215 South Dearborn street, Chicago. 5-1-23-11.

WANTED—Team of horses 1,200 or 1,300 from 6 to 8 years or will trade for one now in service 13 and 15 years old. C. W. Schwartz, Janesville, Wis. 26-1-19-11.

FARMERS ATTENTION

WANTED—50 tons choice dry ear corn. G. H. Howard, for further information call or see Nolan Bros & Co. 50-1-22-11.

REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Two lots, one facing East street, one facing Wisconsin street. Cement walk on East street. Inquire "B. F." Gazette. 31-1-23-11.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Eight-room house in desirable residence district. Arthur M. Fisher. 33-1-23-11.

FOR SALE—If you are contemplating building this year, see us and get our prices on lots well located in different parts of the city. J. H. Burns, White House. 33-1-23-11.

FOR SALE—A good frame house in good repair. Large lot in Fourth ward. $1400. Also a good house on Franklin street, 7 rooms. Good repair. Price $1450. See J. H. Burns at White House, 19 and 21 South River street. 33-1-22-11.

FOR SALE—Bargains in real estate. H. J. Cunningham Agency. 33-1-22-11.

FOR SALE—Four good homes in the city. Would like to sell quick to settle estate. These are bargains. $1500 to $2500. A. W. Hall, 115 Locust street, both phones. 33-1-22-11.

FOR SALE—At a bargain, 6-room house on full lot in Fourth ward. Good repair. Inquire Owner care Gazette. 33-1-22-11.

FOR SALE—Nice 7-room house, modern improvements, third ward, three blocks from Milwaukee St. bridge, owner leaving town. H. A. Moesser, 123 W. Milwaukee Street. 33-1-21-11.

FOR SALE—120 acres good land, 4 miles from Oregon, Wis. Good house, large new basement barn, tobacco shed and other good buildings. This farm can be bought at a great bargain. One-half time at 5 per cent. If interested call and see photos. W. J. Cannon, 218 W. Mill St. 33-1-21-11.

FOR SALE—Nice 160 acre farm, one mile from No. Academy street. Excellent buildings and land. Great chance. H. A. Moesser, 123 West Milwaukee street. 33-1-21-11.

FOR SALE—80 acre farm, good land and buildings, 5 miles from Janesville. A bargain, owner giving up farming. H. A. Moesser, 123 West Milwaukee street. 33-1-21-11.

FOR SALE—20 acres of good land near city limits. Excellent for truck or chicken farming. H. A. Moesser, 123 West Milwaukee St. 33-1-21-11.

FOR SALE—To close estate, dwelling No. 306 No. Academy street, Janesville, Wis. Suitable terms will be granted. F. L. Clemons, executor of the will of Belva Stevens. 33-1-16-11.

FOR SALE—A very good house on So. Jackson street, cheap. Taken at once. J. B. Kennedy. 33-1-17-11.

MACHINERY & TOOLS

FOR SALE—Second hand two story freight elevator, cheap. H. L. McNamara. 19-1-21-11.

FINANCIAL

FOR SALE—First farm mortgages, netting six per cent, secured by land worth from ten to ten times the amount of the mortgage. E. H. Peterson, Janesville, Wis. 23-11-6-11.

POULTRY AND HOUSEHOLD PETS—WANTED—Ducks, geese, fat hens, hides and furs. S. W. Rotstein Iron Co., 80 So. River street. 12-26-eod-11.

FOR SALE—Barrad Rock cockerels, Nym. Clark, New phone, Janesville, Rte. No. 1. 23-1-20-11.

FOR SALE—White Wyandotte roosters and Barrad Rock hens and pullets. R. I. F. Arnold. 22-1-22-11.

BICYCLES

HIGH GRADE BICYCLES, C. H. Cox. 48-12-30-11.

PREMO BROTHERS for bicycles. 48-11-23-11.

FARM IMPLEMENTS

FOR SALE—One horse power hay press. Nitscher Implement Co. 20-12-23-11.

FOR SALE—One six horse Stover gasoline engine. All in good condition at right prices. Nitscher Implement Company. 20-12-30-11.

FOR SALE—One 6 H. P. gasoline engine sawing outfit. Nitscher Implement Co. 20-12-15-11.

FOR SALE—One 10 H. P. Almo gasoline engine. Nitscher Implement Co. 20-12-10-11.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—LaPrairie Insurance Co. policy, assigned to Joseph Landy. Finder please return to F. S. Flagler, Box 30, Rte. 8, Janesville. 25-1-23-11.

LOST—Man's brown leather pocket-book containing bills, between 4th avenue and West Side Hitch Barn. Finder please return to Gazette Office. 25-1-23-11.

LOST—A milk muff. Finder please leave at Gazette office. Reward. 25-1-23-11.

MISCELLANEOUS

IVER-JOHNSON BICYCLES—Premo Bros. 1-20-11.

OKY ACETYLENE WELDING—Welds any kind of metal; automobile and stove parts a specialty. Bring your work here; satisfaction guaranteed. F. B. Burton, 11 No. Jackson St., Both phones. 27-1-24-11.

WANTED—Hay to bale. Nitscher Implement Co. 27-12-16-11.

ASHES HAULED, Henry Kaylor, New phone Blue 797. 27-11-13-11.

Professional Cards

E. U. MCGOWAN, A. M. FISHER 208-310 Jackson-Building, Janesville, Wisconsin.

THE Reliable Drug Co. AIMS TO PLEASE ITS CUSTOMERS, TRY-US AND SEE IF WE CAN PLEASE YOU.

Carpets Cleaned by Vacuum Cleaning Process. JANESVILLE CHEMICAL STEAM DYE WORKS C. F. BROCKHAUS & SON, Props.

E. T. FISH FREIGHT & TRANSFER LINE. All kinds of Heavy Hauling. Out of town orders solicited.

WE OFFER A few choice 5 to 40-acre properties close in. Two 30-acre farms, town of Center. Large farm close to town. All offered for quick sale.

SCOTT & JONES NOTICE TO FARMERS AND TRAPPERS Highest prices paid for raw furs and hides.

KENNEDY & LAKE Old phone 82. 119 N. Main St.

STORAGE. Nice, dry, clean warehouse. Charges Reasonable. TALK TO LOWELL.

J. E. KENNEDY Real Estate, Loans and Fire Insurance, Western Farm Lands A Specialty. NUTHERLAND BLOCK Janesville, Wis.

LEGAL NOTICES NOTICE OF HEARING. STATE OF WISCONSIN. County Court for Rock County.

Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the first Tuesday being the third day of February 1914, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of Ida H. Kocherhaman to admit to Probate the Last Will and Testament of Christopher Kocherhaman, late of the City of Janesville in said County, deceased.

Dated January 8th, 1914. By the Court, CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.

Whitehead & Matheson, Attorneys for the petitioner. 1-9-11.

ABE MARTIN

There's too many folks o' narrow means who imagine nothin' is too good for 'em. What's become o' the ole fashioned mother w' wry o' allies complainin' about her children bein' full o' the 'ole Henry.

Sun's Effect on Tools. Fine-edged tools lose their temper if exposed to the light of the sun for a considerable length of time.

NOTICE OF HEARING

STATE OF WISCONSIN. County Court for Rock County. Notice is hereby given that at a Special Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the third Tuesday, being the 17th day of February, 1914, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of Verena Hutholmson, to and for the estate of the Last Will and Testament of Marguerita Felber, late of the City of Janesville in said County, deceased.

Dated January 22, 1914. By the Court, CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.

Thomas S. Nolan, Attorney for petitioner. 1-23-11.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS. STATE OF WISCONSIN. County Court for Rock County. Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court, to be held in and for said County at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the first Tuesday of September, A. D. 1914, being September 1st 1914, at 9 o'clock a. m. the following matters will be heard and considered and adjusted:

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

HOW TO MAKE CHILDREN MIND.
W E OFTEN wonder why one mother can control a big brood of children with apparent ease, while another is always arguing, scolding, protesting and punishing until it seems as if life must be a burden to both her and the youngsters.

Of course, there are innumerable factors which enter into each valuable suggestion today.

A friend of mine who has a large boarding house brought the matter to my attention. She is extremely fond of children and sometimes has several in her house at one time, as boarding houses where children are welcome are very scarce.

We were talking about a very obstreperous little boy whom she had finally been obliged to refuse to keep, and I asked her why his mother had so little control over him.

"Well, I'll tell you what I think the chief trouble is," she said. "It's that woman's voice. You know I've had a chance to watch a good many parents with their children, and I have come to believe that the one thing more important than any other in dealing with children is control of the voice and manner in speaking to them."

Now this boy is a child with a good deal of that rare quality called common sense. He could easily have been trained into a delightful little boy by anyone who cared to study his disposition, but his mother continually picked on him in a voice that often rose almost to a scream. I have sometimes seen the child shrink back and his face harden when that rasping voice came ringing through the house. And there were frequent scenes of downright rebellion when my sympathies were all with the child. I felt that that voice would have made me determine to do the very thing that she did.

"Then, again, I had staying with me for several months one of the butterfly sort of young married women. She has a boy of six for whose training she has little time to spare from her social engagements. When she corrects him she does it in a casual, preoccupied way with her voice pitched high and a nervous note in it. The boy pays no attention whatever to her scoldings, merely keeps on his way. He knows intuitively that his mother does not really care what he does unless he interferes in some way with her pleasure. Her hurried and meaningless scoldings only make him wonder why mothers are always fussing about something."

"The one woman at my house who really knows how to control children is a very finely bred woman between forty-five and fifty who has two children in her charge while their mother is abroad. She governs them absolutely by merely looking them squarely in the face and speaking in a low, controlled, leisurely voice. She not only influences the children under her charge, but she also all the others in the house. It is never the actual words she speaks, but the way she says them, for there is nothing wonderful in what she says. Nor is it very different from what we all say to children. It is simply her manner of speaking and the way her voice comes into the room."

As my friend says, she has had a good deal of opportunity to watch the struggle between parents and children, so I thought her contribution well worth passing on.

The animal trainer controls the animal almost entirely by his voice. Now children are thinking creatures; they try to appeal to their reasoning power. But they also have the primitive nature of the animal more than the fully developed adult, and that is why we should pay more attention to our voice and manner in our intercourse with children.

Heart and Home
 BY J. L. BROWN

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going to wash with warm (not hot) water. Wash the cap in this, without rubbing. Then wash the cap in cold water, and then in clean soapy water. Rinse it in clean water, and then in cold water. Squeeze it out and hang it in a windy place to dry. It should come out soft and without shrinking.

(2) Kerosene—a little brushed into the hair twice a week is a disinfectant as well as a hair tonic. Rub it into the scalp daily, and the hair will grow. Both have about the same qualities.

(3) No. (4) At first you might say you would be pleased to have him drop in some time, when he feels like it. If he doesn't come, don't ask him again.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a boy of eighteen years old; how can I win a girl? How can I tell her I love her? How can I tell her I have been writing to her three months and her letters are awfully nice, but when she is around she loves someone else, to me and so on.

(2) How can I get rid of blackheads? (3) What is good for dandruff? (4) What is good for dandruff?

(1) Visit her as often as you can and be entertaining when you call on her. Send her flowers and candy. Like her. Be so nice to her in every way that she can't help liking you. When you are quite sure she likes you, tell her you love her and want her for your wife. If she says she is willing to marry you, then you may be sure she loves you.

(2) Use good soap and water twice a day. Then do the girls with hot water and soap, rinse well with clear, warm water, then massage the face with a good store. After the massage wipe off the cream. When blackheads are soft, prick with a sterilized needle, and anoint with a little oil. Drink lots of pure water, and eat plenty of fruit and vegetables. Keep the bowels open by using a cathartic.

(3) Rub alcohol into the scalp daily. Keep brushes and combs absolutely clean.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have a gray and white wool cap. How can I clean it so the color won't run and so it will not shrink?

(2) Which is better for the scalp and for the hair, kerosene or vaseline, and how should it be used?

(3) Will vaseline clog the pores? (4) Is it the gentleman's place to ask if the lady will go to a party, or is it the lady's place to invite him?

(1) Make a suds of good white soap with warm (not hot) water. Wash the cap in this, without rubbing. Then wash the cap in cold water, and then in clean soapy water. Rinse it in clean water, and then in cold water. Squeeze it out and hang it in a windy place to dry. It should come out soft and without shrinking.

(2) Kerosene—a little brushed into the hair twice a week is a disinfectant as well as a hair tonic. Rub it into the scalp daily, and the hair will grow. Both have about the same qualities.

(3) No. (4) At first you might say you would be pleased to have him drop in some time, when he feels like it. If he doesn't come, don't ask him again.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a boy of eighteen years old; how can I win a girl? How can I tell her I love her? How can I tell her I have been writing to her three months and her letters are awfully nice, but when she is around she loves someone else, to me and so on.

(2) How can I get rid of blackheads? (3) What is good for dandruff? (4) What is good for dandruff?

(1) Visit her as often as you can and be entertaining when you call on her. Send her flowers and candy. Like her. Be so nice to her in every way that she can't help liking you. When you are quite sure she likes you, tell her you love her and want her for your wife. If she says she is willing to marry you, then you may be sure she loves you.

(2) Use good soap and water twice a day. Then do the girls with hot water and soap, rinse well with clear, warm water, then massage the face with a good store. After the massage wipe off the cream. When blackheads are soft, prick with a sterilized needle, and anoint with a little oil. Drink lots of pure water, and eat plenty of fruit and vegetables. Keep the bowels open by using a cathartic.

(3) Rub alcohol into the scalp daily. Keep brushes and combs absolutely clean.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have a gray and white wool cap. How can I clean it so the color won't run and so it will not shrink?

(2) Which is better for the scalp and for the hair, kerosene or vaseline, and how should it be used?

(3) Will vaseline clog the pores? (4) Is it the gentleman's place to ask if the lady will go to a party, or is it the lady's place to invite him?

(1) Make a suds of good white soap with warm (not hot) water. Wash the cap in this, without rubbing. Then wash the cap in cold water, and then in clean soapy water. Rinse it in clean water, and then in cold water. Squeeze it out and hang it in a windy place to dry. It should come out soft and without shrinking.

(2) Kerosene—a little brushed into the hair twice a week is a disinfectant as well as a hair tonic. Rub it into the scalp daily, and the hair will grow. Both have about the same qualities.

(3) No. (4) At first you might say you would be pleased to have him drop in some time, when he feels like it. If he doesn't come, don't ask him again.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a boy of eighteen years old; how can I win a girl? How can I tell her I love her? How can I tell her I have been writing to her three months and her letters are awfully nice, but when she is around she loves someone else, to me and so on.

(2) How can I get rid of blackheads? (3) What is good for dandruff? (4) What is good for dandruff?

(1) Visit her as often as you can and be entertaining when you call on her. Send her flowers and candy. Like her. Be so nice to her in every way that she can't help liking you. When you are quite sure she likes you, tell her you love her and want her for your wife. If she says she is willing to marry you, then you may be sure she loves you.

(2) Use good soap and water twice a day. Then do the girls with hot water and soap, rinse well with clear, warm water, then massage the face with a good store. After the massage wipe off the cream. When blackheads are soft, prick with a sterilized needle, and anoint with a little oil. Drink lots of pure water, and eat plenty of fruit and vegetables. Keep the bowels open by using a cathartic.

(3) Rub alcohol into the scalp daily. Keep brushes and combs absolutely clean.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I have a gray and white wool cap. How can I clean it so the color won't run and so it will not shrink?

(2) Which is better for the scalp and for the hair, kerosene or vaseline, and how should it be used?

(3) Will vaseline clog the pores? (4) Is it the gentleman's place to ask if the lady will go to a party, or is it the lady's place to invite him?

The Kitchen Cabinet

It is more of good manners to show courtesy to servants or to any in humble station of life. A polite request is always better than a stern command. Whoever shows disregard of the feelings of a servant or of a humble station gives unmistakable proof of ill-breeding.

TEMPTING CHRISTMAS CONFECTIONS.

One nice thing about bon bonis the foundation may be made and kept for weeks, without hurting it in the least and one may then make the French candy a day or two before it is wanted and so have it deliciously fresh.

Fondant for chocolate creams should be just as soft as possible to handle and those who know say that if it is frozen and small bits used quickly and covered with chocolate we have the very creamy texture which is so desirable for the filling of the chocolate creams. All one needs to do is to set the fondant out in the cold over night to freeze.

Fondant.—To insure a smooth velvety candy ungrained the addition of a small amount of glucose added to the sugar and water will save the need of careful watching. To four cups of sugar add a cup of water and two tablespoons of glucose. The glucose may be bought at any confectionery shop and is perfectly wholesome used in small quantities for this purpose. Cook the candy until a little is dropped in cold water it may be gathered in the fingers into a soft waxy ball. The softer the candy can be worked the more delicate the candy. It should be kept covered with a buttered paper in a close dish or jar. When the candy is cool enough to bear dipping in a finger, begin to stir and stir until a white waxy mass as smooth as velvet is the result. Use what is needed for the time and put the remainder away for the future.

For chocolate creams have the fondant very cold and handle quickly so that it does not melt and spoil the shape. Mold into balls and set out again to chill. When thoroughly cold dip them into melted chocolate. Put a piece of chocolate into a small sauce pan and set it into hot water. A hat pin or a wire with a small loop in the end is good to use for dipping the bon bonis. Drain on waxed paper and put at once in a cold place.

Since her husband became a member of Wilson's cabinet, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, has made herself one of the most popular women in Washington. Her personal popularity, and that of her husband may be explained in the words of a white haired woman who, on last New Year's day when holding a public reception, sat in their drawing room near the receiving line holding a court of her own. Glancing proudly toward the host and hostess the white haired woman remarked:

"Those two love the whole world. No wonder people love them."

The speaker was Mrs. Daniels' mother, who knew whereof she spoke.

When Mrs. Daniels came from Raleigh, North Carolina, a few months ago to take her place in Washington's social life as one of the cabinet hostesses, she brought with her four or five young sons, and their old colored mammy, a few choice pieces of mahogany from her childhood home at Raleigh, her family servants, and her recipe for beaten biscuit, an indispensable article of food in the antebellum Southern tables.

Consequently, the home of Secretary and Mrs. Daniels at the capitol is typically Southern in many respects. They are established for the season at Single Oak, Woodley Lane, in a fashionable residence suburb. They chose the house and its surrounding acres in order that the four Daniels' boys, who are as much alive as only healthy, growing boys can be, might have plenty of space in which to romp; a barn; a woodpile; an orchard and other luxuries of boyhood.

Since coming to Washington, Mrs. Daniels has devoted herself to the care of her boys, and to the discharge of the many social duties which devolve upon her as a member of the cabinet circle. She still keeps in touch however, with the public work in which she and Secretary Daniels are interested in Raleigh, their home town. This work is in the two hospitals, one for the whites and one for the negroes, that have recently been built in Raleigh. The Secretary and Mrs. Daniels gave and equipped the children's ward in both buildings. A memorial for the white children is a memorial to a younger daughter, Adelaide, whom they lost some years ago.

Things Worth Knowing.
 The odor of kerosene lamps can be stopped by putting one teaspoonful of fine table salt in each lamp. The salt should be cleaned once a month. The stove front can be painted with black stove enamel instead of blackening it daily.

Pocket handkerchiefs and laces can be whitened by soaking them overnight in a bath of toilet carbolic soap.

If bread rises slowly, knead again and grease well with warm lard, set in a warm place and it will quickly rise.

THE TABLE.
 Soft Gingerbread—Sift one teaspoonful of salt twice with two cups of flour. Stir to a cream half a cup of butter, the same of sugar and the same of molasses. Warm the mixture slightly and beat light before adding a well-whipped egg. Add a teaspoonful of ginger. Dissolve half a teaspoonful of baking soda in a teaspoonful of hot water; stir this into half a cupful of sweet milk; lastly, stir in the flour, beat hard for one minute, and bake in two shallow pans, well buttered, or in paste pans.

Eastern Cookies—One cup of butter, one and one-half cups of sugar, three eggs one teaspoonful of soda, one and one-half tablespoons of hot water, three and three-quarter cups of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one cup of chopped nut meat, hickory or English walnut, one-half cup of raisins, one-half cup of currants, one-half cup of seed, and chopped. Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually, and the eggs well beaten. Add the soda dissolved in hot water, and one-half the flour mixed and sifted with salt and cinnamon; then add the nut meats, fruit, and the remaining flour. Drop by the spoonful one inch apart on a buttered sheet, and bake in a moderate oven.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Worn with the new high starched flaring collars they make any but the flurriest feminine look hard as nails.

Women Worth While

MRS. JOSEPHUS DANIELS.

Consequently, the home of Secretary and Mrs. Daniels at the capitol is typically Southern in many respects. They are established for the season at Single Oak, Woodley Lane, in a fashionable residence suburb. They chose the house and its surrounding acres in order that the four Daniels' boys, who are as much alive as only healthy, growing boys can be, might have plenty of space in which to romp; a barn; a woodpile; an orchard and other luxuries of boyhood.

Since coming to Washington, Mrs. Daniels has devoted herself to the care of her boys, and to the discharge of the many social duties which devolve upon her as a member of the cabinet circle. She still keeps in touch however, with the public work in which she and Secretary Daniels are interested in Raleigh, their home town. This work is in the two hospitals, one for the whites and one for the negroes, that have recently been built in Raleigh. The Secretary and Mrs. Daniels gave and equipped the children's ward in both buildings. A memorial for the white children is a memorial to a younger daughter, Adelaide, whom they lost some years ago.

Since her husband became a member of Wilson's cabinet, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, has made herself one of the most popular women in Washington. Her personal popularity, and that of her husband may be explained in the words of a white haired woman who, on last New Year's day when holding a public reception, sat in their drawing room near the receiving line holding a court of her own. Glancing proudly toward the host and hostess the white haired woman remarked:

"Those two love the whole world. No wonder people love them."

The speaker was Mrs. Daniels' mother, who knew whereof she spoke.

When Mrs. Daniels came from Raleigh, North Carolina, a few months ago to take her place in Washington's social life as one of the cabinet hostesses, she brought with her four or five young sons, and their old colored mammy, a few choice pieces of mahogany from her childhood home at Raleigh, her family servants, and her recipe for beaten biscuit, an indispensable article of food in the antebellum Southern tables.

Consequently, the home of Secretary and Mrs. Daniels at the capitol is typically Southern in many respects. They are established for the season at Single Oak, Woodley Lane, in a fashionable residence suburb. They chose the house and its surrounding acres in order that the four Daniels' boys, who are as much alive as only healthy, growing boys can be, might have plenty of space in which to romp; a barn; a woodpile; an orchard and other luxuries of boyhood.

Since coming to Washington, Mrs. Daniels has devoted herself to the care of her boys, and to the discharge of the many social duties which devolve upon her as a member of the cabinet circle. She still keeps in touch however, with the public work in which she and Secretary Daniels are interested in Raleigh, their home town. This work is in the two hospitals, one for the whites and one for the negroes, that have recently been built in Raleigh. The Secretary and Mrs. Daniels gave and equipped the children's ward in both buildings. A memorial for the white children is a memorial to a younger daughter, Adelaide, whom they lost some years ago.

Since her husband became a member of Wilson's cabinet, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, has made herself one of the most popular women in Washington. Her personal popularity, and that of her husband may be explained in the words of a white haired woman who, on last New Year's day when holding a public reception, sat in their drawing room near the receiving line holding a court of her own. Glancing proudly toward the host and hostess the white haired woman remarked:

"Those two love the whole world. No wonder people love them."

The speaker was Mrs. Daniels' mother, who knew whereof she spoke.

When Mrs. Daniels came from Raleigh, North Carolina, a few months ago to take her place in Washington's social life as one of the cabinet hostesses, she brought with her four or five young sons, and their old colored mammy, a few choice pieces of mahogany from her childhood home at Raleigh, her family servants, and her recipe for beaten biscuit, an indispensable article of food in the antebellum Southern tables.

Consequently, the home of Secretary and Mrs. Daniels at the capitol is typically Southern in many respects. They are established for the season at Single Oak, Woodley Lane, in a fashionable residence suburb. They chose the house and its surrounding acres in order that the four Daniels' boys, who are as much alive as only healthy, growing boys can be, might have plenty of space in which to romp; a barn; a woodpile; an orchard and other luxuries of boyhood.

Since coming to Washington, Mrs. Daniels has devoted herself to the care of her boys, and to the discharge of the many social duties which devolve upon her as a member of the cabinet circle. She still keeps in touch however, with the public work in which she and Secretary Daniels are interested in Raleigh, their home town. This work is in the two hospitals, one for the whites and one for the negroes, that have recently been built in Raleigh. The Secretary and Mrs. Daniels gave and equipped the children's ward in both buildings. A memorial for the white children is a memorial to a younger daughter, Adelaide, whom they lost some years ago.

Since her husband became a member of Wilson's cabinet, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, has made herself one of the most popular women in Washington. Her personal popularity, and that of her husband may be explained in the words of a white haired woman who, on last New Year's day when holding a public reception, sat in their drawing room near the receiving line holding a court of her own. Glancing proudly toward the host and hostess the white haired woman remarked:

"Those two love the whole world. No wonder people love them."

The speaker was Mrs. Daniels' mother, who knew whereof she spoke.

When Mrs. Daniels came from Raleigh, North Carolina, a few months ago to take her place in Washington's social life as one of the cabinet hostesses, she brought with her four or five young sons, and their old colored mammy, a few choice pieces of mahogany from her childhood home at Raleigh, her family servants, and her recipe for beaten biscuit, an indispensable article of food in the antebellum Southern tables.

Consequently, the home of Secretary and Mrs. Daniels at the capitol is typically Southern in many respects. They are established for the season at Single Oak, Woodley Lane, in a fashionable residence suburb. They chose the house and its surrounding acres in order that the four Daniels' boys, who are as much alive as only healthy, growing boys can be, might have plenty of space in which to romp; a barn; a woodpile; an orchard and other luxuries of boyhood.

Since coming to Washington, Mrs. Daniels has devoted herself to the care of her boys, and to the discharge of the many social duties which devolve upon her as a member of the cabinet circle. She still keeps in touch however, with the public work in which she and Secretary Daniels are interested in Raleigh, their home town. This work is in the two hospitals, one for the whites and one for the negroes, that have recently been built in Raleigh. The Secretary and Mrs. Daniels gave and equipped the children's ward in both buildings. A memorial for the white children is a memorial to a younger daughter, Adelaide, whom they lost some years ago.

Since her husband became a member of Wilson's cabinet, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, has made herself one of the most popular women in Washington. Her personal popularity, and that of her husband may be explained in the words of a white haired woman who, on last New Year's day when holding a public reception, sat in their drawing room near the receiving line holding a court of her own. Glancing proudly toward the host and hostess the white haired woman remarked:

"Those two love the whole world. No wonder people love them."

The speaker was Mrs. Daniels' mother, who knew whereof she spoke.

When Mrs. Daniels came from Raleigh, North Carolina, a few months ago to take her place in Washington's social life as one of the cabinet hostesses, she brought with her four or five young sons, and their old colored mammy, a few choice pieces of mahogany from her childhood home at Raleigh, her family servants, and her recipe for beaten biscuit, an indispensable article of food in the antebellum Southern tables.

Consequently, the home of Secretary and Mrs. Daniels at the capitol is typically Southern in many respects. They are established for the season at Single Oak, Woodley Lane, in a fashionable residence suburb. They chose the house and its surrounding acres in order that the four Daniels' boys, who are as much alive as only healthy, growing boys can be, might have plenty of space in which to romp; a barn; a woodpile; an orchard and other luxuries of boyhood.

Since coming to Washington, Mrs. Daniels has devoted herself to the care of her boys, and to the discharge of the many social duties which devolve upon her as a member of the cabinet circle. She still keeps in touch however, with the public work in which she and Secretary Daniels are interested in Raleigh, their home town. This work is in the two hospitals, one for the whites and one for the negroes, that have recently been built in Raleigh. The Secretary and Mrs. Daniels gave and equipped the children's ward in both buildings. A memorial for the white children is a memorial to a younger daughter, Adelaide, whom they lost some years ago.

Since her husband became a member of Wilson's cabinet, Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, has made herself one of the most popular women in Washington. Her personal popularity, and that of her husband may be explained in the words of a white haired woman who, on last New Year's day when holding a public reception, sat in their drawing room near the receiving line holding a court of her own. Glancing proudly toward the host and hostess the white haired woman remarked:

"Those two love the whole world. No wonder people love them."

The speaker was Mrs. Daniels' mother, who knew whereof she spoke.

When Mrs. Daniels came from Raleigh, North Carolina, a few months ago to take her place in Washington's social life as one of the cabinet hostesses, she brought with her four or five young sons, and their old colored mammy, a few choice pieces of mahogany from her childhood home at Raleigh, her family servants, and her recipe for beaten biscuit, an indispensable article of food in the antebellum Southern tables.

Consequently, the home of Secretary and Mrs. Daniels at the capitol is typically Southern in many respects. They are established for the season at Single Oak, Woodley Lane, in a fashionable residence suburb. They chose the house and its surrounding acres in order that the four Daniels' boys, who are as much alive as only healthy, growing boys can be, might have plenty of space in which to romp; a barn; a woodpile; an orchard and other luxuries of boyhood.

Since coming to Washington, Mrs. Daniels has devoted herself to the care of her boys, and to the discharge of the many social duties which devolve upon her as a member of the cabinet circle. She still keeps in touch however, with the public work in which she and Secretary Daniels are interested in Raleigh, their home town. This work is in the two hospitals, one for the whites and one for the negroes, that have recently been built in Raleigh. The Secretary and Mrs. Daniels gave and equipped the children's ward in both buildings. A memorial for the white children is a memorial to a younger daughter, Adelaide, whom they lost some years ago.

The finest of beef, apples, currants, raisins, spices, cider, and other "goodies"—that's

MERRELL-SOULE

NONE SUCH MINCE MEAT

"LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE"

No extra work, no high cost, no risk of failure when you make

None Such Pie

MERRELL-SOULE COMPANY
 SYRACUSE, NEW YORK
 Makers of Food Products since 1868

GROCERY MARKET

NOW Then—

Try This Delicious Spread!

Just taste it. See how good it is. Marigold Oleomargarine is an economical spread for bread. A million persons use it daily. NOW, then, you try it, Madam.

Marigold Oleomargarine

Get a pound from your dealer today. Ask for Marigold. Serve this delicious spread for its purity and wholesomeness. And remember, it's economical—it saves you 10c to 20c a pound. Sold by all good dealers.

MORRIS & COMPANY
 Chicago, U.S.A.

"An Eclipse of the Sun"

The Grocer Merits Your Coffee Trade

When coffees are judged solely upon quality in the cup, the grocer gives you the best value possible to procure.

The grocer is the most convenient and the least expensive distributor of coffee; therefore, he is the most logical distributor of coffee, and the one most deserving of your patronage.

Mex-O-Ja Coffee is a blend of our selection of genuine Sao Paulo and Mexican varieties—a coffee, unobtainable at the retail price.

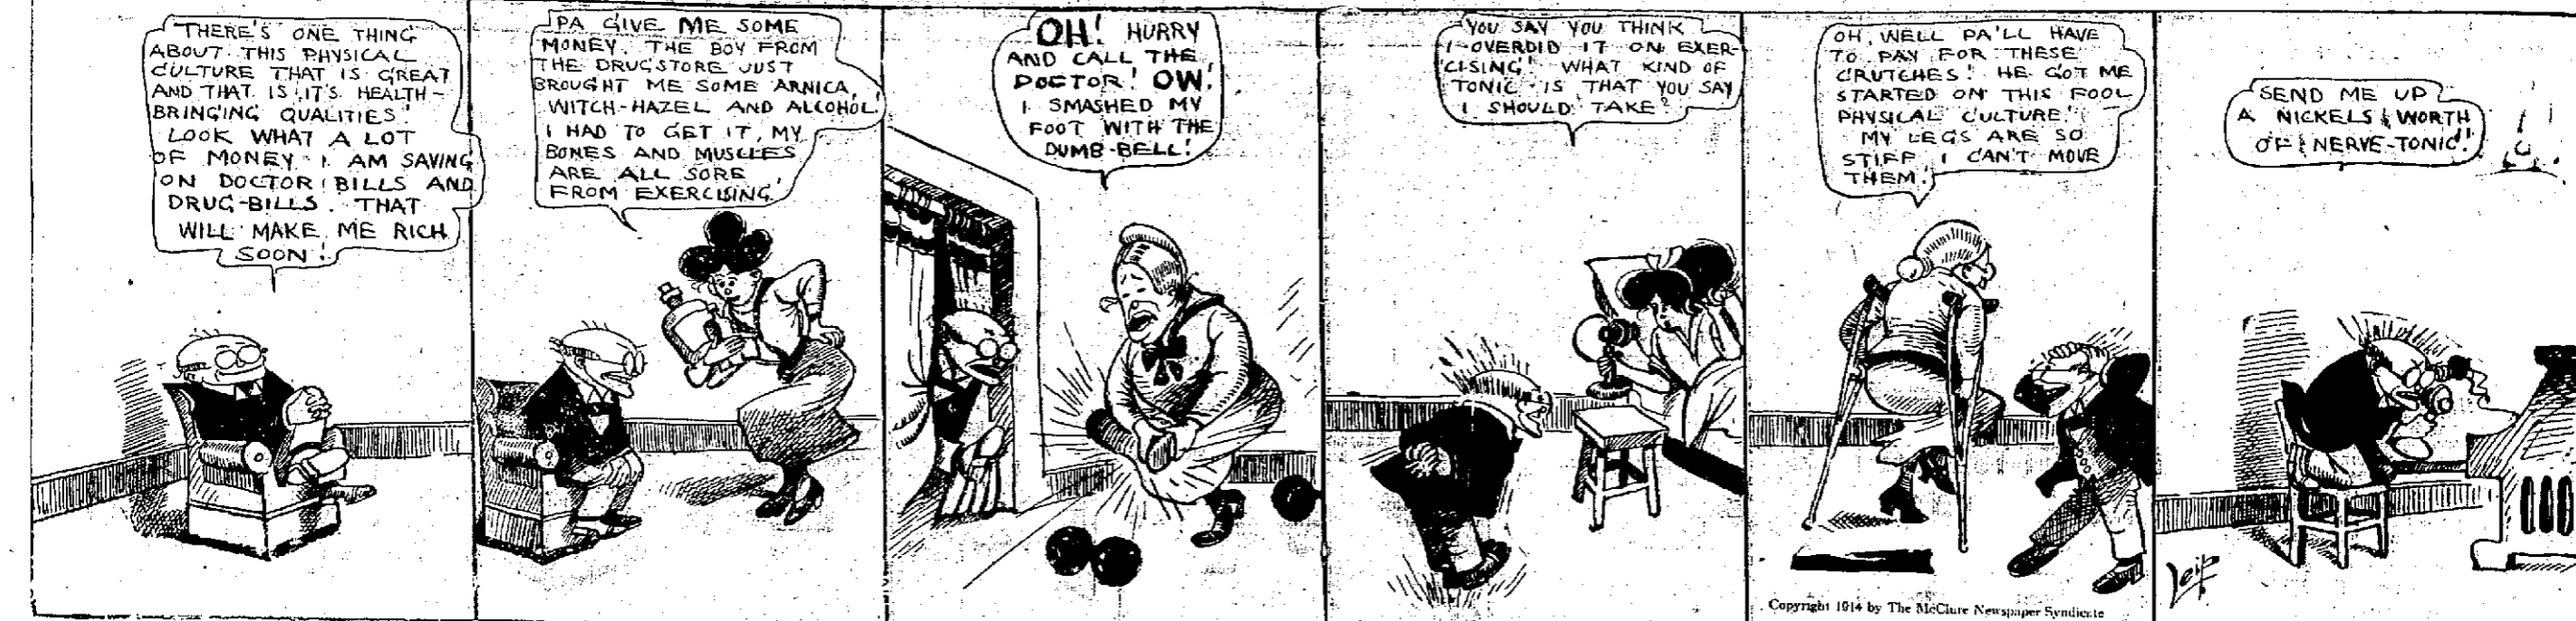

Every package containing a full pound, net weight—and it comes to you in a sanitary, protected, sealed, and ready-to-use container.

The Price May Change—The Quality Never

Price subject to revision according to the cost of raw materials.

30 Cents Per Pound

ARBUCKLE BROS.
 245-445 E. Illinois St., Chicago, Ill.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS.—As a savings proposition Physical Culture isn't much.

By F. LEIPZIGER

The Passion of Laziness.
It is indeed this passion of laziness, which is characteristic of the times, that is responsible for half the crime in our daily history.—Olive Christian Malvery in "The Soul Market."

STOMACH SUFFERERS

May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy Is Recommended and Praised by Thousands Who Have Been Restored.

"I was a sick man for about three months caused from Gall Stones of the Liver and was told by three of our most promising physicians that I would have to submit to an operation to get relief, but heard of your Wonderful Stomach Remedy and secured a full treatment and took it according to directions and passed hundreds of Gall Stones. Since taking your medicine I work regularly and don't feel any ill effects. I am praising your Remedy to all my friends. I think it's worthy of the highest praise."—J. L. DOOLBY, Roanoke, Va.

Sufferers of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal ailments are not asked to take May's Wonderful Stomach Remedy for weeks and months before they feel benefited. Just try one dose—which should make you feel better in health, convince you that you will soon be well and strong, free from pain and suffering and give you a sound and healthy stomach, as it has done to thousands of others. Wherever it is taken you will hear nothing but the highest praise. Go to your druggists—ask him about the great results it has been accomplishing in the case of people he knows or send to Geo. H. May, Mfg. Chemist, 134-136 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for a free book on Stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored.

For sale in Jamesville by J. P. Baker & Son, 123 W. Milwaukee St., and druggists everywhere.

ATTENTION MOTHERS

If You Have or Know of a Delicate Child Read This Letter.

"My little daughter Louise age 9 years, has always been delicate, anemic, had no appetite and seemed listless, and we could not seem to find anything that would help her, until we were advised to give her Vinol. She started taking it six weeks ago and inside of two weeks she showed a marked improvement both in appetite, vim and looks. Being so well pleased with the results, I continued giving it to her, and words fail to express my gratitude, and faith in Vinol both as a blood maker and body builder. As my child was an anemic for so long makes the reason all the stronger for me to recommend it to others in similar condition."—Geo. E. Munro, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Vinol restores health and strength in conditions like this, because it is a natural manner it increases the appetite, tones up the digestive organs, enriches the blood and strengthens every organ of the body.

Every bottle of Vinol is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Smith Drug Co., Druggists, Jamesville, Wis.

P. S. For any skin trouble try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Tonic and alterative. Increases strength. Restores healthy functions. No alcohol. Sold for 60 years.

Ask Your Doctor.

Praises This Remedy for Lung Trouble

Many people are led to believe that Lung Trouble is a disease which cannot be conquered. This is wrong, as many have fully recovered from it. A change of climate has helped some, but many more have been restored to health by breathing the fresh air, either well-cooked, wholesome food, being temperate in their habits and adding the tonic qualities of Eckman's Alternative, a blood-purifying and lung-cleansing remedy. Investigate this case:

"Glenview, Ill., Dec. 10, 1908. I had a severe cough for six months. I tried all the medicine that my doctors recommended to me, but no rest came for the better. I had night sweats, and would cough and spit until I got so weak I could hardly do anything. But at last James Deering, of Glasgow Junction, Ind., told me to try your medicine. In one week's time I was quite an improvement in my condition, and after I had taken several bottles I felt as well as ever in my life. I firmly believe that Eckman's Alternative will relieve any case of lung trouble if taken before the last stage."

(Above abbreviated; more on request.)
Eckman's Alternative has been proven many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stomach Cold, and all affections of the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons, or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet, telling of recoveries. Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and Smith Drug Co., McKee & Sons, 123 W. Milwaukee St., in Jamesville.

Broadway Jones

From the Play of George M. Cohan

By EDWARD MARSHALL

With Photographs from Scenes in the Play

Copyright, 1914, by G. W. Dellingham Company

The Judge turned to Wallace. "You knew very few people imagined that this boy would come in for it all?"

"I can't understand it myself," said Broadway.

"Of course I knew," said the judge complacently.

"But I always supposed, Judge, that the old gentleman hated me."

"No, sirree!" exclaimed the judge.

"Of course he didn't like the idea of your going to New York as soon as you grew up and not taking hold of the business as your father had. But he never would have bought you out if he'd not been afraid you'd sell to some one else."

"I know. I was in his confidence after you went away. He didn't want you to go to New York because he didn't understand you. He never had the least idea that you'd take up the wholesale liquor business down there, or take up any other business for that matter. He feared you'd go squandering your money."

"I wish he had known the truth before he died! But he was really very fond of you, though he didn't always show it in a way you recognized, perhaps. Naturally he would be; never married; no children of his own."

"He used to feel hurt that you never came to see him; but he always figured that the plant and gum belonged to you. You didn't understand one another."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"He didn't want you to go to New York."

"Can you beat that?" asked Jackson of his friend.

"Just shows you," Wallace answered; "what chance a little fellow's got."

"None at all, unless he's got big capital. That would have ruined a small manufacturer."

"What did uncle do then?" Jackson asked, and he lingered for a second on that word "uncle." He was beginning to have new ideas about both gum and uncles.

"Turned everything; he personally had in all the world into hard cash and put it bang into the business."

This was somewhat startling. "You mean that, aside from the actual chewing-gum business, he left very little?"

"Nothing at all. Well, I won't say that, for I believe the plant did actually show a profit last year. When Miss Richards comes she'll tell you. She's got it at her finger tips."

"Jossie? Does she know as much as that? What's her position in the factory?"

"She's chief accountant, practically manager now. You remember her? Of course you do. She'll tell you all there is to tell," the judge explained, as Dave came with the cigars.

Their mere arrival made both visitors nervous, and when the judge presented them to Broadway he was glad to find it reasonable to disclaim cigar-smoking entirely and light a cigarette.

Wallace had no such excuse. He had been smoking steadily since his arrival until within ten minutes. He never felt like thinking save when he was smoking and there would be much hard thinking to be done this evening. But to smoke one Jonesville perfecto would, he doubted not, end all thinking for all time, so he declared with fervor that he had, already, smoked as much that day as he was allowed to smoke by his physician.

The judge chuckled as he delved into the bundle of legal papers Sam had brought. Then: "Here it is. It's a long will. Take you quite a little while to read it. Better put it in your pocket and look it over when you go to the hotel. And this other stuff we'll go through later."

"There's some one at the door. I'll see who it is. Mom's making lemonade and Sam's practicing his banjo. Hear him?"

Broadway looked at Wallace with a shaking head while the judge was from the room. "You see? Nothing but the plant. I've got to sell all right."

Wallace nodded in slow affirmation. "Yes, but not at their price. Didn't you hear? The plant showed a profit last year without any advertising? Heavens, man! Think of that! In these days!"

Broadway recalled his very pressing needs. "I can't afford to take a chance. This is Thursday. Pembroke said they'd have to know by Saturday noon."

"That's a bluff."

Broadway looked at him reprovingly. "You don't seem to realize the enormity of the offense—I mean of the amount. It's twelve—hundred—thousand—dollars."

"I tell you to hold out."

"But I tell you I can't afford to hold out. I—"

"Piano!" Wallace warned. "Mrs. S. is coming."

And indeed she entered with a tray on which there were a pitcher and two glasses. "Here's some nice, cold lemonade," she explained hospitably. Then: "Did the judge go to the door?"

Broadway nodded.

She dropped her voice to a loud whisper. "I put a drop of whisky in the lemonade. The judge would have a fit if he should find it out. He's such a temperance crank! But he'll not know. He never will drink lemonade."

Jackson smiled at her with full appreciation of this tribute to him. "I'll keep your guilty secret," he said solemnly.

"With me it's sacred," Wallace promised her.

She beamed on them and raised her voice. "Well, if you want more just about out."

"I'm liable to shout most any minute," Broadway promised, though the thought of sweetened lemonade—he was intensely certain it was very high—was sweetened was distasteful in the last degree to him, even though there was a little whisky in it.

Mrs. Spotswood was distinctly nervous as the judge came back, which cheered the friends a little, for the judge had been distinctly nervous when he himself had produced whisky. But an instant later they were diverted from this train of thought by the judge's answer to his wife's inquiry as to who was at the door.

"Someone to see you, Broadway."

He was amazed. "Someone to see me?"

"I thought nobody knew you were in town," said Mrs. Spotswood, equally astonished.

"Someone must have recognized you on the street," said Wallace.

"Lord!" cried Mrs. Spotswood. "That does settle it! Now the whole town will turn out!"

But the judge shook his head. "This man's a stranger. I told him you weren't here, but he said he knew better. He knows the time you left New York and all about it."

Broadway instantly considered Pembroke. "Was he a tall man with gray hair?"

"If you're thinking of Pembroke, it wasn't him," the judge replied. "I know him."

Wallace knit his brows. He was not pleased. "Who the deuce was it?"

"Mrs. Gerard's lawyer!" Broadway whispered to Wallace, worried.

"No, no," he laughed.

"He said," the judge continued, "that he'd wait for you down at the Grand. He said that it was most important; that he must see you tonight."

"So he went to the Grand hotel?"

"Yes."

"Did you tell him that I wouldn't see anybody?"

"I didn't even admit that you were here."

"Perhaps I'd better go back to the hotel and see who it is," suggested Wallace.

"Yes," Broadway accepted. "Will you do that, Bob? And hurry back, won't you?"

"I won't be any longer than I can help."

CHAPTER VIII.

As Mrs. Spotswood turned she saw Josie for the first time, for the girl had instantly begun a low-voiced, somewhat giggling confab with her old friend, Broadway, and was sitting at the far side of the center table, where, to his disgust, the shaded lamp cast but an imperfect light upon her face.

The judge looked at them, grinning, and then did a thing which made Broadway take a silent oath to see to it that all the high-feed law practice which he might find within his gift, thenceforward and forevermore, as long as he should live, should go to one but Judge Spotswood.

"Come, mom, please; they've got important things to talk about," the judge petitioned.

"Yes, I know," said she, but was not to be diverted from her hospitality. "Broadway, will you have another glass of lemonade?"

"No, thanks; not now."

"Josie, have a cup of tea?"

"No, mom, please!" the judge expostulated.

"Yes; I'm going," said his wife, but added, as she cast at him an angry glance: "You have to be polite to people, don't you?"

With that she frowned out of the room, and to the distress of Broadway, went alone. Then and only then he realized that the judge intended to remain. He was actually intent on talking business. Broadway wondered if he might not have to give his legal work to some more intelligent attorney. Could not the gum business wait? But no. The judge was purely business. There was no hope. The young man reconciled himself as best he could.

"I've explained to Mr. Jones, Josie," said the judge, "that the affairs of the plant are entirely in your hands. You can give him a pretty good idea of how things stand without the books and figures in front of you, can't you?"

To Broadway's grief he sat down comfortably.

"Well, hardly, judge," said Josie, smiling at him in a way which pained Broadway, for it seemed certain, to FEEL YOUNG!

It's Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets For You.

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the faded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets open the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with Olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two occasionally and have no trouble with your liver, bowels or stomach. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.

ment the jurist's firm intention of remaining with them for the balance of the evening. It seemed to him that this was inconsiderate.

"The old gentleman told me," the judge explained, "that the works showed a profit of about forty thousand dollars last year. Is that right?"

"Oh, it was more than that."

This distracted Jackson Jones' attention even from the color of her eyes. More than forty thousand dollars!

"It was!" he said, with an elongating gesture of the neck and a side head twist which were habitual with him in moments of delighted surprise.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

"Sammy" Spotswood.

tion even from the color of her eyes. More than forty thousand dollars!

"It was!" he said, with an elongating gesture of the neck and a side head twist which were habitual with him in moments of delighted surprise.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Dinner Stories

The night watchman of a large hotel saw an apparition in white moving along the hall at 2 a. m. He hastened his steps and tapped on the

RESINOL QUICKLY HEALS DISFIGURING SKIN ERUPTIONS

Pimples, blackheads, rashes, ringworm, and worst of all, that red, itching, scaly torment, eczema, vanish when you use Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Even though your skin is so unsightly with eruption that you shun your friends and your friends shun you, Resinol is almost sure to make it clear and healthy, quickly, easily and at trifling cost. When you are tired of wasting time and money on tedious expensive treatments, get Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.

The nearest druggist and you will quickly see why it has been prescribed for eighteen years for just such troubles as yours.

The Resinol treatment works so gently, and is so absolutely free from anything that could injure even the tenderest skin, that it is especially valuable for healing the skin troubles of infants and children. You can test Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap at our expense. Write to Dept. 2-M, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., for generous trial.

Just the word "Coal" at this time of the year ought to be enough to bring you in with an order for a load of our which we are selling at $4.50 per ton.

PURITAN WASHED NUT COAL

It is clean, free from clinkers and just the thing for stoves and furnaces.

M. P. RATZLOW & CO.

TIFFANY, WIS.

shoulder what proved to be a man. "Here, what are you doing out here?" asked the watchman. The man opened his eyes and seemed to come out of a trance. "I beg your pardon," he said, "I am a somnambulist. You can't walk around these halls in the middle of the night dressed like this, no matter what your religion is."

The limit of coolness was surely reached by a Yorkshire churchgoer, who requested the vergor to open the windows before the sermon, as it was unhealthy to sleep in a hot room.

Marion came to the breakfast table late, and was scanned by the reproachful eyes of her mother. "Did that young man kiss you last night, Marion?"

"No, mother," said the very pretty girl, with a reminiscent smile, "do you suppose that he came all the way from Blue Rock to hear me sing?"

Tonic in Scent of Lavender.
If you are a martyr to neuralgia or headaches you may envy the people who prepare lavender for sale. Lavender, indeed, is an excellent tonic for anyone who is run down. Doctors frequently recommend people suffering from nervous breakdown to get a job at gathering or distilling this fragrant plant.

LINE IN THE FACE

Make Women Look Old and they show the effect of unnatural sufferings—of headaches, backaches, dizziness, hot flashes, pains in lower limbs, pains in groins, bearing-down sensations.

These symptoms indicate that Nature needs help. Overwork, wrong dressing, lack of exercise, and other causes have been too much for nature—and outside aid must be called upon to restore health and strength.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The Vegetable Remedy for Women's Ills that relieves nervous exhaustion and irritability and removes other distressing symptoms due to disturbed conditions of the delicate feminine organism.

For over forty years it has been used with more than satisfaction by the young, middle-aged and the elderly—by wives, mothers and daughters. You will find it of great benefit. Sold by Medicine Dealers in liquid or tablet form, or send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 50 one-cent stamps for trial box by mail.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS Relieve constipation, regulate the liver, and bowels. Easy to take as candy.

Largest Stock Sale in Southern Wisconsin

The undersigned will sell at public sale on his farm one-half miles east of the Gap church and three miles southwest of Albany,

Tuesday, January 27

COMMENCING AT 12 O'CLOCK SHARP

75 HOLSTEINS 75

Consisting of 7 choice cows, 6 cows coming 3 years old

SUFFRAGISTS HAVE OPENED THE FIGHT

Established Headquarters in Washington and to Force An Issue Upon Democratic Party.

(By Winfield Jones.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 23.—The Congressional Union of Woman Suffrage is a society of women organized to obtain a constitutional amendment, enfranchising women, with headquarters in Washington.

It is entirely non-partisan; it looks to the party in power, whether it be republican, democratic or progressive, to pass an amendment giving the women of this country the freedom they have a right to claim, say its leaders.

At the present time, the democratic party possesses immense power; it controls all three branches of government; it has the opportunity and the strength to pass a woman suffrage amendment through congress at the present session. It is, therefore, responsible to the women of the country to have action taken or to refuse to take, declare the suffragist leaders here.

There is every reason why the democratic party should put the force of the administration behind the suffrage amendment. There is a strong sentiment for suffrage in congress, especially in the house, according to the suffragists. Democrats cannot ignore suffrage without ignoring the fundamental principles of their party. Moreover, it is impossible for a national party to deny or refuse to consider the question of women's political rights while aping in national election for the support of nearly four million voters.

If, however, the democratic party fails to take advantage of the great opportunity which the women of the country will hold them responsible at the polls and will make use of every effort to defeat the democratic candidates in all the doubtful constituencies.

As between parties this policy is entirely impartial. If the republicans were in power, they would be regarded as responsible to women for whatever they did or failed to do for the suffrage amendment and their candidates would be regarded as responsible to the women for the same. The democratic party, therefore, is theirs.

In pursuing this policy, the Congressional Union recognizes, say its leaders, that we live under a party government; that the majority party, not the individual members of all parties, is the potent factor in national politics; and that we must seek enfranchisement from the man or group of men having the power to grant it.

President Wilson himself frankly stated to the deputation sent from the convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, that he would not "start anything" which had not come under the "organic consideration of his party. In so saying, he put the question where it belongs, squarely up to the democrats.

What has been declared by the suffragists against the democratic party, and particularly against the democratic members of the house of representatives, who oppose the proposed constitutional amendment, giving the ballot to women.

This was announced here today by leaders of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, following the action of the house rules committee in voting against creation of a house standing committee on woman suffrage.

Immediately after the action of the rules committee became known, nearly every suffragist leader in Washington attended a hastily called mass meeting and the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Resolved, that this meeting of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage regards with indignation the action of the democratic members of the rules committee in voting to bury in committee the resolution to create in the house a committee to consider the justice and expediency of extending self-governing institutions to woman.

Later a statement was given out at Congressional Union headquarters, which said:

"If the democratic party fails to take advantage of the great opportunity before it, the women of the country will hold it responsible at the polls, and will make use of every effort to defeat democratic candidates for all elective offices in all constituencies."

GOVERNMENT TO MAKE AN INSPECTION TOUR

Motor Party Will Travel From Washington to Atlanta, Georgia, Early in February.

As a preliminary step towards the improvement and maintenance of the first through road under the supervision of the United States government, a scouting party composed of officials of the office of public roads, the American Highway Association and various state highway departments will motor from Washington to Atlanta, Georgia, early in February.

With the co-operation of the highway officials and supervisors of the states traversed by the road, government engineers are to prove and maintain 350 miles of highway, giving an actual demonstration of what can be accomplished if the states and government work together.

A conference has just been held by the officials of the office of public roads, headed by Director Logan Waller Page; Leonard Tufts, chairman of the special committee appointed by the association to have charge of this work, and J. E. Pennybacker, executive secretary of the organization, and an agreement was reached for inaugurating the project.

The office of public roads agreed to put three of the ablest engineers of the office in charge of the 350 mile stretch, provided the American Highway Association would secure the co-operation of the local officials in the states which are to be traversed. One of these engineers will probably have charge of the stretch from Washington to the North Carolina line; another from the North Carolina to the South Carolina line; and the third from this point to Atlanta, Georgia.

It was due to the initiative of the American Highway Association that this work was undertaken. The officials feeling that the "object lesson" would be better in its nation-wide effects than tons of literature extolling the benefits of good roads. The association has agreed to furnish automobiles for the permanent use of the engineers so that they can cover the entire stretch of road.

In the scouting party there will be Capt. P. St. J. Wilson, assistant director, and several engineers from the office of public roads; Mr. Tufts and Mr. Pennybacker, and various state highway officials who will be picked up as the party proceeds. Meetings are being arranged in the various towns along the route at which local officials intend to discuss with the government party the question of turning over the roads and the money that would ordinarily be spent upon them to the supervision of the government engineers, whose duty it will be to expend every dollar to the best advantage of the community affected, eliminating all waste in expenditure of these particular road improvement funds.

On the Spur of the Moment

The First Cold.
I snort,
I sneeze,
I bark,
I wheeze,
And naught is fair to see.
Nor girls,
Nor gold,
Whit this Durned cold
Is fastened onto me
I grunt,
I groan,
I wail,
I moan,
And all the world seems blue.
There's naught
Worth while,
Naught to Begin with,
My cold sticks on like glue.
I've taken
Dope Enough
To float a battleship.
To my friends
Have all Prescribed
This fall,
To cure my case of grip.
I've taken
Pills, Quinine and Squills.
Too numerous to tell,
I'm going
To quit
These "cures"
A bit.
Then, maybe, I'll get well.

Who's Boss?
A youth about to embark on the sea of matrimony went to his father and said: "Father, who would be boss, I or my wife?" The old man smiled and said: "Here are a hundred hens and a team of horses. Hitch up the horses, put the hens into the wagon, and wherever you find a man and his wife dwelling stop and inquire who is the boss. Wherever you find a woman running things leave a hen. If you come to a place where a man is in control, give him one of the horses." After 95 hens had been disposed of he came to a house and made the usual inquiry. "I'm boss of this farm," said the man. So the wife was called and she affirmed her husband's assertion. "Take which horse you want," said the youth. "I'll take the bay." But the wife did not like the bay horse, and said things to her man. He returned and said to the youth: "I believe I'll take the gray." "Not much," said the young man, "you get a hen."

It's Different Now.
He stayed out each evening
Until it was late.

It was his ambition
To just celebrate.
He had costly dinners,
Flavored polkas a lot,
And didn't care much
Whether school kept or not,
When his wife was away
For the summer.
Now he's working the lawnmower
And sticking round home.
He's very discreet and does
Not care to roam.
He's mild and he's tame
And he's walking the chalk
And he is not bossy or Gay in his talk.
For his wife is at home
For the winter.

Vaudeville.
A gent who juggles cannon balls,
A gal from English music halls,
Who hops and wiggles,
Chirps and giggles
And some naughty ballad squawls;
Aluminum chimes,
A crowd of sketches of the times;
In way of sketches of the times;
Hoop rollers, too,
And boys who do
Some fancy steps and pull them
Through.
A jolly dog
In monologue,
Who leaves our brain cells in a fog;
A guy of fun,
Who works in "One"
And has a red nose and a bun.
A saucy Tanguay imitator,
A tall, thin prestidigitator,
A sister team
That is a scream
With tons as rough as a nutmeg
A Dutch comedian,
A ham tragedian,
A black-face turn with a dancing
stunt.
A "Melodious Four"
With a rousing score;
A girl who perhaps can sing, but won't.
Just shake them up, and away they go
To make a modern vode-ville show.

NORTHERN COUNTIES SEEK TO SETTLE FAIR TANGLE

With a view to having a general discussion on the question of the location of the state fair so that the products of the northern counties will be mature enough for exhibition purposes a convention will be held at Antigo on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 23.

The purposes of the convention are to terminate forever the question of a change in the location of the state fair by securing legislation that will place it permanently at Milwaukee, to recommend to the state board of agriculture the fixing of a date for holding the fair late enough in September to give the counties of the northern part of the state a chance to exhibit fully matured products and to take concerted action for better representation in the exhibits, in attendance and in support of the state fair.

Checking Motion of Ship.
In actual practice the rolling of ships in the sea has been reduced from 11 per cent to 2 per cent, by the invention of Herr Frahm of Hamburg. His system makes use of water tanks extending through the hold transversely from one side of the boat to the other and the passage of the water from one side of the boat to the other effectually checks the motion of the boat.

--and the Worst is Yet to Come

Ponderous Personages.

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Swash."

The career of the Duke of Wellington is an illustration of what can be accomplished even in England by bravery and ability. Born the son of a poor baron and with no other aid than enough money to buy a lieutenant colonelcy and the brother who appointed him commander of an Indian province he rose to the head of the English army and in 1815 played full-back for Europe against Napoleon, who had broken through the line and had a clear field before him.

Wellington began life as Arthur Wellesley and went into the army in 1787, when 13 years old. Owing to the excellent reputation of his parents he was promoted rapidly according to the old English custom and before he had seen any military duty he became a colonel and went to India.

Great Britain's lucky star pre-vented this. Wellesley immediately set to work on becoming a general, and after learning how to give commands and do simple drill work he went into the more obtrusive science of war. In a short time he knew more about marching an army through an unhealthy territory than had previously been suspected, and he made a brilliant record in India.

Wellesley, however, ran up against a man who had a brother who was more important than his, and he was relieved of his commands. He returned to England, but his reputation preceded him and he was sent to Portugal to harass Napoleon. He did this in a careful and painstaking manner for several years, wearing out several French armies and incidentally earning, besides his salary, a Dukedom, a bushel of decorations and several million dollars in bonuses from grateful governments.

When Napoleon abdicated, Wellington was among those present in Paris. Later on, when Napoleon returned from Elba and marched into Belgium, Wellington was also present.

ent. So was Blucher. A pleasant time was had by almost all, and when it was over, Napoleon was the greatest general in the world. At this time Wellington was forty-six. He lived almost forty years longer and helped govern England most of the time, being a great stand-patter and opposed to parliamentary reforms of any sort. Now and then the English people would stone his house and the opposition papers often referred to him as the Uncle Joe Cannon of his time. But after each outbreak the nation would remember Waterloo and give him another decoration. He died with tremendous glory and success in 1852 and has the largest monument in St. Paul's cathedral.

AND HE DID

See Value of Exercise!
There is no doubt but that exercise is a good thing for those who do not get it, but to many the daily use of dumb-bells, weights and similar apparatus grows irksome, the reason being a lack of stimulation owing to the fact that the person taking the exercise sees nothing accomplished as the result of the work and time spent. Gladstone preferred to work at the woodpile, and here and there was the constantly maintained interest of seeing the pile increase after each period of action. The same has been accomplished in a real up-to-the-moment manner by a French inventor who has taken an exercising machine which is rather familiar in the shape of a bicycle on a permanent stand, and he has combined this with a storage battery. When the various members of the family are taking their daily exercise on this machine they are storing up current to be used in the form of illuminant after nightfall.

Read Our Personal Money-Back Guarantee

Your Wages Stop When You're Sick!

You Can Try This Remedy
At Our Risk

YOU know what that means—Misery—Worry—Big Bills—Debts! You know you can't afford to get sick. Keeping in good health means food and clothing for you and your family. It's up to you to take care of yourself. It's up to you, whenever you don't feel right, to take something to make you right, to strengthen you, build you up, ward off worse sickness, protect you and your family! That thing we have, and in offering it to you we protect you against money risk, by personally promising you that if it doesn't protect you against sickness, we'll give you back your money without a word or question. It is—

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion

It Is the Best Remedy

When you are run-down, no matter what the cause. It doesn't merely stimulate you and make you feel good for a few hours, but takes hold of the weakness, and builds you up to a healthy, normal condition.

It is a real nerve-food tonic, a real builder of healthy nerves, rich blood, strong muscles, good digestion.

It contains the Hypophosphites, to tone the nerves and give energy, and pure Olive Oil, to nourish the nerves, the blood, the entire system, and give vitality, strength and health.

It is pleasant to take, the greasy flavor of the Olive Oil having been removed.

For you who are tired out, nervous, run-down, debilitated, weak, emaciated—for convalescents—for old people—for young children—we recommend Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion as the best medicine we know of to make and keep you well and strong.

We Make Our Living

out of the drug business right here in your town. It is our duty to give you the best remedy we can for whatever ailment you may have, and business sense demands that we recommend nothing unless we know it's good.

We know Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is good. We believe it is the best builder of health, energy and strength there is made. We know it is helping many of your neighbors. We believe that it will make you well and strong again, and save you money and worry in the end.

We feel it is good business for us to recommend Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion and get you to use it, because we know you'll thank us afterward for making our confidence in it so plain that you didn't hesitate to take us at our word. We also feel sure that once you have used it, you'll be as enthusiastic about it as we are and will recommend it to your friends. Read our money-back guarantee and get a bottle today.

Sold only at the 7000 Rexall Stores—the World's Greatest Drug Stores—$1.00 a bottle
Sold in this town only by us

We Guarantee This Remedy to Relieve and Satisfy You—or Your Money Back
We don't want your money unless Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion really helps and satisfies you. If it doesn't, come back and tell us, and we'll give back your money. We believe it will protect your health—if it doesn't, the money is yours, and we want you to have it.

SMITH DRUG COMPANY

Janesville 14 West Milwaukee Street Wisconsin

Rexall Means "KING OF ALL"—Ours is The Rexall Store in this town.

Any Suit or Overcoat in the Entire Stock at 25% Discount

WE'RE cutting a bargain melon now; it's your chance to get in on a good thing; fine quality suits and overcoats, Hart Schaffner & Marx make, at 25% off from regular selling prices. Don't wait; come now.

Fancy Weave Suits or Overcoats, Hart Schaffner & Marx, $35 Suits or Overcoats now $26.25; $32.50 Suits now $24.38.

Fancy Weave Suits or Overcoats, Hart Schaffner & Marx, $25 qualities now $18.75; $22 qualities now $16.50; $20 qualities now $15.

Fancy Weave Suits or Overcoats, Hart Schaffner & Marx, $30 qualities now $22.50; $28 qualities $21.

Young men's and men's fine Suits, very special $15 to $22 values, priced now at 25% discount from regular prices.

SPECIAL--25% Discount On All Children's Suits and Overcoats

T. J. ZIEGLER CLOTHING CO.

JOS. M. CONNORS, Mgr.

Sole Agents for the Famous Indestructo Trunks. Specialists of Good Clothes and Nothing Else
The Home of John B. Stetson Hats, Wilson Shirts, Lewis Underwear Mallory Cravenetted Hats, Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes.